Spatiality Of The Novel:

The Spatiality of the Novel Joseph A. Kestner, 1978 The Spatiality of the Novel Joseph A. Kestner, 1978 Realism and Space in the Novel, 1795-1869 Rosa Mucignat, 2016-04-01 Posing new questions about realism and the creative power of narratives Rosa Mucignat takes a fresh look at the relationship between representation and reality As Mucignat points out worlds evoked in fiction all depend to a greater or lesser extent on the world we know from experience but they are neither parasites on nor copies of those realms Never fully aligned with the real world stories grow out of the mismatch between reality and representation those areas of the fictional space that are not located on actual maps but still form a fully structured imagined geography Mucignat offers new readings of six foundational texts of modern Western culture Goethe's Wilhelm Meister's Apprenticeship Jane Austen's Mansfield Park Alessandro Manzoni's The Betrothed Stendahl's The Red and the Black Charles Dickens's Great Expectations and Gustave Flaubert's Sentimental Education Using these texts as source material and supporting evidence for a new and comprehensive theory of space in fiction she examines the links between the nineteenth century novel's interest in creating substantial life like worlds and contemporary developments in science art and society Mucignat's book is an evocative analysis of the way novels marshal their technical and stylistic resources to produce imagined geographies so complex and engrossing that they intensify and even transform the reader's experience of real life places

Pleasures of Literary Spatiality E.L. Ridsen, 2024-02-05 Barring such illnesses as claustrophobia or agoraphobia or situations such as medical isolation or incarceration most people move naturally from smaller to larger spaces and back again without giving the process much thought But paying attention to our own movement in space yields all sorts of sensory experiences from something relaxing to something terrifying or even astonishingly beautiful Our sense of expandable contractible space can influence how we process everything from Japanese gardens to mountain hikes and desert expanses Writers often expand or contract spaces around their characters for dramatic effect character building and even thematic purposes Marie de France used expanded spaces for adventure and travel and contracted spaces first for romance and then for spiritual devotion Chaucer used expanded spaces for adventure pilgrimage and danger and contracted spaces for conviviality and storytelling Dante and Milton created expansive cosmologies but focused on small spaces for both suffering and incredible spiritual achievement This study of literary spatiality yields fascinating results reflects useful techniques for reading and reminds us of the value of all sorts of different approaches to analysis and artistic enjoyment

Contemporary Nordic Literature and Spatiality Kristina Malmio, Kaisa Kurikka, 2019-10-14 This open access collection offers a detailed mapping of recent Nordic literature and its different genres fiction poetry and children's literature through the perspective of spatiality Concentrating on contemporary Nordic literature the book presents a distinctive view on the spatial turn and widens the understanding of Nordic literature outside of canonized authors Examining literatures by Danish Norwegian Swedish and Finnish authors the chapters investigate a recurrent theme of social criticism and analyze this criticism against the welfare state and power hierarchies in spatial terms The chapters explore various narrative worlds and spaces from the urban to parks and forests from textual spaces to spatial thematics studying these spatial features in relation to the problems of late modernity Spatiality Robert T. Tally, 2013 Divided into six chapters each dealing with different aspects of the spatial in literary studies the book provides An overview of the spatial turn in literary theory from modern philosophy and historicism to cartography and literary theory Introductions to the major theorists such as Michel Foucault David Harvey Edward Soja Erich Auerbach Georg Lukács and Mikhail Bakhtin An analysis of spatiality from a variety of perspectives the writer as map maker different literary and critical spaces the concept of literary geography cartographics and geocriticism As the first guide to the literature and criticism of space this clear and engaging book is essential reading Spatiality and Symbolic Expression Bill Richardson, 2015-07-22 In this volume scholars from a wide range of fields within the humanities explore the links between space and place and their relation to cultural expression This collection shows that a focus on the spatial can help elucidate important facets of symbolic expression and cultural production whether it be literature music dance films or art Spatial Politics in the Postcolonial Novel Sara Upstone, 2009 In her innovative study of spatial locations in postcolonial texts Sara Upstone adopts a transnational approach focusing on the major texts of Wilson Harris Toni Morrison and Salman Rushdie with reference to other postcolonial authors Challenging the privileging of the nation Upstone shows that spatial locales such as the journey city home and body enable personal or communal statements of resistance against colonial prejudice and its neo colonial legacies Topophrenia Robert T. Tally, 2018-11-09 What is our place in the world and how do we inhabit understand and represent this place to others Topophrenia gathers essays by Robert Tally that explore the relationship between space place and mapping on the one hand and literary criticism history and theory on the other The book provides an introduction to spatial literary studies exploring in detail the theory and practice of geocriticism literary cartography and the spatial humanities more generally The spatial anxiety of disorientation and the need to know one's location even if only subconsciously is a deeply felt and shared human experience Building on Yi Fu Tuan's topophilia or love of place Tally instead considers the notion of topophrenia as a simultaneous sense of place consciousness coupled with a feeling of disorder anxiety and dis-ease He argues that no effective geography could be complete without also incorporating an awareness of the lonely loathsome or frightening spaces that condition our understanding of that space Tally considers the tension between the objective ordering of a space and the subjective ways in which narrative worlds are constructed Narrative maps present a way of understanding that seems realistic but is completely figurative So how can these maps be used to not only understand the real world but also to put up an alternative vision of what that world might otherwise be From Tolkien to Cervantes Borges to More Topophilia provides a clear and compelling explanation of how geocriticism the spatial humanities and literary cartography help us to narrate represent and understand our place in a constantly changing world
