Trans4mation Bernadene Erasmus, 2025-04-21 What happens when a young successful dentist soaring to new heights in his career learns that he has cancer days after his fortieth birthday? Will he be transfixed, torpedoed or transformed? It's a challenge faced by every cancer patient. Courage brings with it the potential for transformation on many levels. For some a charred black landscape can grow into a spring of promise and ordinary people become extraordinary heroes. In this book you'll discover how a brave group of individuals participated in a charity drive that raised thousands of dollars for the Australian Cancer Council. Ned, the young dentist who drove the Customs4Cancer project, is in the driver's seat. He's joined by numerous passengers including a nurse with nine lives who lost her husband and his brothers in a horrific light plane crash, a pancreatic cancer survivor who travels the world, and a man suspended on a crane above the Sydney Opera House. Told with an authenticity that is compelling and inspirational but never without humor, these life episodes are recounted with the sole purpose of passing on the torch of hope to all who fight cancer. 70% of the proceeds of book sales will go to the Australian Cancer Council.

How Grammar Links Concepts Friedrich Ungerer, 2017-07-26 The proposed framework of concept linking combines insights of construction grammar with those of traditional functional descriptions to explain particularly challenging but often neglected areas of English grammar such as negation modality adverbials and non finite constructions To reach this goal the idea of a unified network of constructions is replaced by the triad of verb mediated constructions attribution and scope based perspectivizing each of them understood as a syntactically effective concept linking mechanism in its own right but involved in interfaces with the other mechanisms In addition concept linking supplies a novel approach to early child language It casts fresh light on widely accepted descriptions of early two word utterances and verb islands in usage based models of language acquisition and encourages a new view of children's mistakes Intended readership Constructionist and cognitive linguists linguists and psychologists interested in language acquisition teachers and students of English grammar and grammar in general

Childhood and Migration Jacqueline Knörr, 2015-09-15 This volume puts an emphasis on the question how children themselves experience and manage migration and by means of which they construct an identity for themselves which takes into account their experiences from both their places of origin and their host societies What role does the cultural background of the society of origin on the one hand and the strategies of integration found in the host society on the other play in the creation of identity and of a concept of home origin and belonging How do children express processes of cultural orientation and integration music media fashion style and what role do peer groups and social milieus play in this regard How do migrant children experience xenophobia and a lack of acceptance on the side of the host society and how do they counter balance such experiences The approach taken is both comparative and interdisciplinary the contributors having different theoretical and methodological backgrounds the contributions dealing with different social and cultural settings both with regard to place of origin and host society Potee's Gal Edward Clarkson Leverett Adams, 1929

Tales of the Congaree Edward C. L. Adams, 2014-02-01 This volume brings back into print a remarkable record of black life in the 1920s chronicled by Edward C L Adams a white physician from the area around the Congaree River in central South Carolina It reproduces Adams s major works Congaree Sketches 1927 and Nigger to Nigger 1928 two collections of tales poems and dialogues from blacks who worked his land presented in the black vernacular language They are supplemented here by a play Potee s Gal and some brief sketches of poor whites What sets Adams s tales apart from other such collections is the willingness of his black informants to share with him not only their stories of rabbits and hants but also their feelings on such taboo subjects as lynchings Jim Crow courts and chain gangs Adams retells these tales as if the blacks in them were talking only among themselves Whites do not appear in these works except as rare background figures and topics of conversation by Tad Scip and other black storytellers As Tad says We talkin to we That Adams was permitted to hear such tales at all is part of the mystery that Robert O Meally explains in his introduction The key to the mystery is Adams s ability in his life as in his works to wear both black and white masks He remained a well placed member of white society at the same time that he was something of a maverick within it His black informants therefore saw him not only as someone more likeable and trustworthy than most whites but also as someone who was in a position to help them in some way if he understood more about their lives As a writer O Meally suggests Adams was not simply an objective recorder of folklore By donning a black mask Adams was able to project attitudes and values that most whites of his place and time would have disavowed As a result his tales have a complexity and richness that make them an authentic witness to the black experience as well as a lasting contribution to American letters Dog Training Guide Monty Witt, 2014-04-28 Dog training tips and advice that will help you turn a difficult dog into an obedient pet Most dogs are good at heart and capable of learning exactly how to behave This app helps you learn the teaching method that works for them and helps you be consistent in how you approach their issues Obedience training is one of the most important aspects of raising a dog In fact a well trained dog is much happier because a trained dog requires fewer restrictions and gets more freedom For example many stores and businesses that normally won't allow pets on their premises will make an exception for a puppy or a dog that will heel nicely by his owner's side or will do a sit stay or down stay without hesitation. When company arrives in your home there's no need to send a well-behaved family member to another room for fear that he will be a nuisance. A well-mannered obedience-trained dog is both appreciated and welcome; he receives more attention and interaction from family members, visitors, and people passing by.

