Teaching Literature Online:

Taking Literature and Language Learning Online Sandra Stadler-Heer, Amos Paran, 2022-10-20 The use of literary texts in language classrooms is firmly established but new questions arise with the transfer to remote teaching and learning How do we teach literature online How do learners react to being taught literature online Will new genres emerge from the COVID 19 pandemic Is the literary canon changing This volume celebrates the vitality of literary and pedagogic responses to the pandemic and presents research into the phenomena observed in this evolving field One strand of the book discusses literary outputs stimulated by the pandemic as well as past pandemics Another strand looks at the pedagogy of engaging learners with literature online examining learners of different ages and of different proficiency levels and different educational backgrounds including teacher education Finally a third strand looks at the affordances of various technologies for teaching online and the way they interact with literature and with language learning The contributions in this volume take literature teaching online away from static lecturing strategies present numerous options for online teaching and provide research based grounding for the implementation of these pedagogies Teaching Literature at a Distance

Takis Kayalis, Anastasia Natsina, 2011-11-03 Featuring essays by an international array of literature scholars this volume examines the challenges and opportunities of teaching literature at Open and Virtual Universities in a wide range of national cultural and linguistic contexts It presents cutting edge explorations of seminal issues including literature pedagogy and curriculum building canon and theory debates the uses of hypertext and other digital tools for literary instruction the writing and evaluation of educational material and the teaching of digital literature These issues are addressed from various critical and theoretical viewpoints which reflect the contributors long educational and administrative involvement with open and distance learning ODL in a rich diversity of cultural and academic frameworks As the first scholarly attempt to bring together questions of literature pedagogy and issues in open and distance online and blended learning this book is an essential resource for literature instructors and administrators in ODL e learning and b learning programs It offers techniques enabling scholars in more traditional academic settings to make literature courses more effective and stimulating by using tools developed for distance learning Teaching Literature in the Online Classroom

John Miller, Julie Wilhelm, 2022-10-26 Provides guidance for college instructors teaching literature online Topics include interactivity student engagement and inclusivity along with considerations of hypertext video lectures and other asynchronous and synchronous tools Literary subjects include Shakespeare Chinese novels early American literature Octavia Butler and contemporary American poetry

Teaching Literature and Language Online Ian Lancashire, 2009 The essays in this collection illuminate the realities of teaching language and literature courses online Contributors present snapshots of their experiences with online pedagogies realizing that just as this year s technology writes over last year s the approaches and teaching tools they have pioneered will also be obscured by future innovations At the same time the volume describes models that first time teachers of online courses will find useful and provides extensive insights into online education for those who are experienced in teaching blended and open source courses R sum de l diteur Teaching Literature Online Dan Kline,2002-08 Concise and practical Teaching Literature Online provides instructors with strategies and advice for incorporating elements of computer technology into the literature classroom Offering a range of information and examples this manual provides ideas and activities for enhancing literature courses with the help of technology Teaching Literature Online Daniel Anderson,1999

