Marohn,2013-05-13 Launched in 1971 Adolescent Psychiatry in the words of founding coeditors Sherman C Feinstein Peter L Giovacchini and Arthur A Miller promised to explore adolescence as a process to enter challenging and exciting areas that may have profound effects on our basic concepts Further they promised a series that will provide a forum for the expression of ideas and problems that plague and excite so many of us working in this enigmatic but fascinating field For over two decades Adolescent Psychiatry has fulfilled this promise The repository of a wealth of original studies by preeminent clinicians developmental researchers and social scientists specializing in this stage of life the series has become an essential resource for all mental health professionals working with youth Volume 20 of the series serves as a tribute to editor emeritus Sherman C Feinstein In addition to an appreciation of and contributions by Dr Feinstein it contains heretofore unpublished papers by two other major figures in adolescent psychiatry founding father William Schonfeld and a Viennese colleague transplanted to America Siegfried Bernfeld With sections on general considerations of adolescence specific syndromes and treatment modalities volume 20 presents the work of many of today s preeminent minds in adolescent psychiatry      Federal Register ,1992-01-27

Learning From Others Carl Angell,2000-05-31 This book describes a number of international comparative studies of pupils achievement and examines the factors associated with successful teaching and learning and with school effectiveness It describes the usefulness of such studies for policy makers test designers researchers and teachers while offering a realistic and critical account of their limitations Both large and small scale studies are considered and particular attention is given to the contribution that international comparative research can make to raising the standards of work especially in school science and mathematics in different educational systems      Mathematical Encounters and Pedagogical Detours Boris Koichu,Rina Zazkis,2021-02-04 This book explores the idea that mathematics educators and teachers are also problem solvers and learners and as such they constantly experience mathematical and pedagogical disturbances Accordingly many original tasks and learning activities are results of personal mathematical and pedagogical disturbances of their designers who then transpose these disturbances into learning opportunities for their students This learning transposition process is a cornerstone of mathematics teacher education as a lived developing enterprise Mathematical Encounters and Pedagogical Detours unfold the process and illustrate it by various examples The book engages readers in original tasks shares the results of task implementation and describes how these results inform the development of new tasks which often intertwine mathematics and pedagogy Most importantly the book includes a dialogue between the authors based on the stories of their own learning which triggers continuous exploration of learning opportunities for their students      Handbook on Parent

Education Marvin J. Fine, 2014-05-10 Handbook on Parent Education presents a contemporary picture of the state of the parent education movement. It tackles a number of critical issues such as the programs that are available or when parent education should begin. Different models of parent education are described along with parenting programs for youth. The application of parenting programs for specific groups including foster parents, parents of preschoolers, abusive parents, and parents of handicapped children is also discussed. Comprised of 14 chapters, this book begins with an overview of the parent education movement as well as several prototype programs and some ethical issues. The distinction between education and therapy is explained, and parent education with special interest groups is described. In addition, problems of research and evaluation and a projection for the future are presented. Subsequent chapters focus on the state of the nuclear family in American society during the 1970s, Rudolf Dreikurs' impact on childrearing practices and his contribution to individual psychology together with the social context of child behavior, Haim Ginott's approach to parent education and the effects of parent effectiveness training on families, Transactional analysis approaches to parent education, and parent education as a strategy for the prevention of child abuse are also examined. This monograph will appeal to educators, parents, sociologists, and educational psychologists.

Educating Activist Allies Katy Swalwell, 2013-09-02 A CHOICE Outstanding Academic Title 2013. Educating Activist Allies offers a fresh take on critical education studies through an analysis of social justice pedagogy in schools serving communities privileged by race and class. By documenting the practices of socially committed teachers at an urban private academy and a suburban public school, Katy Swalwell helps educators and educational theorists better understand the challenges and opportunities inherent in this work. She also examines how students responded to their teachers' efforts in ways that both undermined and realized the goals of social justice pedagogy. This analysis serves as the foundation for the development of a curricular framework helping students to foster an Activist Ally identity, the skills, knowledge, and dispositions necessary to negotiate privilege in ways that promote justice. Educating Activist Allies provides a powerful introduction to the ways in which social justice curricula can and should be enacted in communities of privilege.