The Dynamics of Powerful Parenting Raymond Messer, 2005. The Dynamics of Powerful Parenting is a book about power: the power held by a parent to shape the development of a child and the power of a child to either accept or reject those efforts. Often when things are not working well for parents with their children, they will continue doing the same things yet with ever more vigor. Usually the result will be more of the same, only worse. A secret to understanding the dynamics of many human behaviors lies in the paradox of the Chinese Finger Puzzle, aka Chinese Handcuff. The Chinese finger puzzle is a tube woven from bamboo shoots that is several inches long and about the diameter of a person's fingers. True to its nature, the tube will narrow as its ends are pulled. Thus when the tube is slipped over the ends of fingers or thumbs on opposing hands, the subject's efforts to pull his or her fingers apart are met with increasing resistance from the device. So it is with much of being human. The thing that people wish to avoid most is the very thing that results from their efforts to do so. Dynamics is a book written with this paradox in mind. It is a book of insights about parenting that turns upside down many of the things that are currently held dear in traditional parenting efforts. It is a book that downplays the use of punishment but never overlooks the need for discipline and responsibility. Dynamics encourages parents to think about what they are doing, how they are doing it, and what they are experiencing as a result, then provides useful tools for changing undesired outcomes. It is a book that can produce positive results that will benefit generations yet unborn.

Television Studies After TV Graeme Turner, Jinna Tay, 2009-03-27. Television studies must now address a complex environment where change has been vigorous but uneven and where local and national conditions vary significantly. Globalizing media industries, deregulatory policy regimes, the multiplication, convergence, and trade in media formats, the emergence of new content production industries outside the US/UK umbrella, and the fragmentation of media audiences are all changing the nature of television today: its content, its industrial structure, and how it is consumed. Television Studies After TV leads the way in developing new ways of understanding television in the post-broadcast era. With contributions from leading international scholars, it considers the full range of convergent media now implicated in understanding television and also focuses on large, non-Anglophone markets such as Asia and Latin America in order to accurately reflect the wide variety of structures, forms, and content which now organise television around the world.

Citrus & Green Tim Bellows, 2013-06-13. I HAVE BET EVERYTHING my life my life on this drifting blue this one note sound of burning silver flute that calls along nerve passageways calls through my atoms like birds of a kind shifting poised in a sky of tears calculations laughter remembered days. Tim Bellows. A Note by Allegra Jostad Silberstein. Poet Laureate for the city of Davis, CA 2010-2012. In Tim Bellows poems we find a singular brightness and a willingness to bet his life on the one note sound of burning silver flute His work ranges from tender spirituality to embracing plants soil and stone In spite of occasional turquoise confusions he is willing to risk all to explain the inexplicable Exploring the musical voice of this poet brings unexpected rewards Allegra Jostad Silberstein grew up on a Wisconsin farm and then moved to California in 1963 Her love of poetry began as a child when her mother would recite poems as she worked In addition to three chapbooks Silberstein is widely published in journals and is the first Poet Laureate of Davis

Spontaneous Spoken English Alexander Haselow, 2017-11-16 A new thought provoking book on the theory of grammar and language processing based on the analysis of authentic speech produced in real time Drawing on insights from cognitive psychology neurology and conversation analysis the author offers a fascinating easy to follow account of why spoken English is structured the way it is The traditional product based approach to grammar is given up in favour of a speaker based dynamic perspective that integrates language structural neurocognitive and dialogic aspects of speech production Based on fresh empirical research Haselow argues that grammatical knowledge rests upon two cognitive principles of linearization called microgrammar and macrogrammar which are shown to interact in various ways The book discusses a broad range of speech phenomena under an integrated framework such as the omnipresence of unintegrated constituents e g discourse markers ellipses or the allegedly fragmented character of syntax and explains the mechanisms of processing efficiency that guide syntactic planning

Exploring (Im)politeness in Specialized and General Corpora Yeşim Aksan, Şükriye Ruhi, Thomas Schmidt, 2015-02-05 Corpus linguistic methods provide new avenues for im politeness scholarship to reflexively evaluate its understanding of communication and language use on the theoretical contributions of corpus linguistics to the linguistic sciences In this sense this volume is a unique contribution to im politeness scholarship It showcases studies in the field which employ specialized and general corpora with methodologies that range from the speech act to the discourse analytic and conversation analytic traditions The book brings into closer contact scholarship that has hitherto remained in relatively different streams of the scientific investigation of im politeness A unifying theme of the chapters here is that im politeness phenomena are situated within the institutional and genre specific expectations of participants in an interaction Each of the chapters identifies the situatedness of im politeness from varying perspectives The chapters in the volume are sequenced from specialized to general corpora and simultaneously move from conversation and discourse analytic perspectives to contributions that address issues surrounding the identification and extraction of im politeness in general corpora In collating the chapters of the volume care was taken to focus attention on languages that have been studied extensively in im politeness scholarship varieties of English British English and Englishes in Hong Kong and Greek and languages that are only recently gaining more visibility in the field Slovenian and Turkish

Embodiment via Body Parts Zouheir A. Maalej, Ning Yu, 2011-08-18 Research on the embodiment hypothesis within cognitive linguistics and beyond is growing steadily aiming to bridge language culture and cognition This volume seeks to address the question regarding what specific roles individual body parts play in the embodied conceptualization of emotions mental faculties character traits cultural values and so on in various cultures as manifested in their respective languages It brings together some linguistic evidence that sheds light on the embodied nature of human cognition from languages as diverse as Arabic Chinese Danish English Estonian German Greek Indonesian Japanese Persian Spanish and Turkish The studies in this volume also show how embodiment is mediated in those languages through such cognitive mechanisms as metonymy and metaphor
