partners in the Council for Mutual Economic Assistance in exchange for political military and ideological support an argument that Professor Holzman strongly challenges He also contends that CMEA when viewed as a preferential trade group or customs union has been markedly unsuccessful On another level Professor Holzman assesses the causes and possible cures for the serious chronic problems related to currency inconvertibility rigid bilateralism and inability to use exchange rates as tools of economic adjustment In an international economy growing ever more interdependent the issues raised in these previously uncollected essays will continue to gain in importance as East and West meet in trade
