Information Technology and Socialist Construction Daniel E.

Saros,2014-05-09 The failure of command central planning in the twentieth century has led to a general disillusionment within the socialist movement worldwide Some alternatives to capitalism have been proposed since the end of the Cold War but none has offered an alternative form of economic calculation This book explains how modern information technology may be used to implement a new method of economic calculation that could bring an end to capitalism and make socialism possible In this book the author critically examines a number of socialist proposals that have been put forward since the end of the Cold War It is shown that although these proposals have many merits their inability effectively to incorporate the benefits of information technology into their models has limited their ability to solve the problem of socialist construction The final section of the book proposes an entirely new model of socialist development based on a needs profile that makes it possible to convert the needs of large numbers of people into data that can be used as a guide for resource allocation This analysis makes it possible to rethink and carefully specify the conditions necessary for the abolition of capital and consequently the requirements for socialist revolution and ultimately communist society Information Technology and Socialist Construction will be of interest to students and scholars of political economy the history of economic thought labour economics and industrial economics

Atlantic Afterlives in Contemporary Fiction S. Ahlberg, 2016-04-08 Atlantic Afterlives in Contemporary Fiction offers fresh readings of what has been called transatlantic literature In selected twentieth and twenty first century texts it discovers a shift from oceanic place based knowledge to an atmospheric placeless circulation of information Consonant with the displacements of the Information Age this book reads contemporary narrative as it imagines and navigates today's virtual spaces An important conclusion of the book is that intellectual resources are finite and should be used sustainably Thus arguing against a conventional comparative approach this book proposes reading practices that resist the tendency toward an oversupply of reworked literary contexts that seems bent on matching the reach of the World Wide Web Instead the book reimagines place as a practice in the way it is communicated and narrated Ultimately this book empowers the reader to reimagine a future for narrative in the Information Age
