The Development of European Competition Policy Brian Shaev, Sigfrido M. Ramírez Pérez, 2024-06-03 This book considers a central issue of our time the relationship between the macroeconomic objectives of political parties in democratic countries and the legal framework of market economies The impressive panel of contributors examines social democratic policies on cartels market concentration and competition in different European countries spanning a hundred year period specifically the interwar period the initial postwar period the 1960s and 1970s the 1980s and 1990s and the 2000s This thought provoking volume challenges the dominant belief that the EU's economic system and competition policy were mainly influenced by neoliberal economic thinking instead showing that Keynesian and social democratic positions played a major role in the emergence of this system It will be valuable reading for advanced students researchers and policymakers interested in modern economic history industrial organization political economy European legal history and political science

European Community Competition Policy Karel Van Miert, 1998-07 Discusses competition policy which has a key role to play in ensuring that European industry remains competitive Contents cooperation transport trans European networks competition state monopolies merger control information policy Charts tables The Making of Competition Policy Daniel A. Crane, Herbert Hovenkamp, 2013-01-30 This book provides edited selections of primary source material in the intellectual history of competition policy from Adam Smith to the present day Chapters include classical theories of competition the US founding era classicism and neoclassicism progressivism the New Deal structuralism the Chicago School and post Chicago theories Although the focus is largely on Anglo American sources there is also a chapter on European Ordoliberalism an influential school of thought in post War Europe Each chapter begins with a brief essay by one of the editors pulling together the important themes from the period under consideration International Competition Policy Michael A. Utton, 2006

This book is a welcome and timely addition to the library of materials exploring the implications of the move from internationalisation of trade towards globalisation Michael Hutchings European Competition Law Review This book provides an excellent introduction to the difficult and important issues surrounding international trade and competition policy Douglas A Irwin Dartmouth College US The opening up of world markets rapid growth of trade and foreign direct investment create manifold problems for competition policy Thus international mergers may have adverse effects on many countries international cartels may carve up world markets and dominant firms may seek to maintain their global position by exclusionary conduct These problems have been recognised for more than half a century and some attempts have been made internationally to address them so far with limited success This progressive book seeks to explore the problems and concerns that globalisation has created for competition policy The book begins by setting out the principles of competition and trade policies and then goes on to address the impact of market globalisation on what are usually thought of as traditional antitrust concerns These include the analysis of the difficulties arising from collusion and other restrictive practices government sponsored voluntary co operation vertical restrictions and market access pricing strategies of dominant firms and international mergers all illustrated with a number of prominent case studies The author concludes with an illuminating discussion on the feasibility of international co operation on competition policy the faltering progress that has been made so far and the prospects for future advances This comprehensive volume will prove to be an invaluable resource to students and scholars of law and economics It will also find wide appeal amongst researchers policy makers and practitioners with an interest in industrial organisation antitrust policy and globalisation

Regional State Aid and Competition Policy Fiona Wishlade,2003-01-01 The increasing importance attached to the economic and social cohesion of the European Union since the 1980s and the role of competition policy in achieving this objective has special significance for the control of regional aids given the general ban on State aid Regional aids are considered to have the potential to contribute to economic and social cohesion and to undermine its attainment The notion of competition policy as an instrument of economic and social cohesion has become a standard part of Commission rhetoric in defence of its actions This book is concerned with the influence of EU competition policy on the regional policies of the Member States It focuses on how the European Commission has interpreted the derogations from the State aid ban to enable the conduct of regional aid policies The book takes both a historical perspective tracing the evolution of policy and a thematic one examining in particular the relationship between EU competition and cohesion policies and the treatment of aid to very large projects The author clearly demonstrates that in reality the competition policy control of regional aids is of much longer standing than the community s explicit regional aid policy and in many respects of arguably greater influence. She shows how competition policy has for almost thirty years shaped the design scope and implementation of national regional aid policies in no EU country has regional policy been unaffected by Commission intervention in the name of competition policy. Moreover the policy principles developed for the EU now apply extraterritorially to members of the European Economic Area and to the current applicant countries. The study's overall perspective is policy oriented. It considers both the impact of Commission intervention in the past and the implications of policy for the future especially in the context of enlargement and a wider Europe. It will be an invaluable resource for all policymakers and practitioners active in the fields of economic development regional policy and State aid law at European national and subnational levels.

