A Systems Approach to Language Pedagogy Akira Tajino, 2019-04-05 This volume represents the first attempt in the field of language pedagogy to apply a systems approach to issues in English language education. In the literature of language education or more specifically second or foreign language learning and teaching, each topic or issue has often been dealt with independently and been treated as an isolated item. Taking grammar instruction as an example, grammatical items are often taught in a sequential step by step manner; there has been no road map in which the interrelations between the various items are demonstrated. This may be one factor that makes it more difficult for students to learn the language organically. The topics covered in this volume, including language acquisition, pedagogical grammar, and teacher collaboration, are viewed from a holistic perspective. In other words, language pedagogy is approached as a dynamic system of interrelations. In this way, emergent properties are expected to manifest. This book is recommended for anyone involved in language pedagogy, including researchers, teachers, and teacher trainers, as well as learners.

Information Systems Action Research Ned Kock, 2007-02-05 Information Systems Action Research is organized into three parts: 1. The first part focuses on the methodological issues that arise when action research methods are conducted. 2. The second part provides examples of action research in practice. 3. The third part will summarize the philosophical foundations of action research and its application as a methodology in Information Systems research and research programs. The book will include chapters from Europe, Australasia, and the Americas, representing different traditions and perspectives in action research. These chapters will come from prominent scholars in the areas who are widely recognized as authors of seminal ideas in action research.

Action Research in Action Kenichi Uchiyama, 2025-07-10 This is the first book to provide the fundamental backbone for the field of action research (AR). One of the main characteristics of AR is to achieve a kind of learning based on experience through action in the real world, connecting and reconciling theory and practice by reflection for in by action. A standard form of AR has not yet been found, however, because it is difficult for conventional academicians to effectively bridge the gap between objectivity in theory and subjectivity in practice. For the past 50 years, soft systems methodology (SSM) has developed the methodology to deal with subjectivity by rigorously adhering to a coherent guideline of a systemic means for discussion, for example, accommodation, i.e., living with different individual worldviews. The author began to reinterpret SSM from an Eastern context at Lancaster University, UK, and received a Ph.D. at the London School of Economics, introducing the actuality point of view. This idea originated with the eminent Japanese psychiatrist Bin Kimura, who argued that schizophrenics do not lose touch with reality but with actuality That is there are two aspects of the world reality and actuality based on Latin res thing and actio action They can recognize all things of the world as reality as expressed by that noun but cannot comprehend with a feeling of reality the predicate actuality Introducing actuality into SSM as a new dimension opened a new perspective in SSM both theoretically and practically This topic is discussed in detail in Part II of this book Part I contains three chapters Chapter 1 provides a basic conceptual overview of SSM Chapter 2 provides an actual trace of the evolution of SSM over the last 25 years One topic that is expected to become the subject of serious practical application of SSM in the future is its application to resilience This is discussed in some detail in Chapter 3 The actuality aspect of SSM has been used for more than 20 years in various contexts yielding many good results Among those are a new explanation of accommodation using paleo logic or predicate logic a new management cycle based on actuality such as learning for in by action and the novelty of the methodological tool itself Those 20 years of learning authenticate the guideline for the way of discussion or agreement that is relevant to actuality Especially in the recent Covid 19 pandemic it has oriented the restoration of actuality in the digital based society where actuality is deadened This result is also dealt with in Part I
