Bertuglia, Manfred M. Fischer, Giorgio Preto, 2012-12-06 The pressures of global competition are affecting regions throughout the world and making it increasingly necessary to understand the complex underlying mechanisms and the potential for innovation offered by new technology Success in economic restructuring depends not only on the technology itself but the professional and entrepreneurial skills available and the support of provided by institutions and information networks The very local nature these phenomena which are critical to the innovative propensity of firms operating within the region introduces an inevitable spatial dimension The time therefore seems ripe to bring together contributions from scholars working in different but related disciplines with the aim of investigating the triangular relationship between technological change economic development and space The present volume offers a compact review of current theoretical developments and valuable insights deriving from recent empirical studies carried out both within Europe and elsewhere All those contributing to this volume are actively involved in research in the field Without their intellectual contribution and willingness to participate in this joint project the book would not have been possible We should like in addition to thank Angela Spence for her capable assistance in coordinating the various stages of preparation of the book as well as her translation work and careful linguistic editing Thanks also go to Paola Stasi for her meticulous copy editing and help in preparing the indices Their work has been invaluable in moulding together in a single volume contributions from so many different sources

Technological Change and Regional Development in Europe Ludwig Schätzl, Javier Revilla Diez, 2012-12-06 This book presents the findings of the extensive research programme funded by the Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft German Research Council and entitled Technological Change and Regional Development in Europe The goal of this programme was to carry out research by means of empirical surveys into the relationship between technological change and regional development Over a period of six years a total of 50 research projects have been undertaken in three phases each lasting two years This research programme has succeeded in actively involving leading German regional scientists from many universities as well as non university research institutions In addition numerous research projects were carried out in close co operation with internationally renowned partners We should like to express our gratitude for the support provided by the Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft Without their financial backing of the research programme it would not have been possible to undertake such an ambitious project Thanks also go to the contributors of this volume for their willingness to participate in our joint project We wish in addition to acknowledge the contribution of Prof Dr Philip Cooke whose refereeing of the chapters has enhanced the quality of the work presented here Finally our thanks go to Angela Spence for her expert editorial assistance linguistic editing and the preparation of the Index and also Franco Vaio for taking care of the technical aspects and production of the final copy Their combined efforts have been crucial for successfully bringing together contributions from so many different authors in a single volume

Frontiers in Regional Development Y. Gradus, Harvey Lithwick, 1996 In fifteen insightful new essays noted scholars in geography economics and public policy provide a comparative examination of the problems and prospects for development in frontier areas Blending theory with case studies the essays challenge the widely held notion that peripheral areas are marginal or backward

Diffusion of Technologies and Social Behavior Nebojsa Nakicenovic, Arnulf Grübler, 2013-03-14 Wee felt it before in sense but now we know it by science Edward Misselden 1623 The collective effort reported in this volume is the outcome of the diffusion of the idea of diffusion as a fundamental process in society The considerable number of disciplines represented here indicates the weight of the problem area The editors are to be congratulated for their initiative in drawing together present thinking at a vivid meeting now also in print An old timer in the business has not much to add But maybe some things bearing in mind that a Preface is a celebration and not a review As always with ideas it is hard to identify those who first gave shape to the idea of diffusion In a general sense it is probably an observation as old as human self reflection that groups of populations exchange ideas and copy habits and implements from each other Sometimes it has even been recommended as a Chinese proverb suggested millenia ago If you want to become a good farmer look at your neighbor
