Teaching students to sight-read in a choral classroom Laura Jean Oprea, 2014 Sight reading is an essential part of choral music education yet it can be one of its weakest elements Students may participate in a choir that sight reads successfully as a group but students may individually struggle to sight read Research has revealed that sight reading is a skill that develops over time when it is taught consistently The purpose of this project was to create research based sight reading curriculum that teaches students to sight read alone This project is designed to enhance the sight reading abilities of first and second year middle school choral students through multiple musical experiences This project includes two sight reading units daily sight reading exercises supplemental worksheets and sight reading assessments Sight reading is a skill that should be taught in choral classrooms so that students can become musically literate and ultimately independent musicians
