student movement of the late 1960s and the emergence of the New Left in other countries especially noting their influence on the formation of MAS He also discusses the group's role in Venezuelan elections and its relations with the other parties

From Lenin to Castro, 1917-1959 Mervyn J. Bain, 2013-05-09 This book addresses the relationship between Moscow and Havana in the period between the Russian and Cuban Revolutions i.e. from November 1917 to January 1959 It analyzes the reasons why in this era before the Cuban Revolution which is traditionally thought to have ignited Moscow's interest in the Caribbean island a relationship existed between the two countries at a variety of different levels In order to do this both the attention that the Third International or Comintern gave to Cuba as well as Moscow's formal state to state relations with Havana are examined In addition United States policy towards both socialism and the Soviet Union are analyzed due to the role that Washington played in Cuba prior to the Cuban Revolution Following this an examination of the events process and dynamics that characterized the nature of the relationship between Moscow and Havana from 1917 to 1959 will be conducted A number of conclusions will be given but the primary one is that prior to January 1959 the Kremlin took considerable interest in Cuba and did not suffer from geographical fatalism as has traditionally been thought This is significant in itself but also in light of the relationship that rapidly developed between Moscow and Havana in the aftermath of the Cuban Revolution as a number of factors that were important in the pre 1959 relationship would also be significant after 1959 Furthermore this analysis is also important for the contemporary bilateral relationship between Russia and Cuba as both governments have made increasing reference to the multifaceted relationship that existed prior to 1959 The
