Spatial Consequences Of Urban Ethnic Encounters:

Urban Ethnic Encounters Freek Colombijn, Aygen Erdentug, 2003-08-29 Urban Ethnic Encounters attempts to answer the two leading questions of how urban space structures the life of ethnic groups and how ethnic diversity helps to shape urban space. A multidisciplinary team of authors searches the various dimensions of the spatial organization of inter ethnic relations in cities and countries around the globe. Unlike most ethnographies in which authors write about the other in faraway places, the majority of the contributors have studied their own society. The case studies are from four different continents. Material is presented from diverse locations such as the cities of Toronto, Philadelphia, Vienna, Beirut, Jakarta, Tehran, Osaka, and Albuquerque, and the countries of Israel, Brazil, and Taiwan. This presents a unique opportunity for comparative analysis of ethnicity and spatial patterns. From this wealth of material, important inter cultural conclusions can be made about urban ethnic diversity.

Urban Ethnic Encounters, Printbegr nsninger Der kan printes kapitelvis A Postcolonial People Nasreen Ali, Salman Sayyid, 2006 This is a critical survey of contemporary South Asian Britain. The book combines analysis with empirically rich studies to map out the diversity of the British Asian way of life. The contributors provide insights information on the Asian British experience in its socio economic cultural dimensions.

Locating Urban Conflicts W. Pullan, B. Baillie, 2013-07-29 Cities have emerged as the epicentres for many of today's ethno national and religious conflicts. This book brings together key themes that dominate our current attention, including emerging areas of contestation in rapidly changing and modernising cities, and the effects of extreme and/or enduring conflicts upon ordinary civilian life.

Immigrant Adaptation in Multi-Ethnic Societies Eric Fong, Lan-Hung Nora Chiang, Nancy Denton, 2013-03-05 As a result of international immigration, ethnic diversity has increased rapidly in many countries, not only in major cities but also in smaller cities. This trend is not limited to the traditional immigrant receiving countries such as the United States and Canada, but occurs also in many other countries where doors are gradually opening to immigration, especially in Asia. This combination of a growing immigrant population and ethnic diversity has fostered a more complex immigrant integration process. This book addresses the subject at the city ecological level, inter group level, and individual level. It contributes to the understanding of immigrant adaptation in a multi ethnic context, brings Asian perspectives into the discussion of immigration and race and ethnic relations, and will serve as a basis for future study of immigrant adaptation in a multi ethnic context.

Cosmopolitanism and Place E. Johansen, 2014-05-01 Cosmopolitanism and Place considers the way contemporary Anglophone fiction connects global identities with the experience in local places. Looking at fiction set in metropolises, regional cities, and rural communities, this book argues that the everyday experience of these places produces forms of wide connections that emphasize social justice.

The Sensation of Security Erika Robb Larkins, 2023-05-15 The Sensation of Security explores how private security guards are a permanent conspicuous fixture of everyday life in the Brazilian city of Rio de Janeiro. Drawing on long term ethnographic research with security laborers, managers, company owners, and elite global consultants Erika Robb Larkins examines the provision of security in Rio from the perspective of security personnel providing an analysis of the racialized logics that underpin the ongoing work of securing the city Larkins shows how guards communicate a sensa o de seguran a a sensation of security to clients and customers who have the capital to pay for it Cultivated through performances by security laborers the sensation of security is a set of culturally shaped racialized and gendered impressions related to safety order well being and cleanliness While the sensa o de seguran a indexes an outward facing task of allaying fears of crime and maintaining order in elite spaces it also refers to the emotional labor and embodied worlds that security workers navigate

Under Construction Freek Colombijn, 2013-11-29 Freek Colombijn examines the social changes in Indonesian cities during the process of decolonization That process had major repercussions for urban society These social changes are studied from the angle of urban space in general and the provision of housing in particular This provides fresh insight into how people experienced decolonization The author challenges the idea that a shift from ethnic to class differences was the overriding social change during decolonization He argues instead that class differences had already formed the predominant dividing lines in colonial urban society Colombijn also focuses on the shifting balance of power between the main agents in the urban arena Through the use of hitherto unused historical sources the book presents a wealth of new data about the Indonesian city and the decolonization process Published in cooperation with the Netherlands Institute of War Documentation NIOD Originally published with imprint KITLV ISBN 9789067182911
