Advertising in the Aging Society Florian Kohlbacher, Michael Prieler, 2016-04-08 Population aging is a powerful megatrend affecting many countries around the world This demographic shift has vast effects on societies economies and businesses and thus also for the advertising industry Advertising in the Aging Society presents insights from a large scale content analysis as well as questionnaire surveys among advertising practitioners and consumers in Japan As the most aged society in the world Japan lends itself as particularly suitable to study the implications of population aging This book shows that older people and especially older women are highly underrepresented in advertising and are generally portrayed in stereotypical albeit not necessarily unfavorable ways This is despite the fact that advertising practitioners have a generally positive view towards using older models even though only for an older target audience Finally the book explore how both younger and older consumers perceive the representation of older people in advertising as stereotypical and partly negative and are willing to boycott companies portraying older people negatively

Handbook of Attitudes, Volume 2: Applications Dolores Albarracin, Blair T. Johnson, 2018-10-10 Attitudes are evaluations of people places things and ideas They help us to navigate through a complex world They provide guidance for decisions about which products to buy how to travel to work or where to go on vacation They color our perceptions of others Carefully crafted interventions can change attitudes and behavior Yet attitudes beliefs and behavior are often formed and changed in casual social exchanges The mere perception that other people say rich people favor something may be sufficient to make another person favor it People s own actions also influence their attitudes such that they adjust to be more supportive of the actions People s belief systems even change to align with and support their preferences which at its extreme is a form of denial for which people lack awareness These two volumes of

The Handbook of Attitudes provide authoritative critical surveys of theory and research about attitudes beliefs persuasion and behavior from key authors in these areas This second volume covers applications to measurement behavior prediction and interventions in the areas of cancer HIV substance use diet and exercise as well as in politics intergroup relations aggression migrations advertising accounting education and the environment Everybody Sells, Nobody Buys Pasquale De Marco, In a world saturated with salesmanship it s time to take a critical look at the persuasive techniques that shape our culture our politics and our economy From the moment we re born we re bombarded with messages trying to convince us to buy something Whether it s a new car a new pair of shoes or a new political candidate we re constantly being sold to But what are the consequences of this relentless salesmanship How does it impact our individual lives and our society as a whole In this groundbreaking book we ll explore the pervasive role of sales in our society We ll examine how salesmanship has shaped our culture our politics and our economy We ll also consider the ethical implications of salesmanship and the impact it has on our individual lives We ll take a journey through the history of salesmanship from the rise of mass production in the Industrial Revolution to the emergence of advertising and marketing in the late 19th and early 20th centuries We ll examine the techniques that salespeople use to persuade us to buy their products and services and we ll consider the psychological and emotional impact of these techniques We ll also look at the dark side of salesmanship from the fraudulent practices of unscrupulous salespeople to the devastating impact of consumerism on our environment This book is a wake up call to a nation of salesmen It s time to wake up to the consequences of salesmanship and to take a critical look at the role it plays in our lives It s time to question the constant barrage of advertising messages and to make more conscious choices about what we buy and why we buy it It s time to take back control of our lives from the salesmen If you like this book write a review

Media Today Joseph Turow, 2013-10-15 Turow s Media Today Mass Communication in a Converging World now in its fifth edition chooses a cutting edge option This is a student friendly publication offering aids such as definitions of key terms colourful infographics case studies and end of chapter review questions There s a companion website too and a password protected website for instructors Philip Kemp Times Higher Education Media Today uses convergence as a lens that puts students at the center of the profound changes in the 21st century media world Through the convergence lens they learn to think critically about the role of media today and what these changes mean for their lives presently and in the future The book s media systems approach helps students to look carefully at how media is created distributed and exhibited in the new world that the digital revolution has created In this way Media Today goes beyond the traditional mass communication textbook s focus on consuming media to give students an insider s perspective on how media businesses operate How exactly does Google profit from web searches What will a magazine look like five years from now Informative and engaging Media Today Fifth Edition is characterized by its focus on Convergence In addition to separate chapters on the Internet and the Video Games industry coverage of convergence and its impact is incorporated into every chapter Consumer Education Media

Literacy questions ask students to consider their roles as a media consumer and potential media creator Comprehensive Media Industry Coverage Historical timelines in the print book and on the companion website track the development of each media industry giving students an overview of a particular industry at a glance Contemporary Student friendly Examples New culture and media boxes help students think about the impact of media industries on their own lives and globally Joseph Turow who has been teaching Intro to Mass Communication for well over a decade demonstrates the many ways that media convergence and the pervasiveness of the Internet have blurred distinctions between and among various media From newspapers to video games or social networking to mobile platforms Media Today prepares students to live in the digital world of media

The Heart of Marketing Judith Sherven, Jim Sniechowski, 2009-05-01 This book will radically boost your sales Feeling good about yourself afterwards will just be a nice side effect Mark Joyner author of The Irresistible Offer This book is about marketing But more important this is a book about you the soft sell marketer and your desire to market and sell your products and services online or off without compromising your personal or professional values In short it s about putting your heart into marketing Based on the principle that selling is spiritual service this book validates the power of heart to heart connections that lead to emotional authenticity and marketing believability taking sales beyond mere commercial transactions into long term customer relationships For those who want to focus on integrity avoid deceptive or hard sell tactics and maintain a balance between commerce and conscience it will inspire the imagination setting the foundation for you to understand and profit from the practice of soft sell marketing
