

A full-page background image featuring a mountain range under a dramatic, sunset-colored sky. The sky is filled with large, textured clouds in shades of orange, yellow, and blue. The mountains in the foreground are dark and silhouetted against the bright sky. The overall mood is contemplative and serene.

The weight of the world is love.
Under the burden of solitude,

Solitude And Love Of The World:

Daughters of the Bear Maite Díez, Jennifer Mathews, 2004 Daughters of the Bear is an anthology of non fiction by 53 Korean women Through their stories Korean women of different generations explore family sacrifice memories relationships sexuality society s expectations and constraints education and the search for fulfillment and identity The book includes a foreword by Chang Pilwha and translations by Young Oak Wells Professor Kenneth Wells and Brother Anthony of Taiz For additional information on the editors and their publications visit www.daughtersofthebear.com On Solitude, Conscience, Love and Our Inner and Outer Lives Ron Haflidson, 2019-07-25 Ron Haflidson places the theology of Augustine in conversation with contemporary authors who warn of the dangers of abandoning solitude for constant often technological connection Haflidson addresses an essential question that has previously been neglected What difference does it make to the practice of solitude if one believes that even in the absence of any human company God is always intimately present For Augustine solitude is a moral necessity he recommends that we regularly retreat from the crowd into the depths of our conscience where we can dwell alone in the company of God and enter into dialogue before and with God about who we are and how we love Throughout this book Haflidson pairs close readings of Augustine with those of noted cartographers of our inner lives literary greats including Jane Austen George Eliot Marilynne Robinson and George Saunders This book explores what undiscovered possibilities may lie in solitude

Solitude and Love of the World Thomas Merton (trappistmunk), 1997 Thomas Merton and the Noonday Demon Donald Grayson, 2015-10-29 In Thomas Merton and the Noonday Demon Donald Grayson transforms a long neglected cache of letters found in an ancient monastery into a book that offers new insight into the author of these letters Thomas Merton the renowned spiritual writer At the time of their writing the mid 1950s he was living as a Trappist monk at the Abbey of Gethsemani in Kentucky Having reached an impasse in his monastic vocation he decided to leave Gethsemani for the Monastery of Camaldoli in Italy Camaldoli at that time bucolic and peaceful outwardly was inwardly riven by a pre Vatican II culture war whereas Gethsemani which he tried so hard to leave became when he was given his hermitage there in 1965 his place to recover Eden In walking with Merton on this journey and reading the letters he wrote and received at the time we find ourselves asking as he did with so much energy and honesty the deep questions that we may well need to answer in our own lives

Who One Is J.G. Hart, 2009-04-21 Both volumes of this work have as their central concern to sort out who one is from what one is In this Book 1 the focus is on transcendental phenomenological ontology When we refer to ourselves we refer both non ascriptively in regard to non propertied as well as ascriptively in regard to propertied aspects of ourselves The latter is the richness of our personal being the former is the essentially elusive central concern of this Book 1 I can be aware of myself and refer to myself without it being necessary to think of any third personal characteristic indeed one may be aware of oneself without having to be aware of anything except oneself This consideration opens the door to basic issues in phenomenological ontology such as identity individuation and substance In our knowledge and love of Others we find symmetry with the first person self knowledge both in its non ascriptive forms as well as in its property ascribing forms Love properly has for its referent the Other as present through but beyond her properties Transcendental phenomenological reflections move us to consider paradoxes of the transcendental person For example we contend with the unrepresentability in the transcendental first person of our beginning or ending and the undeniable evidence for the beginning and ending of persons in our third person experience The basic distinction between oneself as non sortal and as a person pervaded by properties serves as a hinge for reflecting on the afterlife This transcendental phenomenological ontology of necessity deals with some themes of the philosophy of religion

Shaping the Journey Daniel Ethan Harris,2025-08-21 How do the theological impulses of evangelical pietism and contemplative monasticism converge in the modern spiritual formation movement Shaping the Journey brings John Wesley and Thomas Merton into critical dialogue examining their distinct yet complementary contributions to Christian spirituality With Wesleyan evangelicalism as a thesis and Mertonian monasticism as antithesis this study argues that the spiritual formation movement represents a meaningful synthesis of these traditions Central to this synthesis is the work of M Robert Mulholland Jr whose integrative vision of spiritual formation clearly reflects the influences of Wesley and Merton and the evangelical and monastic traditions they represent Engaging history theology and spirituality this work offers a vital resource for understanding the roots and trajectory of Christian spiritual formation *Modern thoughts on life and conduct, selected and compiled by H.W.
