Sociology Of Leisure A Reader:

Sociology of Leisure C. Critcher, Peter Bramham, Alan Tomlinson, 1995 The sociology of leisure is an important part of most leisure and recreation management degree and leisure studies BTEC courses This book is designed to provide essential material in an accessible form for students It draws together 24 classic readings which provide comprehensive coverage of key conceptual debates in the sociology of leisure The Sociology of Leisure Stanley Parker, 1976 Sociology of Leisure, Sociology of Leisure Tm Peter Bramham, Chas Critcher, Alan Tomlinson, 1995 SOCIOLOGY OF LEISURE (Coursepack), 2023 The Activity Gourmet John Robert Kelly, Peggy Powers, 1991 Peggy Powers a veteran chef in the recreation field takes the reader through a wide variety of activity recipes for a satisfying multicourse gourmet meal aimed at effective programming The activities are as unique and diverse as each person and includes both classic games and fresh new ideas Activities are the food for life in recreation programming Powers programming formula is based on considering the individual the environment and the developmental needs of the participants from infancy to older adults that results in fun An indispensable book for the recreation professional student or volunteer Sociology of Leisure Joffre Dumazedier, 1974 Key Concepts in Leisure Studies David Harris, 2005 Provides a student friendly guide to the key debates in leisure studies The Feminization of Sports Fandom Stacey Pope, 2017-05-08 Women fans have entered the traditionally male domain of the sports stadium in growing numbers in recent years Watching professional sport is important for women for so many reasons but their expectations and experiences have been largely ignored by academics This book tackles these shortcomings in the literature and sheds new light on the many ways in which women become sports fans This groundbreaking study is the first to focus on the phenomenon of the feminization of sports fandom Including original research on football and rugby union in the UK it looks at the increasing opportunities for women to become sports fans in contemporary society and critically examines the way this form of leisure is valued by women Drawing upon feminist thinking and intersectionality it shows how women from different social classes and age groups consume the spectacle of sport This book is fascinating reading for any student or scholar interested in sport and leisure studies sociology and gender or women s studies Geographies of Muslim Identities Professor Cara Aitchison, Professor Mei-Po Kwan, Professor Peter Hopkins, 2012-11-28 In recent years geographies of identities including those of ethnicity religion race and gender have formed an increasing focus of contemporary human geography The events of September 11th 2001 particularly illustrated the ways in which identities can be transformed across time and space by both global and local events of a social cultural political and economic nature Such transformations have also demonstrated the temporal and spatial construction of hate and fear and of increasing incidences of Islamophobia through the construction of Muslims as the Other As the social scientific study of religion continues to be marginalized within mainstream scholarship there remains an important gap in the literature This timely book addresses this gap by collecting a range of cutting edge contributions from the social cultural political historical and economic sub disciplines of geography together with writings from gender studies cultural studies and leisure studies where research has revealed a strong spatial dimension to the construction representation contestation and reworking of Muslim identities The contributors illustrate the ways in which such identities are constructed represented negotiated and contested in everyday life in a wide variety of international contexts focusing upon issues connected with diaspora gender and belonging

Globalization and Belonging Mike Savage, Gaynor Bagnall, Brian J Longhurst, 2004-11-09 Globalization and Belonging's headline message that place matters that locality remains vital to people is arresting Frank Webster Professor of Sociology City University London Drawing on long term empirical research into cultural practices lifestyles and identities Globalization and Belonging explores how far reaching global changes are articulated locally The authors address key sociological issues of stratification as analysis alongside cultural issues of identity difference choice and lifestyle Their original argument Shows how globalisation theory conceives of the local Reveals that people have a sense of elective belonging based on where they choose to put down roots Suggests that the feel of a place is much more strongly influenced by the values and lifestyles of those migrating to it reinvigorates debates in urban and community studies by recovering the local as an intrinsic aspect of globalisation Theoretically rigorous the book is brought to life with direct quotations from the authors research and appeals to students in urban sociology urban geography media studies and cultural studies

