Soviet Scholasticism:

Soviet Scholasticism J.E. Blakeley, 2012-12-06 The present work is a study of the method of contemporary Soviet philosophy By Soviet philosophy we mean philosophy as published in the Soviet Union For practical purposes we have limited our attention to Soviet sources in Russian in spite of the fact that Soviet philosophical works are also published in other languages see B 2029 21 38 The term method is taken in the sense usual in Western books on methodology 1 In view of the content of the first chapter it will be useful to explain the last term a little more fully By method we mean a procedure and it is obvious that the principles according to which a procedure is carried out are rules i e imperatives which tell us not what is but what should be done Such imperatives may or may not be connected with and founded on certain descriptive statements the fact that every rule of formal logic is based on a corresponding law has been well known since Husserl's Logische Untersuchungen and is generally accepted in contemporary logic but such a foundation is irrelevant to a methodological study The object of such a study is to find out what these rules are why they are accepted and how they are inter connected and applied This is how methodology the science of method is conceived in Western treatises on the subject and this is also the standpoint assumed here preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant Soviet Historiography of Philosophy Evert van der Zweerde, 2013-06-29 Scientific history of philosophy was one of the professional branches of Soviet philosophy and a place where philosophical culture was preserved in an often hostile environment Situated between the ideological exigencies of the Soviet system with its Marxist Leninist theoretical foundation and the need for an objective account of philosophy's past Soviet history of philosophy displays the characteristic features of Soviet philosophy as a whole including a forceful reappearance of its Hegelian background This book is the only Western monograph on this important part of Soviet philosophy thus filling the last main gap in Western Philosophical Sovietology At the same time it offers the first survey of Soviet philosophy after the disappearance of the Soviet system itself embarking on an historical and meta philosophical investigation of Soviet philosophical culture The book will be of interest to students of Soviet and Russian philosophy historians of philosophy and specialists in Soviet studies Vices of the Learned Sjang ten Hagen, Herman Paul, 2025-11-27 Why are professors still warning their students against dogmatism prejudice pedantry and other centuries old vices What explains the persistence of these scholarly vices across the ages With case studies from medieval Europe to twenty first century America Vices of the Learned offers a panoramic overview of qualities habits and inclinations that scholars at various times and places saw as detrimental to their work Innovative is the volume's longue durée approach The volume breaks new ground in highlighting the importance of low genres aphorisms proverbs anecdotes and stereotypical figures the pedant the charlatan the mammon in transmitting vices over time The New Scholasticism Edward Aloysius Pace, James Hugh Ryan, 1963 Includes section Book Reviews The Philosophical Foundations of Soviet Aesthetics Edward M. Swiderski, 1979-07-31 0 1 GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF THE PROBLEMATIC This study is devoted to an examination of a concept of crucial significance for Soviet aesthetics the concept of the aesthetic estheticskoe Soviet aestheticians have for some time already been trying to design a concept of the aesthetic that would satisfy on the one hand the requirements of aesthetic phenomena and on the other hand the principles of the Marxist Leninist world view The first part of this work shows how the concept of the aesthetic has been and continues to be problematic for Soviet aestheticians This task is carried out by dwelling first of all on the controversies among Soviet aestheticians concerning meta aesthetic issues viz the nature and scope of aesthetics as well as its place among other philosophical and non philosophical disciplines A particularly clear view of the problems that have traditionally pre occupied Soviet aestheticians is provided by an examination of what they standardly call the method of aesthetics where method is understood in the sense of an explanatory framework rather than in the strict logico scientific sense of the term This discussion will provide the occasion to pass in review the main periods of Soviet aesthetics and the characteristic aspects of each The chapter on the sources of contemporary Marxist Leninist aesthetics brings into relief the lack of a homogeneous tradition in the question of the nature of the aesthetic and other related problems Marxist Ethical Theory in the Soviet Union P.T. Grier, 2012-12-06

A survey of the intellectual history of Marxism through its several phases and various national adaptations suggests for any of at least three reasons that the attempt to provide a widely acceptable summary of Marxist ethics must be an enterprise with little prospect of success. First a number of prominent Marxists have insisted that Marxism can have no ethics because its status as a science precludes bias toward or the assumption of any particular ethical standpoint. On this view it would be no more reasonable to expect an ethics of Marxism than of any other form of social science. Second basing themselves on the opposite assumption an equally prominent assortment of Marxist intellectuals have lamented the absence of a coherently developed Marxist ethics as a deficiency which must be remedied. Third less commonly Marxism is sometimes alleged to possess no developed ethical theory because it is exclusively committed to advocacy of class egoism on behalf of the proletariat and is thus rooted in a prudential not a moral standpoint. The advocacy of proletarian class egoism or revolutionary morality may strictly speaking constitute an ethical standpoint but it might be regarded as a peculiar waste of time for a convinced and consistent class egoist to develop precise formulations of his ethical views for the sake of convincing an abstract audience of classless and impartial rational observers which does not happen to exist at present.

Studies in Soviet Thought J.M. Bochenski, J.E. Blakeley, 2012-12-06 Early in 1958 a number of research projects on Soviet philosophy were started at the Institute of East European Studies at the University of Fribourg Switzerland under the direction of the undersigned. At present they are all completed or nearly so and their results are described in 18 different volumes. In spite of the fact that all of them have been already published or soon will be mostly in German it has been thought worthwhile to present their main conclusions in the form of short English reports. This book contains in the main these reports. Only the two programmatic papers my own and that of Dr Buchholz and the study of Dr Dahm are not direct results of the above mentioned projects. But it will be clear to everyone that they too are closely connected with the subject envisaged and are written from a similar point of view. It will perhaps be convenient to briefly formulate this standpoint. All the writings included here are concerned with recent i.e. mainly post Stalinist developments in Soviet philosophy where Soviet is taken in the wide meaning of the word covering also Marxism Leninism in Communist countries other than the Soviet Union. All the authors started with the assumption that there are interesting aspects to these more recent developments. There was also a common assumption that only specialized work on first hand sources can be of relevance in this field.

Soviet Russian Dialectical Materialism [Diamat] J.E. Blakeley, 2012-12-06 This book offers a critical outline of the sources of the history of the spirit and of the doctrines of present day Soviet Russian Dialectical Materialism Diamat i.e. of the philosophical foundations of Marxism Leninism. It is scarcely necessary to stress the usefulness of a short outline of this kind as Russian sources are not easily accessible in the West and as it is of considerable interest to know the doctrines which make up the faith of the Communists in all countries. The material for this book was first made public in a series of lectures at the University of Fribourg Switzerland first in French in the summer term of 1949 later in English at the Summer School in the same year. The French text slightly expanded was translated into German by Miss M Hoerkens Dipl rer pol Various imperfections in the wording of the text and in the bibliography can be explained by the process of formation of this book The author hopes that such imperfections will not prove disturbing
