Critical Pedagogy and Cognition Curry Stephenson Malott, 2011-02-10 This book simultaneously contributes to the fields of critical pedagogy and educational psychology in new and innovative ways by demonstrating how critical pedagogy postformal psychology and Enlightenment science seemingly separate and distinct disciplines are actually part of the same larger contextualized complex whole from the inner most developmentally fixed biological context of human faculties to the perpetually shifting socially and politically constructed context of individual schema and human civilization The text s uniqueness stems from its bold attempt to connect the postformal critical constructivist pedagogy work of Joe Kincheloe and others to Western science through a shared although previously misunderstood critique and rejection of crude forms of social control which the psychologists call behaviorism and Western scientists identify as mechanical philosophy This book therefore argues that critical pedagogy which includes among others anarchist Marxist feminist Indigenous globally conceived Afro Caribbean American and postmodern traditions and critical constructivist educational psychology have much to gain by engaging previously rejected work in critical solidarity that is without compromising one's values or democratic commitments. The goal of this book is therefore to contribute to this vision of developing a more transgressive and transformational educational psychology.

Self-Study and Diversity, 2006-01-01 Self study and Diversity is a book about self study of teaching and teacher education with equity and access as focal issues of practice. Chapters in this book have a shared orientation to diversity grounded in the acknowledgement that educators have a responsibility to address equity and access issues inherent in teaching. To that end individual chapters address such areas of diversity as race ethnicity gender disability and power as well as broader areas of social justice multiculturalism and ways of knowing. Even though the focus in a chapter may be on one particular dimension of diversity the dilemmas and responses of a teacher educator elicited through self study can apply well beyond that immediate context. This broadens the appeal of the book beyond the self study community and beyond specific issues of diversity to people interested in teaching in general and in the process of improving practice. An additional strength of this book is the inclusion in each chapter of information regarding the use of particular strategies both for self study and for teaching for diversity. A separate index of these suggested research and teaching practices will direct the reader to specific chapters.

Decolonizing Foreign Language Education Donaldo Macedo, 2019-01-10 Decolonizing Foreign Language Education interrogates current foreign language and second language education approaches that prioritize white western thought. Edited by acclaimed critical theorist and linguist Donaldo Macedo this volume includes cutting edge work by a select group of critical language scholars working to rigorously challenge the marginalization of foreign language education and the displacement of indigenous and non standard language varieties through the reification of colonial languages. Each chapter confronts the hold of colonialism and imperialism that inform and shape the relationship between foreign language education and literary studies by asserting that a critical approach to applied linguistics is just as important a tool for FL/ESL/EFL educators as literature or linguistic theory.
