Soviet Philosophy A General Introduction To Contemporary Soviet Thought Sovietica:

Soviet Philosophy J.E. Blakeley, 2012-01-07 Soviet Philosophy Thomas J. Blakeley, 1964-07-31 Soviet Historiography of Philosophy Evert van der Zweerde, 2013-06-29 Scientific history of philosophy was one of the professional branches of Soviet philosophy and a place where philosophical culture was preserved in an often hostile environment Situated between the ideological exigencies of the Soviet system with its Marxist Leninist theoretical foundation and the need for an objective account of philosophy's past Soviet history of philosophy displays the characteristic features of Soviet philosophy as a whole including a forceful reappearance of its Hegelian background This book is the only Western monograph on this important part of Soviet philosophy thus filling the last main gap in Western Philosophical Sovietology At the same time it offers the first survey of Soviet philosophy after the disappearance of the Soviet system itself embarking on an historical and meta philosophical investigation of Soviet philosophical culture The book will be of interest to students of Soviet and Russian philosophy historians of philosophy and specialists in Soviet studies Soviet Philosophy J.E. Blakeley, 2012-12-06 Handbook of World Philosophy John R. Burr, 1980-12-30 The Dispute Settlement Reports of the World Trade Organization WTO include Panel and Appellate Body reports as well as arbitration awards in disputes concerning the rights and obligations of WTO members under the provisions of the Marrakesh Agreement Establishing the World Trade Organization These are the WTO authorized and paginated reports in English An essential addition to the library of all practising and academic trade lawyers and needed by students worldwide taking courses in international economic or trade law Among others DSR 2007 I reports on United States Measures Relating to Zeroing and Sunset Reviews The Problem of Freedom in Marxist Thought J.J. O'Rourke, 2012-12-06 This study seeks to present the theory of freedom as found in one line of the Marxist tradition that which begins with Marx and Engels and continues through Lenin to contemporary Soviet philosophy Although the primary goal is simply to describe how freedom is conceived by the thinkers of this tradition an attempt is also made to ascertain whether or not their views are strongly deterministic as has often been presumed by Western commentators is in order regarding the scope of the term contemporary A remark Soviet philosophy The Soviet stage in Marxist philosophy stretches back to the 1917 revolution However for the purposes of this study only works published after 1947 were examined and the vast majority of them date from the 1960's Apart from the fact that most works of previous periods were not available bibliographical indications such as the titles of the articles in Pod znamenem marksizma did not suggest that the theory of freedom was then a major concern In fact even 1947 there was little development of this theme until the upsurge after of works in philosophical anthropology during the last decade On the other hand it is not being suggested that the conception of freedom found in recent writings is representative of earlier Soviet philosophy during the Stalinist dead period or earlier Only further research could establish that This work was presented as a doctoral dissertation at the University of Fribourg Switzerland under the direction of Professor J M The Soviet Critique of Neopositivism W.F. Boeselager, 2012-12-06 The first of the people to be thanked for their help during the composition of this work is Professor I M Bochenski under whom I had the good fortune to study for an extended period of time Without his help it is doubtful that this work would have been written at all Among the other professors who helped along the way I would like to cite in particular Professors A F Utz M D Philippe and N Luyten of the University of Fribourg Many friends were present at the birth of the ideas contained in this book By naming K G Ballestrem T I Blakeley and M F Gagern I do not want to slight any of the rest It was A Spiekermann in Hollinghofen who saw to it that other preoccupations did not rob me of all the time needed for the study of the subject matter and to the composition of this treatise Of particular help in getting sources from the libraries of the world were Miss Lifschitz of the Institute of East European Studies and Mr Uldry of the Cantonal Library in Fribourg Switzerland Finally my patient typist Mrs Frey in Munster deserves special mention for her beautiful work

Short Handbook of Communist Ideology H. Fleischer, 2012-12-06 We have once again decided to publish in our series a source text for the study of Communist ideology This synopsis of Principles of Marxism Leninism 1 published at the end of 1959 and widely distributed in the Soviet Union appears as a sequel to that of the Principles of Marxist Philosophy which I published in 1959 as The Dogmatic Principles of Soviet Philosophy This book is a corporate work done by some forty Soviet philosophers sociologists economists Party theoreticians and propagandists under the direction of O V Kuusinen member of the Praesidium of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union Except for a few clarifications we have restricted ourselves to presenting the most important parts of the original text in an original translation which provides the material in an authentic and handy form for our Institute's courses in Sovietology In comparison to the other parts the philosophical portions Sections 1 and 2 have been held to a minimum since they repeat for the most part material which is already available in the synopsis of the Principles of Marxist Philosophy I wish to thank the Rockefeller Foundation for their support which has made possible the research of our Institute as well as the preparation of the present work J M BOCHENSKI 1 The original Russian title is Osnovy marksizma leninizma Uchebnoe posobie Text book Gosudarstvennoe izdatel'stvo politicheskoy literatury State Publishing House for Political Literature Moskva 1959 774 pages 300 000 copies

The Library Catalogs of the Hoover Institution on War, Revolution, and Peace, Stanford University Hoover Institution on War, Revolution, and Peace, 1969 Russia and America: A Philosophical Comparison W.J. Gavin, J.E. Blakeley, 1976-12-31 In this year of bicentennial celebration there will no doubt take place several cultural analyses of the American tradition This is only as it should be for without an extensive broad based inquiry into where we have come from we shall surely not foresee where we might go Nonetheless most cultural analyses of the American context suffer from a common fault the lack of a different context to use for purposes of comparison True American values and ideals were partly inherited from the European tradition But that tradition is in many ways an inadequate mode of comparison Without going too far afield let us note two points first European culture was the proud inheritor of the Renaissance tradition and going back still further of classical culture second the European countries are compact Their land masses are such that the notion of frontier simply would not have arisen in the same way as it did in America On the other side of the globe however there does exist a country capable of serving as a suitable mirror We speak of course of Russia That country also came relatively late onto the cultural horizon and was not privy to the Renaissance tradition Furthermore her land mass is such as to be experientially infinite in character not unlike the American frontier It is hoped that much can be learned about the present cultural context by comparing the two countries in their youthful stages