Competition Policy in the Global Economy William S. Comanor, Akira Goto, Leonard Waverman, 2005-10-26. This volume examines the complexities involved when international co-ordination and harmonization of competition law and policy are considered.

Enforcing Competition Rules in South Africa David Lewis, 2013-01-01. This fascinating book describes and analyses the development of competition law in South Africa promoting a deeper understanding of the development of this foundational economic law within its specific national social and economic context. Enforcing Competition Rules in South Africa is a clear and insightful account of the establishment and first decade of one of the most successful competition law institutions to have mushroomed over the past 15 years. David Lewis believes that while there is much to learn from international scholarship and jurisprudence and from participation in the various multinational initiatives in this field competition law and its institutions have to be understood within their national economic and social contexts. Drawing strongly on case law and enforcement experiences this book will appeal to academics researchers and practitioners of competition law and economics.

European Union Competition Policy versus Industrial Competitiveness Hikaru Yoshizawa, 2021-11-10. The book examines whether EU competition policy is applied fairly and consistently to EU and non EU firms despite persistent political pressure from member states for a relaxation of the rules and deals with the dilemma of regional organisations in the global political economy. Focussing on the EU's desire to achieve balance between the promotion of market competition and the enhancement of international competitiveness the book explores the validity of its attempts successfully to ensure a stringent competition policy which is nationality blind and comparatively strict. Finally it shows that the competition competitiveness dilemma remains unresolved because the EU's capability to set global regulatory standards is constrained by competition and the need to engage in multilateral forums such as the WTO and the International Competition Network. This book will be of key interest to scholars and students of European Union studies EU competition law and policy EU external action and more broadly to global governance international political economy and international relations. The Governance of Global Competition

Oliver Budzinski, 2008-01-01 highly recommendable to anyone interested in international competition policy Arndt

Christiansen European Competition Law Review This book provides a comprehensive and refreshing analysis of the competition issues raised by the globalisation of markets It draws on a very wide range of economic and legal sources to assess the manifold proposals for controlling the competitive forces released by the freeing up of world markets All those interested in these important and largely unresolved issues will find it an invaluable source of reference Michael A Utton University of Reading UK and Dongbei University of Finance and Economics Dalian China The globalization of market competition and business behaviour fosters globalization of cartels and monopolising mergers that can lead to abusive and predatory strategies The globalization of competition therefore also demands an internationalization of competition policy However Oliver Budzinski is realistic in his assertion that supranational competition governance must be built upon the existing predominantly national regimes The resulting multilevel system of antitrust institutions and authorities he argues is problematic for the horizontal and vertical allocation of competences This book employs the economics of federalism to create an analytical framework which can be used for comparative analysis of stylised competence allocation rules The result is a proposal for a sound international multilevel competition policy system that combines elements of both centralized and decentralized governance This book provides an innovative and unique perspective on international competition policy and will be of interest to economists legal scientists and competition authorities as well as academics and practitioners of international governance and international relations and politics

The Enforcement of EU Competition Rules by Civil

Law Nina Bucan Gutta, 2014-11-04 Private enforcement of competition law in particular through damages actions is recently one of the highly debated topics in European competition law Arguments for private enforcement are based on the EU principle of effectiveness while existing national substantive and procedural regimes applicable to damages may be ill suited for the effective enforcement of EU competition law However the risk that the introduction of enforcement oriented measures into national law is incompatible with private civil law is often underestimated or neglected This book aims to reconcile both EU enforcement and private law perspectives through a detailed study of the English and Slovenian private law systems Research on the compatibility of EU competition enforcement oriented measures with the private law regimes in England and Slovenia is used to argue that some changes to private law based on proposals for effective enforcement go too far and risk undermining the integrity of the legal systems This book already takes into account the 2014 Directive on antitrust damages actions
