Context and Culture in Language Teaching Claire Kramsch,1993-06-17 This book takes cultural knowledge in language learning not only as a necessary aspect of communicative competence but as an educational objective in its own right If the aim of foreign language education is to foster cross cultural awareness and self realization language pedagogy needs to come to grips with a range of fundamental issues what do we mean by cultural context Can discourse practices be taught like rules of grammar What role does literature play in the development of second language literacy How can learners acquire both an insider s and an outsider s understanding of the foreign culture as expressed through its language By exploring these and other issues the book can help language teachers reflect on their profession and place it within its larger societal and educational context In turn they can help learners become not only skilful users of the language but also active architects of a new cross cultural world order

Context and Culture in Language Teaching and Learning Michael Byram,Peter Grundy,2003 The now familiar forces of globalisation and internationalisation are influencing the role and significance of language teaching and learning in contemporary classrooms This affects the ways in which English is taught and learnt in particular but is also an inevitable factor in all language teaching and learning The authors of the chapters in this book all share a concern to explore the ways in which the contexts in which language teaching takes place impact on the aims and the methods of language teaching Some do so by discussing the implications for what research we do and how we do it Kramsch for example explains in detail how her own research evolves from issues which arise in the classroom In other chapters the changing nature of the teaching of English is presented from empirical research Decke Cornill for example identifies different philosophies of language teaching among different kinds of English teacher in Germany Other authors present studies of the ways in which what learners bring to the learning process from their own contexts and languages has to be taken into consideration if we are to understand language learning Holme shows this from close analysis of the acquisition of metaphorical language and Wendt argues for the importance of a social constructivist theory of language learning Our common purpose is to take a fresh look at teaching and research through the perspective of the inevitable connections between contexts cultures and classrooms
