Transforming Teaching and Learning Through Data-driven Decision Making Ellen Beth Mandinach, Sharnell S. Jackson, 2016 Gathering data and using it to inform instruction is a requirement for many schools yet educators are not necessarily formally trained in how to do it This book helps bridge the gap between classroom practice and the principles of educational psychology Teachers will find cutting edge advances in research and theory on human learning and teaching in an easily understood and transferable format The text's integrated model shows teachers school leaders and district administrators how to establish a data culture and transform quantitative and qualitative data into actionable knowledge based on assessment statistics instructional and differentiated psychology and classroom management Teacher Decision-Making in the Classroom John Eggleston, 2018-10-03 Making decisions is one of the main activities of the teacher's work Considered or apparently unconsidered these decisions significantly affect the lives of all who work in classrooms both children and the teachers themselves Originally published in 1979 the aim of this collection of papers was to achieve greater understanding of classroom decision making and its consequences to identify and map existing knowledge and to indicate where it might be augmented The contributors were researchers and teachers from schools universities and colleges at the time and they examine the process of teacher decision making from sociological psychological economic and other perspectives The book includes a detailed analysis of life in the classroom from a phenomenological perspective explorations based on micro economic techniques and structural perspectives on the role of the teacher in the school The concluding papers examine the possibilities for social change given the constraints on the work of the teacher Doorways to Decision Making J. Doyle Casteel, Robert John Stahl, 1997 Shows teachers how to plan design and construct classroom activities that teach practical decision making strategies Teaching As Decision Making Marvin Pasch, 1998-01-01 Teaching As Decision Making Georgia Langer, 1996-01-01 How to Teach Decision-making Skills to Elementary and Secondary Students William J. Stewart, 1988 Using Data in Schools to Inform Leadership and Decision Making Alex J. Bowers, Alan R. Shoho, Bruce G. Barnett, 2014-11-01 Our fifth book in the International Research on School Leadership series focuses on the use of data in schools and districts as useful information for leadership and decision making Schools are awash in data and information from test scores to grades to discipline reports and attendance as just a short list of student information sources while additional streams of data feed into schools and districts from teachers and parents as well as local regional and national policy levels To deal with the data schools have implemented a variety of data practices from data rooms to data days data walks and data protocols However despite the flood of data successful school leaders are leveraging an analysis of their school's data as a means to bring about continuous improvement in an effort to improve instruction for all students Nevertheless some drown some swim while others find success Our goal in this book volume is to bring together a set of chapters by authors who examine successful data use as it relates to leadership and school improvement In particular the chapters in this volume consider important issues in this domain including How educational leaders use data to inform their practice What types of data and data analysis are most useful to successful school leaders To what extent are data driven and data informed practices helping school leaders positively change instructional practice In what ways does good data collection and analysis feed into successful continuous improvement and holistic systems thinking How have school leadership practices changed as more data and data analysis techniques have become available What are the major obstacles facing school leaders when using data for decision making and how do they overcome them
