Austin, 2012-09-14 Exemplary Ambivalence in Late Nineteenth Century Spanish America Narrating Creole Subjectivity casts new light on the role of exemplary narrative in nineteenth century Spanish America highlighting the multiplicity of didactic writing and its dynamic relationship with readers as interpretive agents Drawing on literary and historical models of creole heterogeneity Austin's study probes the unstable social and ethnic fictions of the creole elite as they portray themselves through the flawed canvas of exemplary discourse Exemplary Ambivalence examines creole subjectivity through postcolonial and Latin American theoretical lenses to show that Spanish American creole subjects always multiple reveal their ideological ambivalence through exemplary narrative This study examines a cross section of canonical and lesser known texts written toward the end of the nineteenth century by authors across Spanish America including Eugenio Cambaceres Argentina José Asunción Silva Colombia José Martí Cuba Clorinda Matto de Turner Peru and Juana Manuela Gorriti Argentina These texts range from realist and modernist novels to a cookbook of multiple authorship and engage issues of nationalism citizenship gender indigenous rights and liberal ideologies within the historical context of Spanish America's weakened democracies and modernizing economies at the end of the nineteenth century Austin's research fills a critical gap within studies of the nineteenth century in Spanish America as it explores the inconsistencies of exemplary texts and emphasizes the forms sources and implications of creole ideological and narrative multiplicity By recognizing the inherent ambivalence of exemplary discourse along with creole writing and reading subjectivities Exemplary Ambivalence opens fresh perspectives on canonical texts while it also engages some of the non canonical hybrid and fragmentary texts of nineteenth century reading culture The Routledge Handbook of Spanish Translation Studies Roberto Valdeón,África Vidal,2019-05-28 Written by leading experts in the area The Routledge Handbook of Spanish Translation Studies brings together original contributions representing a culmination of the extensive research to date within the field of Spanish Translation Studies The Handbook covers a variety of translation related issues both theoretical and practical providing an overview of the field and establishing directions for future research It starts by looking at the history of translation in Spain the Americas during the colonial period and Latin America and then moves on to discuss well established areas of research such as literary translation and audiovisual translation at which Spanish researchers have excelled It also provides state of the art information on new topics such as the interface between translation and humour on the one hand and the translation of comics on the other This Handbook is an indispensable resource for postgraduate students and researchers of translation studies Selected Writings Ruben Dario,2005-12-06 Born in Nicaragua Ruben Dario is known as the consummate leader of the Modernista movement an esthetic trend that swept the Americas from Mexico to Argentina at the end of the nineteenth century Seeking a language and a style that would distinguish the newly emergent nations from the old imperial power of Spain Dario's writing offered a refreshingly new vision of the world an artistic sensibility at once cosmopolitan and connected to the rhythms of nature The first part of this collection presents Dario's most significant poems in a bilingual format and organized thematically in the way Dario himself envisioned them The second part is devoted to Dario's prose including short stories fables profiles travel writing reportage opinion pieces and letters A sweeping biographical introduction by distinguished critic Ilan Stavans places Dario in historical and artistic context not only in Latin America but in world literature For more than seventy years Penguin has been the leading publisher of classic literature in the English speaking world With more than 1 700 titles Penguin Classics represents a global bookshelf of the best works throughout history and across genres and disciplines Readers trust the series to provide authoritative texts enhanced by introductions and notes by distinguished scholars and contemporary authors as well as up to date translations by award winning translators The Poetics of the Margins Rossella Riccobono,2011 This volume contains a selection of the proceedings of a conference on European problems of identity titled Europe and its Others which was held in St Andrews in July 2007 It looks at some of the histories and stories that connect the European margins to an imagined or imaginary centre of this complex continent as seen mostly from within and with self reflective insights from literary socio historical and cinematic perspectives By following the marginal route created by the essays the volume juxtaposes as in a mosaic a range of artistic discourses produced in many European languages Each of these discourses highlights a different perception of belonging or not belonging to Europe and each of these discourses brings to the fore in its respective society a fresh perspective on new European territories seen not as the other but rather as contiguous tiles in a mosaic of idiosyncrasies Lying one next to the other these territories engage in dialogue poetically harmoniously or dissonantly in an attempt to create through their juxtaposition an enigmatic poetic discourse of the margins

Indigenous Languages, Politics, and Authority in Latin America Alan Durston, Bruce Mannheim, 2018-05-30 This volume makes a vital and original contribution to a topic that lies at the intersection of the fields of history anthropology and linguistics The book is the first to consider indigenous languages as vehicles of political orders in Latin America from the sixteenth century to the present across regional and national contexts including Peru Mexico Guatemala and Paraguay The chapters focus on languages that have been prominent in multiethnic colonial and national societies and are well represented in the written record Guaraní Quechua some of the Mayan languages Nahuatl and other Mesoamerican languages The contributors put into dialogue the questions and methodologies that have animated anthropological and historical approaches to the topic including ethnohistory philology language politics and ideologies sociolinguistics pragmatics and metapragmatics Some of the historical chapters deal with how political concepts and discourses were expressed in indigenous languages while others focus on multilingualism and language hierarchies where some indigenous languages or language varieties acquired a special status as mediums of written communication and as elite languages The ethnographic chapters show how the deployment of distinct linguistic varieties in social interaction lays bare the workings of social differentiation and social hierarchy Contributors Alan Durston Bruce Mannheim Sabine MacCormack Bas van Doesburg Camilla Townsend Capucine Boidin Anglica Otaz Melgarejo Judith M Maxwell Margarita Huayhua
