Sold Into Marriage Ann Major, 2002 Sold Into Marriage. [A Novel.]. Dorothy WEST (Novelist.), 1932 Sold Into Marriage Lyndon Sue (author), 1901 Women in Ming China Bret Hinsch, 2021-05-03 This groundbreaking work provides an original and deeply knowledgeable overview of Chinese women and gender relations during the Ming Dynasty 1368 1644 Bret Hinsch explores in detail the central aspects of female life in this era including family and marriage motherhood political power work inheritance education religious roles and virtues He considers not only the lived world of women but also delves into their emotional life and the ideals they pursued Drawing on a wide range of Western and Chinese primary and secondary sources including standard histories poetry prose literature and epitaphs Hinsch makes an important period of Chinese women s history accessible to Western readers Women in Qing China Bret Hinsch, 2022-03-10 This groundbreaking work provides an original and deeply knowledgeable overview of Chinese women and gender relations during the Qing Dynasty 1644 1912 Bret Hinsch explores in detail the central aspects of female life in this era including family and marriage motherhood political power work inheritance education religious roles and ethics He considers not only women s experiences but also their emotional lives and the ideals they pursued Drawing on a wide range of Western Japanese and Chinese primary and secondary sources including standard histories poetry prose literature and epitaphs Hinsch makes an important period of Chinese women s history accessible to Western readers The Industrial Vagina Sheila Jeffreys, 2008-11-19 The industrialization of prostitution and the sex trade has created a multibillion dollar global market involving millions of women that makes a substantial contribution to national and global economies The Industrial Vagina examines how prostitution and other aspects of the sex industry have moved from being small scale clandestine and socially despised practices to become very profitable legitimate market sectors that are being legalised and decriminalised by governments Sheila Jeffreys demonstrates how prostitution has been globalized through an examination of the growth of pornography and its new global reach the boom in adult shops strip clubs and escort agencies military prostitution and sexual violence in war marriage and the mail order bride industry the rise in sex tourism and trafficking in women She argues that through these practices women s subordination has been outsourced and that states that legalise this industry are acting as pimps enabling male buyers in countries in which women s equality threatens male dominance to buy access to the bodies of women from poor countries who are paid for their sexual subservience This major and provocative contribution is essential reading for all with an interest in feminist gender and critical globalisation issues as well as students and scholars of international political economy

Hungarian Classical Ballads Ninon A. M. Leader, 1967-07-02 Although Hungarian ballads were first collected about a hundred years before this book was first published in 1967 they have remained largely unknown to Western scholars This was the first comprehensive study of the Hungarian material in any major European language Dr Leader provides an analytic description and full English text of the main Hungarian classical ballads with their published versions She examines their characteristics analyses their themes motifs and underlying folk beliefs and relates them to ballads of other countries particularly England and Scotland This pioneer work suggested fresh interpretations and solutions to the problems of Hungarian ballad scholarship and enlarged the study of international ballads by making the Magyar material available in translation It had repercussions on a wide range of folklore studies and on the comparative study of European literatures to which the oral narrative traditions serve as important groundwork

Slave-Wives, Single Women and “Bastards” in the Ancient Greek World Morris Silver, 2018-01-31 Greek scholars have produced a vast body of evidence bearing on nuptial practices that has yet to be mined by a professional economist By standing on their shoulders the author proposes and tests radically new interpretations of three important status groups in Greek history the pallak the nothos and the hetaira It is argued that legitimate marriage marriage by loan of the bride to the groom was not the only form of legal marriage in classical Athens and the ancient Greek world generally Pallakia marriage by sale of the bride to the groom was also legally recognized The pallak wifeship transaction is a sale into slavery with a restrictive covenant mandating the employment of the sold woman as a wife In this highly original and challenging new book economist Morris Silver proposes and tests the hypothesis that the likelihood of bride sale rises with increases in the distance between the ancestral residence of the groom and the father s household Nothoi the bastard children of pallakai lacked the legal right to inherit from their fathers but were routinely eligible for Athenian citizenship It is argued that the basic social meaning of hetaira companion is not prostitute or courtesan but single woman a woman legally recognized as being under her own authority kuria The defensive adaptation of single women is reflected in Greek myth and social practice by their grouping into packs most famously the Daniads and Amazons

