Towards a Twenty-First-Century Feminist Politics of Music Sally Macarthur,2016-02-24 Towards a Twenty First Century Feminist Politics of Music opens up a new way of thinking about the absence of women s music It does not aim to find a solution in a liberal feminist sense but to discover new potentialities new possibilities for thought and action Sally Macarthur encourages us with the assistance of Deleuze and feminist Deleuzian work to begin the important work of imagining what else might be possible not in order to provide answers but to open up the as yet unknown The power of thought or what Deleuze calls the virtual opens up new possibilities Macarthur suggests that the future for women s new music is not tied to the predictable and known but to futures beyond the already known Previous research concludes that women s music is virtually absent from the concert hall and yet fails to find a way of changing this situation Macarthur finds that the flaw in the recommendations flowing from past research is that it envisages the future from the standpoint of the present and it relies on a set of pre determined goals It thus replicates the present reality so reinforcing rather than changing the status quo Macarthur challenges this thinking and argues that this repetitive way of thinking is stuck in the present unable to move forward Macarthur situates her argument in the context of current dominant neoliberal thought and practice She argues that women have generally not thrived in the neoliberal model of the composer which envisages the composer as an individual autonomous creator and entrepreneur Successful female composers must work with this dominant modernist aesthetic and exploit the image of the neo romantic entrepreneurial creator This book sets out in contrast to develop a new conception of subjectivity that sows the seeds of a twenty first century feminist politics of music

Restoring the First-century Church in the Twenty-first Century Warren Lewis, Hans Rollmann, 2005-10-15 Restoring the First century Church in the Twenty first Century Essays on the Stone Campbell Restoration Movement in Honor of Don Haymes is a snap shot of a major American religious movement just after the turn of the millennium When the Disciples of Alexander Campbell and the Christians of Barton Warren Stone joined forces early in the 19th century the first indigenous ecumenical movement in the United States came into being Two hundred years later this American experiment in biblical primitivism has resulted in three possibly four large segments Best known is the Christian Church Disciples of Christ active wherever ecumenical Christians gather The denomination is typically theologically open having been reshaped by theological Liberalism and the Social Gospel in the twentieth century and has been re organized on the model of other Protestant bodies The largest group the Churches of Christ easily distinguished by their insistence on a cappella music singing only is theologically conservative now tending towards the evangelical and congregationally autonomous though with a denominational sense of brotherhood The Christian Churches Churches of Christ Independent are a via media between the two other bodies theologically conservative and evangelical congregationally autonomous pastorally oriented and comfortable with instrumental music The fourth numerically significant group the churches of Christ Anti Institutional is a conservative reaction to the a cappella churches much in the way that the Southern a capella churches reacted against the emerging intellectual culture and social location instrumental music and institutional centrism of the Northern Disciples following the Civil War Besides these four numerous smaller fragments typically one article splinter groups decorate the history of the Restoration Movement One Cup brethren Premillennialists No Sunday School congregations No Located Preacher churches and others This movement to unite Christians on the basis of faith and immersion in Jesus Christ and to restore New Testament Christianity is too little recognized on the American religious landscape and it has been too little studied by the academic community This volume is focused primarily on the a cappella churches and their interests but implications for the entire Stone Campbell Restoration Movement abound The voices that speak freely within were unimpeded in authoring these essays by standards of orthodoxy imposed from without All of the contributors are acquainted with Don Haymes the honoree of the volume and have been inspired by this friend and colleague a man with a rigorous and earthy intellect and a heavenly spirit David Bundy series editor Studies in the History and Culture of World Christianities
