Soldiers and Societies in Postcommunist Europe A. Forster, T. Edmunds, 2003-09-08 This major comparative study examines the development of military society relations in central and eastern Europe since the collapse of communism. Soldiers and Societies in Post Communist Europe explores how the interaction of the common challenges of postcommunism and the diverse circumstances of individual countries are shaping patterns of military society relations in this changing region. Detailed country case studies written by international experts to a common analytical framework compare the experiences of Poland, the Czech Republic, Slovakia, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania, Romania, Bulgaria, Slovenia, Croatia, Yugoslavia, and Ukraine.

Civil-Military Relations in Post-Communist Europe Timothy Edmunds, Andrew Cottey, Anthony Forster, 2013-10-18 Fifteen years after the fall of communism, we are able to appraise the results of the multi-faceted postcommunist transition in Central and Eastern Europe with authority. This volume specifically addresses the fascinating area of Civil-Military relations throughout this transitional period. The countries of the region inherited a onerous legacy in this area: their armed forces were part of the communist party state system and most were oriented towards Cold War missions; they were large in size and supported by high levels of defence spending and they were based on universal male conscription. Central and eastern European states have thus faced a three-fold civil-military reform challenge: establishing democratic and civilian control over their armed forces; implementing organisational reform to meet the security and foreign policy demands of the new era; and redefining military bases for legitimacy in society. This volume assesses the experiences of Poland, Hungary, Latvia, Romania, Croatia, Serbia, Montenegro, Ukraine, and Russia in these areas. Collectively, these countries illustrate the way in which the interaction of broadly similar postcommunist challenges and distinct national contexts have combined to produce a wide variety of different patterns of civil-military relations. This book was previously published as a special issue of European Security.

The Challenge of Military Reform in Postcommunist Europe A. Forster, T. Edmunds, 2002-10-23 This major comparative study examines the challenges faced by countries of postcommunist Europe in reforming and professionalizing their armed forces. It explores how the interaction of the common challenges of postcommunism and the diverse circumstances of individual countries are shaping professionalization processes in this changing region. The detailed country case studies in this volume, written by leading experts to a common analytical framework, compare the experiences of Poland, the Czech Republic, Slovakia, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania, Romania, Bulgaria, Slovenia, Croatia, FRY, Russia, and Ukraine.

Soldiers and Societies in Post-communist Europe: Legitimacy and Change A. FORSTER, 2001

Europeanization and Regionalization in the EU's Enlargement to Central and Eastern Europe J. Hughes, G. Sasse, 2004-10-12 This book is a study of EU conditionality and compliance during the enlargement to the Central and Eastern European candidate countries. EU conditionality for membership is widely understood as having been a driving force for Europeanization, providing incentives and sanctions for compliance or non-compliance with EU norms such as the

Copenhagen Criteria and the adoption of the acquis communautaire By taking regional policy and regionalization as a case study this book provides a comparative analysis of the effects of conditionality on the Central and East European countries and explores the many paradoxes and weaknesses in the use of EU conditionality over time

Electoral Systems and Political Transformation in Post-Communist Europe S. Birch, 2003-11-25 Electoral Systems and Political Transformation in Post Communist Europe assesses the influence of electoral systems on political change in 20 post communist European states The main finding is that electoral institutions have systematic effects on the formation of representative structures Party enabling aspects of electoral laws such as list proportional representation tend to foster popular inclusion in politics and institutionalized party systems whereas politician enabling rules such as single member districts and ballots that allow voters to select individuals often favour the development of weakly structured systems and high levels of popular exclusion from the representative process

Armed Forces and Society in Europe A. Forster, 2005-10-31 In the post Cold War era European militaries are engaged in an ongoing adaptation which is challenging relations between armed forces and the societies that they serve This book offers an innovative conceptual framework to critically evaluate contemporary civil military relations across the continent of Europe It analyzes eight key issues in armed forces and society relations to explore the scale and intensity of these changes

The Construction of Liberal Democracy Jack J. Porter, 2010 Rogue and failed states present numerous security challenges to the United States and the rest of the international community Not only do these states offer refuge and at times assistance to violent nonstate actors such as terrorist organizations and pirate syndicates their continued inability to respond to citizens needs and unwillingness to respect human dignity establish the foundations for ongoing regional and global instability With this challenge in mind current U S and international foreign and security policy is directed at assisting these fragile communities in their efforts at democratic state and nation building The primary focus of this analysis is a detailed examination of two earlier and successful efforts at democratization the Federal Republic of Germany and South Africa paying particular attention to the role of civil military institutions After outlining the substantial theoretical and practical obstacles confronting these states the monograph highlights the potential roles that the new armed forces can play in the democratic transition and consolidation phases The analysis concludes with a number of policy recommendations and suggestions for those involved in these formidable and critical efforts

The Area of Freedom, Security and Justice in the Enlarged Europe K. Henderson, 2004-11-30 The European Union is constantly changing both in the number of countries it embraces and in policy areas where it plays a major role The new millennium has witnessed two major changes in the EU s scope On 1 May 2004 it enlarged to include ten new member states and the new European Constitution defines providing citizens with an area of freedom security and justice as one of its primary aims This book is unique in analyzing the interplay of the two spheres

The "Democratic Soldier" Sabine Mannitz, 2013-10-22 Since the end of the Cold War almost all European countries have reformed their armed forces focusing on downsizing internationalization and professionalization This paper examines how these changes in security sector governance have affected the normative model underlying the military's relationship to democracy using the image of the democratic soldier Drawing on a comparative analysis of 12 post socialist traditional and consolidated democracies in Europe the different dimensions of the national conception of soldiering are analysed based on the official norms that define a country's military and the ways in which individual members of the armed forces see their role Cases converge around the new idea of professional soldiering as a merging of civilian skills with military virtues in the context of the military's new post Cold War missions Yet despite this convergence research also shows that specific aspects of national traditions and context continue to influence the actual practice of soldiering in each case The contradictions that result between these old and new visions of the role of the military and the soldier illustrate the tensions that exist between political goals and defence reform dynamics
