Space Is The Place:

Space Is the Place John Szwed, 2020-04-30 Considered by many to be a founder of Afrofuturism Sun Ra aka Herman Blount was a composer keyboardist bandleader philosopher entrepreneur poet and self proclaimed extraterrestrial from Saturn He recorded over 200 albums with his Arkestra which dressed in Egypto space costumes played everything from boogie woogie and swing to fusion and free jazz John Szwed's Space is the Place is the definitive biography of this musical polymath who was one of the twentieth century's greatest avant garde artists and intellectuals Charting the whole of Sun Ra's life and career Szwed outlines how after years in Chicago as a blues and swing band pianist Sun Ra set out in the 1950s to impart his views about the galaxy black people and spiritual matters by performing music with the Arkestra that was as vital and innovative as it was mercurial and confounding Szwed's readers whether they are just discovering Sun Ra or are among the legion of poets artists intellectuals and musicians who consider him a spiritual godfather will find that indeed space is the place

The Place of Space and Other Themes Jan J.T. Srzednicki, 2012-12-06 The book is divided into chapters but several themes run across them This is in fact the reason for writing a book rather than a number of independent articles for it appears that several moments of Kant's work are characterized by similar problems and consequently we might be unable to see the impact of these on a more limited canvas But further and perhaps no less importantly the shared problems are likely to be indicative of the nature of the whole area under discussion Given this to concentrate our attention on them should provide clarification not accessible in any other way It is one of the objects of the present book to obtain this clarification and to apply it to the area itself rather than merely to utilize the results in Kantian exegesis and elucidation Thus the aim is not predominantly historical Of the various themes the theme of Space and Time turns out to be of prime importance to the whole picture presented and within it the theme of space This is not perhaps surprising for Kant's central task is to provide for objectivity i.e. to explain how a subjective stream of perceptions can amount to a perception of the world in which there are both subjective and objective moments

The Place of the Spirit Sarah Morice-Brubaker, 2013-09-17 Is there any way to talk theologically about the Trinity and place What might the placedness of creation have to do with God's triunity In The Place of the Spirit Sarah Morice Brubaker considers how anxieties about place have influenced Trinitarian theology both what it is asked to do and the language in which it is expressed When one is nervous about collapsing God into created horizons she suggests one is apt to come up with a model of trinity that refuses place Distance becomes a primary way of situating the divine persons in relation to each other Conversely those theologians who wish to avoid a too remote God likewise recruit Trinitarian language to suit that purpose They too give that language a placial gloss expressing triunity in terms of coinherence and mutual indwelling And yet suggests Morice Brubaker the question What is place and how can one talk about God and place is underdetermined within much contemporary Trinitarian thought Thankfully this question has received full on attention in other areas of ethics philosophy and systematic theology This book calls for Trinitarian thought to avail itself of those insights and offers some ways in which it may do so Metaphor, Analogy, and the Place of Places Carl G. Vaught, 2004 Vaught identifies the place where religion and philosophy meet and he does so in constant conversation with Augustine Hegel Heidegger and Jaspers Vaught argues that both religious and philosophical discourse assume one of four modes figurative analytical systematic and analogical Any real innovation occurs by moving from one mode of discourse to another Vaught also explores the relationship among space time and place as well as mystery power and structure Remarkably Vaught shows how the category of place serves as the intersection of both triads In the end place is the orientation that guides the discussions of Being and God where philosophy and religion are joined The Place of Space in Narration Joost van Baak, 2024-09-02 Resisting the Place of Belonging Mr Daniel Boscaljon, 2013-02-28 People often overlook the uncanny nature of homecomings writing off the experience of finding oneself at home in a strange place or realizing that places from our past have grown strange This book challenges our assumptions about the value of home arguing for the ethical value of our feeling displaced and homeless in the 21st century Home is explored in places ranging from digital keyboards to literary texts and investigates how we mediate our homecomings aesthetically through cultural artifacts art movies television shows and conceptual structures philosophy theology ethics narratives In questioning the place of home in human lives and the struggles involved with defining defending naming and returning to homes the volume collects and extends ideas about home and homecomings that will inform traditional problems in novel ways Edith Wharton, Willa Cather, and the Place of Culture Julie Olin-Ammentorp, 2019-10-01 Edith Wharton and Willa Cather wrote many of the most enduring American novels from the first half of the twentieth century including Wharton's The House of Mirth Ethan Frome and The Age of Innocence and Cather's O Pioneers! My Antonia and Death Comes for the Archbishop Yet despite their perennial popularity and their status as major American novelists Wharton 1862-1937 and Cather 1873-1947 have rarely been studied together Indeed critics and scholars seem to have conspired to keep them at a distance Wharton is seen as our literary aristocrat an author who chronicles the lives of the East Coast Europe bound elite while Cather is considered a prairie populist who describes the lives of rugged western pioneers These depictions though partially valid nonetheless rely on oversimplifications and neglect the striking and important ways the works of these two authors intersect The first comparative study of Edith Wharton and Willa Cather in thirty years this book combines biographical historical and literary analyses with a focus on place and aesthetics to reveal Wharton's and Cather's parallel experiences of dislocation their relationship to each other as writers and the profound similarities in their theories of fiction Julie Olin Ammentorp provides a new assessment of the affinities between Wharton and Cather by exploring the importance of literary and geographic place in their lives and works including the role of New York City the American West France and travel In doing so she reveals the two authors shared concern about the culture of place and the place of culture in the United States

Location, Space and Place in Religious Education Martin Rothgangel, Kerstin von Brömssen, Hans-Günter Heimbrock, Geir

Skeie, 2017 People form attachments to their home their neighbourhood and environment to the region and nation to which they belong They express feelings about space and place especially so in globalized times In religious studies in theology and in education there is a growing interest in spatial theories either as constructed within national borders or within international and transnational spaces The spatial turn has become an acknowledged term in interdisciplinary discourses Although every practice of religious education is situated and contextually dependent religious education RE research until now has not systematically paid attention to this fundamental insight This volume is devoted specifically to clarifying the close relationship between RE practice and spatial and situational conditions After clarifying the main concepts in Part 1 Part 2 includes chapters related to classroom studies while Part 3 focuses on studies about teachers of religious education Part 4 contains studies beyond the classroom such as school chapels churches and inner space All contributions to this volume were developed in the context of the European Network for Religious Education through Contextual Approaches ENRECA which has focused recently on the central issue of space and place