Online Teaching at Its Best Linda B. Nilson,Ludwika A. Goodson,2021-05-13 Bring pedagogy and cognitive science to online learning environments Online Teaching at Its Best Merging Instructional Design with Teaching and Learning Research 2nd Edition is the scholarly resource for online learning that faculty instructional designers and administrators have raved about This book addresses course design teaching and student motivation across the continuum of online teaching modes remote hybrid hyflex and fully online integrating these with pedagogical and cognitive science and grounding its recommendations in the latest research The book will help you design or redesign your courses to ensure strong course alignment and effective student learning in any of these teaching modes Its emphasis on evidence based practices makes this one of the most scholarly books of its kind on the market today This new edition features significant new content including more active learning formats for small groups across the online teaching continuum strategies and tools for scripting and recording effective micro lectures ways to integrate quiz items within micro lectures more conferencing software and techniques to add interactivity and a guide for rapid transition from face to face to online teaching You ll also find updated examples references and quotes to reflect more evolved technology Adopt new pedagogical techniques designed specifically for remote hybrid hyflex and fully online learning environments Ensure strong course alignment and effective student learning for all these modes of instruction Increase student retention build necessary support structures and train faculty more effectively Integrate research based course design and cognitive psychology into graduate or undergraduate programs Distance is no barrier to a great education Online Teaching at Its Best provides practical real world advice grounded in educational and psychological science to help online instructors instructional designers and administrators deliver an exceptional learning experience even under emergency conditions Teaching EFL Online Andrew R. Webster,2012 This work explores the role of the e moderator taking account of the skills required and the processes involved in creating and teaching an online English as a Foreign Language EFL course It also details those theories which are applicable to online learning and how they are represented through various models thus creating a framework to assist the e moderation process In particular Salmon s five stage model 2004 is analysed to assess its effectiveness in helping to prepare a new e moderator to teach in an online environment Qualitative self study research is conducted involving an analysis of the e moderator s reflective journal This method can be particularly insightful uncovering the e moderator s beliefs perceptions and challenges encountered throughout the process Thus in depth data is collected and used in evaluating an approach to e moderation It reveals how Salmon's five stage model and others can be considerably helpful although not sufficient in themselves for successful online teaching and learning. In this regard a critical appraisal and detailed analysis of Salmon's model relating to this research is conducted to assess the skills required to become a successful e-moderator. This research reveals not only the complexities, problems, responsibilities and challenges encountered but also the tremendous rewards that can be reaped from the e-moderation process. Such research can encouragingly provide other practitioners with a valuable insight into the process and leads to recommendations for further research. In conclusion it is apparent that systematic frameworks such as Salmon's five stage model can be extremely useful for effective scaffolding but on their own they are not sufficient to produce a successful e-moderation process. It is suggested therefore that additional support and continual encouragement should be provided to motivate and engage students in both synchronous and asynchronous interactions. Teaching Literature to Adolescents Richard Beach, Deborah Appleman, Bob Fecho, Rob Simon, 2020-12-28. Now in its fourth edition this popular textbook introduces prospective and practicing English teachers to current methods of teaching literature in middle and high school classrooms. This new edition broadens its focus to cover important topics such as critical race theory, perspectives on teaching fiction, nonfiction and drama, the integration of digital literacy and teacher research for ongoing learning and professional development. It underscores the value of providing students with a range of different critical approaches and tools for interpreting texts. It also addresses the need to organize literature instruction around topics and issues of interest to today's adolescents. By using authentic dilemmas and contemporary issues the authors encourage preservice English teachers and their instructors to raise and explore inquiry-based questions that center on the teaching of a variety of literary texts, both classic and contemporary, traditional and digital. New to the Fourth Edition: Expanded attention to digital tools, multimodal learning and teaching online. New examples of teaching contemporary texts. Expanded discussion and illustration of formative assessment. Revised response activities for incorporating young adult literature into the literature curriculum. Real world examples of student work to illustrate how students respond to the suggested strategies. Extended focus on infusing multicultural and diverse literature in the classroom. Each chapter is organized around specific questions that preservice teachers consistently raise as they prepare to become English language arts teachers. The authors model critical inquiry throughout the text by offering authentic case narratives that raise important considerations of both theory and practice. A companion website, a favorite of English education instructors, <http://teachingliterature.pbworks.com> provides resources and enrichment activities, inviting teachers to consider important issues in the context of their current or future classrooms.

Teaching English Online Dr Vasudevan Arunachalam, Dr Rajaram Munisamy, 2022-01-16. The pandemic has made teaching English as a second language more challenging than before. A revamp of teaching strategies was warranted on the part of teachers. English teachers were pushed into adopting all new strategies with an ill-aided technical support and adapting to newer forms of learning. All pressures, social, economic, political, familial, technological, biological and psychological were brought upon them Playing newer roles and employing newer strategies have become inevitable Undertaking the challenge of running online classes is inescapable This book with 23 articles aims at addressing all challenges English teachers face while teaching online and offering solutions
