

A Soldier

He is that fallen lance that lies as hurled,
That lies unlifted now, come dew, come rust,
But still lies pointed as it plowed the dust.
If we who sight along it round the world,
See nothing worthy to have been its mark,
It is because like men we look too near,
Forgetting that as fitted to the sphere,
Our missiles always make too short an arc.
They fall, they rip the grass, they intersect

The curve of earth, and striking, break their own;
They make us cringe for metal-point on stone.
But this we know, the obstacle that checked
And tripped the body, shot the spirit on
Further than target ever showed or shone.

Soldier Come Home Hope Morritt, 1989 The Hell of War Comes Home Owen W. Gilman Jr., 2018-02-09 Owen W. Gilman Jr stresses the US experience of war in the twenty first century and argues that wherever and whenever there is war there will be imaginative responses to it especially the recent wars in Afghanistan and Iraq Since the trauma of September 11 the experience of Americans at war has been rendered honestly and fully in a wide range of texts creative nonfiction and journalism film poetry and fiction These responses Gilman contends have packed a lot of power and measure up even to World War II s literature and film Like few other books Gilman s volume studies these new texts among them Kevin Powers s debut novel The Yellow Birds and Phil Klay s short stories Redeployment along with the films The Hurt Locker American Sniper and Billy Lynn s Long Halftime Walk For perspective Gilman also looks at some touchstones from the Vietnam War Compared to a few of the big Vietnam books and films this new material has mostly been read and watched by small audiences and generated less discussion Gilman exposes the circumstances in American culture currently preventing literature and film of our recent wars from making a significant impact He contends that Americans inclination to demand distraction limits learning from these compelling responses to war in the past decade According to Gilman where there should be clarity and depth of knowledge we instead face misunderstanding and the anguish endured by veterans betrayed by war and our lack of understanding [The Joseph M. Young Jewish Poets Who Fell as Soviet Soldiers in the Second World War Rina Lapidus, 2014-09-15 This book deals with the work of fifteen young Jewish poets who were killed or died of wounds or were executed in captivity while serving in the Red Army in the Second World War. All were young, all were poets, most were thoroughly assimilated into Soviet society whilst at the same time being rooted in Jewish culture and traditions. Their poetry, written mostly in Russian, Yiddish, and Ukrainian, was coloured by their backgrounds, by the literary and cultural climate that prevailed in the Soviet Union, and was deeply concerned with their expectation of impending death at the hands of the Nazis. The book examines the poets' backgrounds, their lives, their poetry, and their deaths. Like the experiences and poetry of the British First World War poets, the lives and poems of these young Jewish poets are extremely interesting and deeply moving.

George S. Lensing, 2018-06-09 Over sixty years after his death, Wallace Stevens remains one of the major figures of American modernist poetry, celebrated for his masterful style, formal rigor, and aesthetic investigations of the natural, political, and metaphysical worlds. In Making the Poem, noted Stevens scholar George S. Lensing explores the poet's progress in the creation of his body of work, considering its development, composition, and reception. Drawing on little-known sources and nuanced readings of Stevens' texts, Lensing expands the customary view of the poet's creative approaches. This wide-ranging study extends from the origins and overlapping themes of well-known poems through the social and political backgrounds that marked Stevens' work to the prosodic and musical elements central to his style. Making the Poem features a dynamic new reading of the important early poem Sea Surface Full of Clouds, viewing it alongside his wife Elsie's journal describing the sea voyage that inspired the poem, and an extensive multiperspective treatment of the widely anthologized The Idea of Order at Key West, as well as a careful excavation of the poem Mozart 1935 in the context of the U.S. Great Depression. Lensing concludes with a discussion of the gradual and sometimes reluctant recognition Stevens' work received from poets and critics in Great Britain and Ireland. Stemming from decades of research and writing, Making the Poem: Stevens Approaches presents a holistic view of his creative achievements and a wealth of new material for readers to draw upon in their future encounters with the poetry of Wallace Stevens.

The Novels, Stories, Sketches and Poems of Thomas Nelson Page Thomas Nelson Page, 1912 Kazakh Muslims in the Red Army, 1939-1945 Allen J. Frank, 2022-05-16 Kazakh Muslims in the Red Army is the first study of the WWII experience of Soviet Kazakhs. Based on indigenous language sources, it focuses on the wartime experiences of Kazakh conscripts and the home front as expressed in correspondence. The study emphasizes how Kazakh social structure, religion, and patriotism were expressed and mobilized during the war years. By focusing on indigenous forms of private correspondence, the book presents an alternative to previous studies focusing on narratives and documentation derived from the Soviet state. It offers an entirely new basis for examining the wartime experiences of Soviet citizens and

Laughter and War Lesley Milne, 2016-01-14 War is no laughing matter During a war however laughter can play a vital role in sustaining morale both in the armies at the Front and in their homelands Among wars the 1914-18 conflict has left a haunting legacy and remains a central topic in modern European history This book offers a comparative study of the impact of the war in four countries and breaks new ground by exploring this through the medium of what their respective populations laughed at By searching the pages of four humorous satirical magazines Punch in the UK Le Rire France Simplicissimus Germany and Novy Satirikon Russia all of which supported the national war efforts it examines the ways in which humour made an important contribution to the propaganda war All four magazines were famous for their cartoons a selection of which is included but much of the humour was expressed through the written word in skits squibs comic tales and light verse Translated into English these snapshots of the moment are brought together to chart the responses on both sides of the conflict to issues and unfolding events identifying the stories that nations liked to tell about themselves and also the ones they liked to be told