Cross-Border Marriages Nicole Constable, 2010-08-03 Illuminating how international marriages are negotiated arranged and experienced Cross Border Marriages is the first book to chart marital migrations involving women and men of diverse national ethnic and class backgrounds The migrations studied here cross geographical borders of provinces rural urban borders within nation states and international boundaries including those of China Japan South Korea India Vietnam the Philippines the United States and Canada Looking at assumptions about the connection between international marriages and poverty opportunism and women s mobility the book draws attention to ideas about global patterns of inequality that are thought to pressure poor women to emigrate to richer countries while simultaneously suggesting the limitations of such views Breaking from studies that regard the international bride as a victim of circumstance and the mechanisms of international marriage as traffic in commodified women these essays challenge any simple idea of global hypergamy and present a nuanced understanding where a variety of factors not the least of which is desire come into play Indeed most contemporary marriage scapes involve women who relocate in order to marry rarely is it the men But Nicole Constable and the volume contributors demonstrate that contrary to popular belief these brides are not necessarily poor nor do they categorically marry men who are above them on the socioeconomic ladder Although often women may appear to be moving up from a less developed country to a more developed one they do not necessarily move higher on the chain of economic resources Complicating these and other assumptions about international marriages the essays in this volume draw from interviews and rich ethnographic materials to examine women s and men s agency their motivations for marriage and the importance of familial pressures and obligations cultural imaginings fantasies and desires in addition to personal and economic factors Border crossing marriages are significant for what they reveal about the intersection of local and global processes in the everyday lives of women and men whose marital opportunities variably yield both rich possibilities and bitter disappointments

A Mediterranean Society, Volume I S. D. Goitein, 1999 One of the best comprehensive histories of a culture in this century Amos Funkenstein Stanford University I Will Scream to the World Jaha Marie Dukureh, 2024-12-24

This extraordinary memoir details the monumental journey of one young Gambian woman from survivor of FGM and forced child marriage to global activist and political leader who became UN Women s first Goodwill Ambassador for Africa one of Time Magazine s 100 Most Influential People and among the youngest people nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize On the wedding night of her first arranged marriage fifteen year old Jaha learned that she had undergone Female Genital Mutilation FGM as an infant That painful discovery coupled with her experiences with a second arranged marriage set Jaha on her path as an activist a courageous mission that would require her to brave hostility in her community and family and even attempts on her life Despite the challenges and with ever growing determination Jaha founded Safe Hands for Girls an organization that succeeded in having FGM banned in Gambia She is now working to eradicate FGM and forced child marriage worldwide by 2030 and running to be the next President of The Gambia I Will Scream to the World recounts Jaha s ongoing uphill journey to be seen as a survivor activist but most of all as a human She dives into her childhood to show the root causes of her crusading shares her personal and professional life and explores as only a survivor can a practice that while violent and troubling is often culturally misunderstood Above all Jaha s unflinchingly honest memoir is a story of resilience and extraordinary fearlessness of the strength that comes with learning to love oneself and of the power within everyone to create meaningful and lasting change

Human Rights and Public Health in the AIDS Pandemic Lawrence O. Gostin, Zita Lazzarini, 1997-04-10 A penetrating analysis of the close relationship between public health and human rights this book makes a compelling case for synergy between the two fields Using the AIDS pandemic as a lens the authors demonstrate that health is closely related to human dignity and individual rights human rights cannot be deemed adequate and comprehensive without ensuring the health of individuals In the course of their analysis Gostin and Lazzarini tackle some of the most vexing issues of our time including the universality of human rights and the counter claims of cultural relativity Taking a cue from environmental impact assessment they propose a human rights impact assessment for examining health policies a tool that will be invaluable for evaluating real world public health problems This volume examines issues HIV testing screening partner notification isolation quarantine and criminalization of persons with HIV AIDS within the framework of international human rights law The authors evaluate the public health implications of a wide range of AIDS policies in developed as well as developing countries The role of women in society receives special emphasis Finally the book presents three case histories significant in the HIV AIDS pandemic and analyzes them from a human rights perspective The cases include discrimination and the transmission of HIV and tuberculosis in an occupational health care setting breast feeding in the least developed countries and confidentiality and the right of sexual partners to know of potential exposure to HIV Gostin and Lazzarini have written a book that will be a valuable addition to the libraries of public health practitioners legal scholars bioethicists policy makers and public rights activists Women in Developing Countries Karen L.

Kinnear,2011-07-22 This book provides a much needed survey of the discrimination and violence against women in developing countries and identifies the literature and resources available about this topic Because of improvements in communication technologies the West has become increasingly aware of horrific examples of ongoing discrimination and violence against individual women in developing countries As a result more attention is being paid to the gender bias and hardship that women in developing countries face in their everyday lives and the importance of these women in economic development and the alleviation of poverty is starting to be recognized Women in Developing Countries A Reference Handbook addresses topics like the status of women in developing countries their access to education health care and the political process their legal status the extent to which they are considered property female genital mutilation and other harmful practices and other timely issues This book also provides statistical information data on selected nongovernmental organizations NGOs and other organizations set up to improve the lives and advance the status of women and sources of further information in print and nonprint media The Blue Horse Marita Conlon-McKenna,2012-09-14 A remarkable story of growing up in extraordinary circumstances that will touch the hearts of all readers Katie s whole world is turned upside down when her family s home is destroyed by fire Everything they had is gone and instead of pulling together it seems as though her family is falling apart They move to a new house to a school where nobody wants to know her and Katie wonders just how many changes she can take In her fight for acceptance and to keep the family together she learns a lot about herself
