Article I—Purpose

Technical Divisions shall be established to provide focus on the Institute's recognized technical strengths. The Technical Divisions are focal points of the Institute for information and activities related to their specialties. They are responsible for making recommendations in all areas related to their specialties, for encouraging publication of articles on their topical interests in the Journal of the Institute of Nuclear Materials Management (JNMM), and may organize workshop meeting or seminars as they deem appropriate. Technical Divisions can be established in the following manner:

- a. A recommendation is made to the INMM Executive Committee by the Immediate Past Chair of the Institute; and
- b. The recommendation is endorsed by the majority vote of the Executive Committee.

A general guideline to be followed in providing a recommendation shall be the demonstrated interest by the Institute membership that a Technical Division is warranted. A metric for consideration is the involvement by the Institute membership in the specific technical strength in the Technical Program of Annual Meeting of the Institute.

Each Technical Division shall have a Charter, as approved by the majority vote of the Executive Committee. All Charters of the Technical Divisions shall be attached as an Appendix to this document. A review of all Technical Divisions shall occur on an annual basis, at the fall meeting of the Institute's Executive Committee, and this document shall be signed and acknowledged by the present INMM Chair and Technical Division Chairs.

The Chair of a Technical Division shall be nominated by the Chair of the Institute, and appointment shall require the majority vote of the Executive Committee. Appointments shall be reviewed and approved on an annual basis by the Executive Committee at the fall meeting.

A Technical Division, at the discretion of the Technical Division Chair, can identify and establish standing committees to further provide focus on specific technological areas that reflect the descriptions and responsibilities of the Division's Charter. The Chair of each standing committee shall, promptly after his/her appointment, prepare a charter describing the proposed scope of the activities of the standing committee, and shall submit it to the Division Chair. Upon approval thereof by the Division Chair, the charter shall constitute the official charter of the standing committee.
