Teaching Revising And Editing An Annotated Bibliography:

Teaching Revising and Editing Bruce W. Speck, Dean A. Hinnen, Kathleen Hinnen, 2003-08-30 Teaching Revising and Editing is devoted to the many facets of the writing revising and publication process. It provides a comprehensive overview of the literature over the past 25 years and applies to writing activities in K 12 undergraduate graduate classrooms and the workplace. Each listing is annotated giving readers a great deal of significant information about each source. Over 800 annotated entries for books, articles, reports, bibliographies, and other sources are included. The book is divided into sections on teaching revision and editing in academic and nonacademic settings. Special classroom issues such as teaching learning disabled students, non-native writers, and ESL classes are discussed. And there are sub-sections on business classes, developmental writing classes, and technical writing courses. The nonacademic sections provide sources that cover revising and editing in the general workplace and writing material for newspaper and magazine submissions. Detailed author and subject indexes will help readers find specific topics of interest.

Teaching Revising and Editing Bruce Speck, 2006 To Improve the Academy Douglas Reimondo Robertson, Linda B. Nilson, 2007-10-12 An annual publication of the Professional and Organizational Development Network in Higher Education. POD To Improve the Academy offers a resource for improvement in higher education to faculty and instructional development staff, department chairs, faculty deans, student services staff, chief academic officers, and educational consultants.

A Poetics of Editing Susan L. Greenberg, 2018-09-03 This original and authoritative book offers a first ever attempt to define a poetics of the editing arts. It proposes a new field of editing studies in which the ideal editor can be understood in relation to the long theorised author and reader. The book's premise is that editing, like other forms of making, is mostly invisible and can only be brought into full view through a comparative analysis that includes the insights of practitioners. The argument laid down in careful layers is supported by a panoramic historical narrative that tracks the shifts in textual authority from religious and secular institutions to the romanticised self of the digital present. The dangers posed by the anti-editing rhetoric of this hybrid romanticism are confronted head-on. To the traditional perception of editing as the imposition of closure, A Poetics of Editing adds a perspective on a dynamic process with a sense of the possible.

The Routledge Handbook of Magazine Research David Abrahamson, Marcia R. Prior-Miller, 2015-06-05 Scholarly engagement with the magazine form has in the last two decades produced a substantial amount of valuable research. Authored by leading academic authorities in the study of magazines, the chapters in The Routledge Handbook of Magazine Research not only create an architecture to organize and archive the developing field of magazine research but also suggest new avenues of future investigation. Each of 33 chapters surveys the last 20 years of scholarship in its subject area, identifying the major research themes, theoretical developments, and interpretive breakthroughs. British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2005 Handbook of Research on Writing Charles Bazerman, 2009-03-04 The Handbook of Research on Writing ventures to sum up inquiry over the last few decades on what we know about writing and the many ways we know it How do people write How do they learn to write and develop as writers Under what conditions and for what purposes do people write What resources and technologies do we use to write How did our current forms and practices of writing emerge within social history What impacts has writing had on society and the individual What does it mean to be and to learn to be an active participant in contemporary systems of meaning This cornerstone volume advances the field by aggregating the broad ranging interdisciplinary multidimensional strands of writing research and bringing them together into a common intellectual space Endeavoring to synthesize what has been learned about writing in all nations in recent decades it reflects a wide scope of international research activity with attention to writing at all levels of schooling and in all life situations Chapter authors all eminent researchers come from disciplines as diverse as anthropology archeology typography communication studies linguistics journalism sociology rhetoric composition law medicine education history and literacy studies The Handbook s 37 chapters are organized in five sections The History of Writing Writing in Society Writing in Schooling Writing and the Individual Writing as Text This volume in summing up what is known about writing deepens our experience and appreciation of writing in ways that will make teachers better at teaching writing and all of its readers better as individual writers It will be interesting and useful to scholars and researchers of writing to anyone who teaches writing in any context at any level and to all those who are just curious about writing

Resources in Education, 1998 The Write Genre Lori Jamison Rog, 2004 Discover a balanced approach to writing workshop that is organized around writing genres and uses specific writing skills to help students write creative effective fiction and nonfiction Bulletin of Bibliography, 1991 Research in Education, 1974 Evaluating Children's Writing Suzanne Bratcher, Linda Ryan, 2003-09-12 Introduces statement from preface about application activities for a wide range of writing evaluation strategies elementary classroom teachers can use to determine a grade Txtbk for undergrad graduate elementary language arts writing methods courses CCCC Bibliography of Composition and Rhetoric 1994 Gail E. Hawisher, Cynthia L. Selfe, 1996-09 This volume lists and annotates more than two thousand articles books dissertations and papers that with few exceptions appeared in 1994. It includes an index of authors and editors, a subject index, and entries cross-referenced according to subject matter. The 1994 Bibliography looks dramatically different from the Bibliography Erika Lindemann founded more than ten years ago. Many more titles now relate to fields not represented in early editions. Although composition and rhetoric has always borrowed methods of investigation from other disciplines, areas such as critical theory, science studies, feminist theory, technology studies, and postmodern theory were much less a part of the discipline a decade ago. These fields are well represented this year. This volume like the 1993 Bibliography also differs from early editions in that it contains a section on electronic discussion groups or listservs including information on how readers may join the various groups. Yet the mission and goals of the Bibliography remain the same to ensure that it is sufficiently comprehensive that it can continue to function as a major bibliographical resource available to scholars and teachers in rhetoric, composition, communication, and literary education. As usual, the CCCC Bibliography of Composition and Rhetoric draws on a large group of experts in the field. Annotations which accompany every entry in this volume describe a publication's contents and are intended to help users determine the entry's usefulness. Annotations are brief and are meant to be descriptive, not evaluative; they explain what an entry is about but leave readers free to judge for themselves the work's merits. The CCCC Bibliography of Composition and Rhetoric remains a critical bibliographical resource, one that reflects and respects the variety of scholarship in composition studies and that exerts a constructive, productive influence on the composition and rhetoric community.
