Soviet Marxism And Natural Science 1917 1932:

Soviet Marxism and Natural Science David Joravsky, 2013-04-15 Originally published in 1961 Russian Marxist philosophy of science originated among men and women who gave their whole lives to rebellion against established authority The original tension within Marxist philosophy between positivism and metaphysics was repressed but not resolved in this first phase of Soviet Marxism In this volume the author correlates the development of ideas with trends in the Cultural Revolution and against this background it is possible to understand why debates over general philosophy gave way to conflicts over specific sciences in the aftermath of the first Five Year Plan and why there was a genuine crisis in Soviet biology The Menshevik Leaders in the Russian Revolution Ziva Galili, 2019-02-19 At the end of February 1917 the tsarist government of Russia collapsed in a whirlwind of demonstrations by the workers and soldiers of Petrograd Ziva Galili tells how the moderate socialists or Mensheviks then attempted to prevent the conflicts between the newly formed liberal Provisional Government the bourgeois camp and the Petrograd Soviet the democratic camp from escalating into civil war and how in October of that same year they finally failed Placing narrative history in a broad social and political context she creates an absorbing study of idealists who tried in vain to reflect as well as to contain the unfolding revolutionary process Galili focuses on the Menshevik Revolutionary Defensists who became the leaders of the Petrograd Soviet and of the all Russian network of soviets She examines Menshevik political strategy as well as the three way interaction between Mensheviks both in the Soviet and the Provisional Government workers and industrialists She emphasizes the perceptual and interactive aspects of the analysis of revolutions the relations between social realities perceptions of realities and the formulation of political strategies the roles of rhetorics and societal conflict in shaping social identities and the impact of political authority and state institutions on the terms of social interaction Ziva Galili is Associate Professor of History at Rutgers University She is coeditor and annotator of The Making of Three Russian Revolutions series Voice from the Menshevik Past Cambridge Studies of the Harriman Institute Columbia University Originally published in 1989 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 The A to Z of Marxism David Walker, Daniel Gray, 2009-08-13 Marxism one of the few philosophies that turned into an effective movement was not so long ago the official ideology in one form or another of much of humanity It was initially promulgated by the Soviet Union then imposed on Central and Eastern Europe later emerged in the People's Republic of China and gradually spread to other parts of Asia Africa and Latin America Although declining in popularity the movement still remains in power in several countries and is supported by numerous parties and countless individuals around the world The A to Z of Marxism covers in a
