

The diagram illustrates the interaction between a spacecraft and its environment. On the left, a spacecraft is shown in profile, moving towards the right. Three horizontal arrows point from the spacecraft towards the right, representing the flow of the environment. On the right, a large, curved, semi-transparent surface represents the spacecraft's bow shock or magnetopause. Inside this surface, there are concentric, wavy lines representing magnetic field lines or plasma density contours. A small, detailed spacecraft is shown on the right side of the diagram, positioned within the region of the wavy lines, indicating its position relative to the bow shock.