Gender, Space and Time Dorothy Moss, 2006-01-01 Drawing on the work of Henri Lefebvre and Barbara Adam Gender Space and Time is a brilliant study that offers a unique and original threefold conceptualization of how space and time is developed and applied in an empirical study of women's lives Author Dorothy Moss focuses on the everyday practice and experience of women higher education students at a community college in northern England Women's action is considered in relation to the complex and interconnected spheres of paid work home leisure community and higher education Through highlighting concepts of space and time the complex relationship between networks of power and personal action gains visibility Moss conceptualizes women as centers of action and demonstrates the ways in which they construct personal pathways connect different spheres of experience integrate new time demands into the multiple rhythms of their everyday lives and carve out personal space Gender Space and Time is a timely and compelling work certain to be of interest to scholars of sociology women s studies and anthropology

Iron Dads Diana Tracy Cohen,2016-05-04 Among the most difficult athletic events a person can attempt the iron distance triathlon a 140 6 mile competition requires an intense prerace training program This preparation can be as much as twenty hours per week for a full year leading up to a race In Iron Dads Diana Tracy Cohen focuses on the pressures this extensive preparation can place on families exploring the ways in which men with full time jobs one or more children and other responsibilities fit this level of training into their lives An accomplished triathlete as well as a trained social scientist Cohen offers much insight into the effects of endurance sport training on family parenting and the sense of self She conducted in depth interviews with forty seven iron distance competitors and three prominent men in the race industry and analyzed triathlon blog postings made by Iron Dads What sacrifices Cohen asks are required both at home and at work to cross the iron distance finish line What happens when work family and sport collide Is it possible for fathers to meet their own parenting expectations while pursuing such a time consuming regimen With the tensions of family economics how do you justify spending 5 000 on a racing bike At what point does sport become work Cohen discovered that by fostering family involvement in this all consuming effort Iron Dads are able to maintain a sense of themselves not only as strong masculine competitors but also as engaged fathers Engagingly written and well researched Iron Dads provides a penetrating firsthand look at extreme endurance sports including practical advice for aspiring racers and suggestions for making triathlons more family friendly

Ethnomethodology at Play Peter Tolmie,2016-04-29 This book outlines the specific character of the ethnomethodological approach to play that is to everyday sport and leisure activities that people generally engage in for enjoyment at home or as a hobby With chapters on cooking running playing music dancing rock climbing sailing fly fishing and going out for the day as a family Ethnomethodology at Play provides an introduction to the key conceptual resources drawn upon by ethnomethodology in its studies of these activities whilst exploring the manner in which people work at their everyday leisure Demonstrating the breadth of ethnomethodological analysis and showing how no topic is beyond ethnomethodology s fundamental respecification Ethnomethodology at Play sets out for the serious reader and researcher the precise contribution of ethnomethodology to sociological studies of sport and leisure and ordinary domestic pastimes As such this groundbreaking volume constitutes a significant contribution to both ethnomethodology and sociology in general as well as to the sociology of sport and leisure the sociology of domestic and daily life and cultural studies

Leisure Activities in Context Robert A. Stebbins,2017-07-12 There have been many analyses of leisure drawing on the social historical cultural temporal and geographical contexts in which acts of leisure are pursued Yet these studies lack a theoretical framework that can explain how leisure studies interact in various social contexts cultural temporal or geographical or as Robert A Stebbins conceptualizes it at levels of society Here Stebbins explores leisure studies at society's micro meso and macro levels He considers all three as they manifest themselves in the everyday pursuit of leisure while focusing on the heretofore neglected middle which he calls the meso side of life Stebbins not only draws these perspectives together but does something no one else has he focuses on the big picture of leisure Leisure Activities in Context examines the entire micro macro agency structure dimension using theory and research from leisure studies and the sociology of leisure as the vehicles to accomplish this This book will be a useful theoretical sourcebook on the study of leisure because it provides a blueprint of issues that scholars and students can use to draw deeper meaning from their own studies and a framework for future research Index to Sociology Readers, 1960-1965: Subject index Nicholas Sofios,1973
