The Genocidal Gaze Elizabeth R. Baer, 2017-11-20 Examines literature and art to reveal the German genocidal gaze in Africa and the Holocaust The first genocide of the twentieth century though not well known was committed by Germans between 1904 1907 in the country we know today as Namibia where they exterminated thousands of Herero and Nama people and subjected the surviving indigenous men women and children to forced labor The perception of Africans as subhuman lacking any kind of civilization history or meaningful religion and the resulting justification for the violence against them is what author Elizabeth R Baer refers to as the genocidal gaze an attitude that was later perpetuated by the Nazis In The Genocidal Gaze From German Southwest Africa to the Third Reich Baer uses the trope of the gaze to trace linkages between the genocide of the Herero and Nama and that of the victims of the Holocaust Baer also considers the African gaze of resistance returned by the indigenous people and their leaders upon the German imperialists Baer explores the threads of shared ideology in the Herero and Nama genocide and the Holocaust concepts such as racial hierarchies lebensraum living space rassenschande racial shame and endlung final solution that were deployed by German authorities in 1904 and again in the 1930s and 1940s to justify genocide She also notes the use of shared methodology concentration camps death camps intentional starvation rape indiscriminate killing of women and children in both instances While previous scholars have made these links between the Herero and Nama genocide and that of the Holocaust Baer s book is the first to examine literary texts that demonstrate this connection Texts under consideration include the archive of Nama revolutionary Hendrik Witbooi a colonial novel by German Gustav Frenssen 1906 in which the genocidal gaze conveyed an acceptance of racial annihilation and three post Holocaust texts by German Uwe Timm Ghanaian Ama Ata Aidoo and installation artist William Kentridge of South Africa that critique the genocidal gaze Baer posits that writing and reading about the gaze is an act of mediation a power dynamic that calls those who commit genocide to account for their crimes and discloses their malignant convictions Careful reading of texts and attention to the narrative deployment of the genocidal gaze or the resistance to it establishes discursive similarities in books written both during colonialism and in the post Holocaust era The Genocidal Gaze is an original and challenging discussion of such contemporary issues as colonial practices the Nazi concentration camp state European and African race relations definitions of genocide and postcolonial theory Moreover Baer demonstrates the power of literary and artistic works to condone or even promote genocide or to soundly condemn it Her transnational analysis provides the groundwork for future studies of links between imperialism and genocide links among genocides and the devastating impact of the genocidal gaze
