Literature and Ethics in High School English Classes Ross Collin, 2024-11-14 This book offers a defence of ethical reading in secondary school English classes at a time when reformers and policy makers are trying to reorganize English language arts around technical skills or politics Ross Collin shows how students and teachers use literature as a venue for exploring their own and others ethical ideas and practices and argues that moral inquiry in English class is a distinctly social endeavour The book draws ideas from English education and moral philosophy From English education Collin explores social reading or what Louise Rosenblatt named transaction looking at texts commonly taught in secondary school English including Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet and Jacqueline Woodson's Brown Girl Dreaming From philosophy he draws on arguments about moral vision and literature developed by Iris Murdoch Martha Nussbaum and Nora H m l inen and develops ideas tacit in English education about reading with moral vision He concludes by proposing a new theory of moral vision in transactional reading Narnian Virtues Thomas Lickona, Mark A. Pike, 2021-11-25 In this engaging and practical book Mark Pike and Thomas Lickona show how C S Lewis wisdom for nurturing good character and his much loved Chronicles of Narnia inspire us to virtue Drawing upon the Judeo Christian virtues of faith hope and love and Narnian virtues such as courage integrity and wisdom they present an approach to contemporary character education validated by recent research An introduction to C S Lewis thought on character and faith is followed by practical examples of how to use well known passages from the Narnia novels as a stimulus for rich character development at home and in the classroom The Necessity of Aesthetic Education Laura D'Olimpio, 2024-04-04 The Necessity of Aesthetic Education is a manifesto That which is experienced through engagement with art through the many various and diverse art forms and media is uniquely and essentially valuable to the lives of human beings In order to fully appreciate and gain the most out of the arts which offer a variety of aesthetic experience there are concepts skills and techniques integral to such understanding In this book Laura D Olimpio argues that aesthetic education ought to be a compulsory part of education for all school aged students from pre primary to high school on the basis of its distinctive value Such an argument is timely given the so called crisis in the arts and humanities with declining student numbers in subjects that do not have a direct vocational correlative and increased focus on science engineering technology and mathematics STEM subjects As funding cuts increasingly slash the support for the arts there is a need to argue for why the arts and arts education is valuable for their own sake as well as for the positive contributions they can and do make to society Through critical engagement with a range of thinkers including Maxine Greene John Dewey and Elliot Eisner D Olimpio offers a unique and important contribution to aesthetic education and to research within philosophy of education Equitable Literacy Instruction for Students in Poverty Doris Walker-Dalhouse, Victoria J. Risko, Differences in performance between students of poverty and more advantaged students are reflective of an opportunity gap as opposed to a gap in student ability This book argues that significant attention must be given to eliminating the barriers that produce educational inequities in student achievement Walker Dalhouse and Risko focus on disparities in literacy achievement that might be attributed to color blind practices deficit mindsets low expectations or context neutral practices Situating literacy learning within a comprehensive view of literacy development they provide a set of instructional practices that will best support students living in poverty Specifically vignettes from kindergarten through middle school classrooms are used to demonstrate practices that address critical areas of the reading process are responsive to students racial ethnic cultural gender and linguistic histories and assets attend to students strengths and needs and go beyond the impact of short term testing to support optimal and sustainable learning Educators and school leaders can use this resource to transform schools into nurturing and vibrant communities that are committed to change equity and diversity Book Features Provides recommendations and detailed guidance for enacting literacy instruction that will close opportunity gaps for students living in poverty Includes vignettes from leading literacy educators and researchers that demonstrate high quality literacy instruction implemented in K 8 classrooms Presents instruction that is responsive to differences and honors the languages literacies and cultural resources that students bring to their learning Offers specific recommendations and practices that can guide advocacy for change The authors correct the deficit misperceptions by showing how students experiencing poverty are the targets not the causes of educational disparities What a different world schools would be if we each embraced these lessons From the Afterword by Paul C Gorski founder Equity Literacy Institute
