Constructing Sexualities and Gendered Bodies in School Spaces Jón Ingvar Kjartan, 2017-02-20 This book sheds light on how sexuality and gender intersect in producing heteronormativity within the school system in Iceland In spite of recent support for progressive policies regarding sexual and gender equality in the country there remains a discrepancy between policy and practice with respect to LGBTQ rights and attitudes within the school system This book draws on ethnographic data and interviews with LGBTQ students in high schools across the country and reveals that although Nordic countries are sometimes portrayed as queer utopias the school system in Iceland has a long road ahead in making schools more inclusive for all students

Boys, Bodies, and Physical Education Göran Gerdin, 2017-01-12 Using visual ethnography this book explores the many forms of pleasures that boys derive in and through the spaces and their bodies in physical education Employing the works of Michel Foucault and Judith Butler Gerdin examines how pleasure is connected to identity schooling and power relations and demonstrates how discourses of sport fitness health and masculinity work together to produce a variety of pleasurable experiences At the same time the book provides a critique of such pleasurable experiences within physical education by illustrating how these pleasures can still for some boys quickly turn into displeasures and can be associated with exclusion humiliation bullying and homophobia Boys Bodies and Physical Education argues that pleasure can both be seen as an educational and productive practice in physical education but also a constraint that both engenders and privileges some boys over others as well as reproducing narrow and limited conceptions of masculinity and pleasures for all boys This book works to problematize these pleasures and their articulations with gender bodies and spaces
