Soviet Policy In The Far East 1944 1951:

Chinese-Soviet Relations, 1937-1945 John W. Garver, 1988-09-08 During the Sino Japanese war of 1937 1945 the Chinese people suffered great degradation at the hands of the Japanese The spectacle of China s debasement as well as the very real prospect of the restoration of alien rule incensed nationalist passions throughout China As the military economic and political crises deepened three different Chinese regimes emerged the Chinese Communist Party CCP Chinese Nationalist Party or Kuomintang KMT and the pro Japanese government headed by Wang Jingwei all competing for nationalist legitimacy Through an exhaustive and meticulous examination of available resources John Garver here illuminates the complicated relationship between these different variants in Chinese nationalism and the Soviet Union during this period In doing so Garver elucidates the diplomacy of Chiang Kai shek and the Chinese Nationalists the inner history of Chinese Communist relations with the Soviet Union and the intersection of these two themes within the larger context of international relations in East Asia and the world

Mongolia in the Twentieth Century Stephen Kotkin, Bruce Allen Elleman, 2015-02-12 The remote vastness of Mongolia has remained somewhat of a mystery to most Westerners no less so in the 20th century Homeland of the legendary conqueror Chingiz Khan in modern times Mongolia itself has been the object of imperial rivalry For most of the 20th century it was under Soviet domination Mikhail Gorbachev began the withdrawal of Soviet troops from Mongolia in 1989 a process completed in 1992 By 1996 a coalition of opposition parties triumphed in national elections and Mongolia launched itself on a new course It is perhaps the most intriguing of the post community transition societies This volume examines Mongol history over the past century embracing not only Mongolia proper but also Mongol communities in Russia and China Contributions based on new archival research and the latest fieldwork are from the world s top experts in the field including four authors from Mongolia and others from Japan Russia Taiwan Great Britain and the United States Stephen Kotkin s introductory chapter is an overview of Mongol studies The essays in part 1 examine Sino Russian competition over Outer Mongolia Part 2 looks at international diplomacy in Mongolia including the role of Japan Part 3 focuses on contemporary issues ranging from economic and cultural change to emergent elites A concluding essay surveys Mongolian foreign policy

Cohesion and Conflict in International Communism Peter Mayer, 2012-12-06 The current conflict which threatens the very existence of the inter national communist movement as a single coherent entity must be looked for in the roots of Marxian philosophy The central concept of pre Leninist communism is contained in the notion of proletarian internationalism Yet the emergence of the communist party states has been squarely predicated on the requirements of single national states as viewed through the training and experience of the various communist leaders. Thus the Soviet version has been shaped by the nationalism of Lenin, Stalin and Khrushchev. The only aberrant case, the internationalism of Trotsky, was doomed to failure. The Chinese version of communism has as its root concepts the spirit of prolonged struggle against a superior enemy whose ultimate defeat is ensured through the dialectics of political growth. The non communist societies are by definition decadent. The movement came to power by exploiting the nationalism engendered within China by the Japanese invasion. Its mass support was based on the peasantry although the transparent fiction of proletarian leadership was strictly maintained. Further, communism is a term which has lost its original encompassing definition. Peking now narrowly defines it as policies consonant with the thought of Mao Tse tung. Thus both the Soviet and the Chinese interpretation of communism are based on a concept which was anathema to the intellectual founders of the movement.

Russia and China Alekseï Dmitrievich Voskresenskiï, 2003. This study incorporates elements from the disciplines of international relations and history to address key international and domestic elements that have shaped the interactions between Russia and China over time. It demonstrates how changes in the inter state relationship were and are initiated. Controversial issues are examined through previously unobtainable materials from sources including the Archives of Foreign Policy of the Russian Empire, the Archives of Foreign Policy of the Russian Federation and the Russian Centre for the Preservation and Research of the Documents of Modern History.
