

Theoretical perspectives on literacy to assess current policy and impact on programmes

- School-based literacy – the view is that skills and competencies assessed in the classroom are directly transferable to other contexts.
- Consequently, school-based literacy assumes that once literacy skills are mastered in the classroom, learners can apply the skills in any reading task whether that is in the workplace, the home, or any other settings of public and private life.

The Contexts Of School Based Literacy:

The Contexts of School-based Literacy Taffy Raphael, 1986 The Development of School-based Literacy Anthony Pellegrini, Lee Galda, 2017-11-28 Originally published in 1998 This book presents a model of social contextual influences on children's literacy and literate language Literate language is similar to the language teachers use and to the language used in reading books for young children Based on a longitudinal study in homes and schools the authors here present the results of how diverse and close social relationships influence children's literacy learning as they progress through the first three years of formal schooling and discuss implications for teaching practice Different types of reading matter in the home are examined and it is suggested that peers are helpful to the learning of literacy Rather than separate friends as often happens in the classroom this book suggests that interaction should be encouraged It will be of interest to researchers and students of developmental and educational psychology and to anyone interested in early cognitive and social development The Contexts of School-Based Literacy Taffy E. Raphael, 1986 Develop School-Based Literacy Anthony Pellegrini, Lee Galda, 2002-09-26 First published in 1998 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Portraits of Literacy Across Families, Communities, and Schools Jim Anderson, Maureen Kendrick, Theresa Rogers, Suzanne Smythe, 2005-05-06 This unique global perspective on multiple literacies crosses traditional boundaries between the study of family community and school literacies It calls attention to the ideological nature of literacy education across a broad range of literacy context A Walk in Their Kicks Aaron M. Johnson, 2019 Through research data and conversations among teachers A Walk in Their Kicks explores the impact that trauma has on the lives of African American students examines how teachers' perceptions of these students influence text selection and instruction and identifies the conditions that need to be present to engage African American male students in literacy The author believes that literacy gave him a future as an African American male He calls for educators to transform schools into environments that are free of negative assumptions about African American males and provides recommendations for engaging in this work From publisher's description

Progress in Reading Literacy in National and International Context. The Impact of PIRLS 2006 in 12 Countries Knut Schwippert, Jenny Lenkeit, 2012 Since 2001 the International Association for the Evaluation of Educational Achievement IEA has been conducting in cycles of five years the Progress in International Reading Literacy Study PIRLS The PIRLS program encompasses trend studies designed to monitor progress in reading achievement in an internationally comparative context PIRLS 2001 and PIRLS 2006 both assessed primary school students in their fourth year of schooling Grade 4 in the majority of countries Progress in Reading Literacy in National and International Context is the second book to explore the influence of findings from the PIRLS surveys on different education systems It presents a compilation of insights from 12 of the 35 countries that participated in PIRLS 2006 These insights relate to the impact of PIRLS on the systemic governmental administrative and school level aspects of the education systems featured and exemplify how PIRLS has
