Picture Pedagogy Paul Duncum, 2020-05-14 Contemporary societies are saturated with pictures They are globally a part of everyday life and they are seductive offering values and beliefs in such highly pleasurable forms that it is often difficult to resist their power to persuade Yet interpreting pictures is largely neglected in schools Picture Pedagogy addresses this head on showing that pictures can be used as a powerful form of classroom pedagogy Duncum explores key concepts and curriculum examples to empower you to support students to develop a critical consciousness about pictures whether teaching art media language or social studies Drawing on the interpretive concepts of representation rhetoric ideology aesthetic pleasure intertextuality and the gaze Duncum shows how you can develop your students skills so that their power as viewers can match the power of pictures to seduce Examples from the history of fine art and contemporary popular mass media including Big Data and fake news are drawn together and shown to be appealing to the same aesthetic pleasures Often these pleasures are benign but also problematic helping to promote morally questionable ideas about a range of topics including gender race and sexual orientation and this is explored fully Inter/actions/inter/sections Robert W. Sweeny,2010 Engaging Visual Culture Karen T. Keifer-Boyd,Jane Maitland-Gholson,2007 How to help students negotiate visual culture s potent and multilayered meanings Engaging Visual Culture is a guidebook for teachers to help students make sense of the pervasive flow of visual information shaping their worldview and way of being The authors offer practical strategies to help students learn to think critically about visual culture its meanings and its impact on their lives Each of the nine chapters focuses on three key concepts Expose Explode and Empower By exposing students to the presence and power of visual culture and exploding the passive acceptance of the visual messages all around us students are empowered to participate actively in constructing their own meanings Convergence of Contemporary Art, Visual Culture, and Global Civic Engagement Shin, Ryan,2016-11-29 Art is a multi faceted part of human society and often is used for more than purely aesthetic purposes When used as a narrative on modern society art can actively engage citizens in cultural and pedagogical discussions Convergence of Contemporary Art Visual Culture and Global Civic Engagement is a pivotal reference source for the latest scholarly material on the relationship between popular media art and visual culture analyzing how this intersection promotes global pedagogy and learning Highlighting relevant perspectives from both international and community levels this book is ideally designed for professionals upper level students researchers and academics interested in the role of art in global learning Art to Empower: Designing and Implementing a Contemporary Visual Culture Art Education for Urban Elementary Institutions with Implications for Classroom Practice Tamara C. Pleszkiewicz,2010 The following paper offers a comprehensive historiography of the curricular trends and approaches for the teaching of elementary visual arts within the discourse of Art Education The exploration begins with an overview of the modernist Discipline Based Art Education curriculum including its origins and implementation within the U S public K 8 school system In this section I offer an assessment of DBAE0 9s curricular strengths and weaknesses Next the text moves into an examination of post modern contemporary curricular approaches to teaching visual arts more specifically the visual culture theory With this I introduce a discussion about the current reality of arts education within the urban public school system of Chicago Illinois This section offers insight into current art education trends and exposes the discrepancy of resources for visual arts education among Chicago's elementary institutions Finally I offer a sample visual arts curriculum designed to empower students to take responsibility for their learning and success     Art Education 11-18 Richard

Hickman,2004-04-01 The second edition of the fascinating collection of essays on teaching art in secondary schools boasting a new chapter on visual culture as well as extensive material on the changes that have occurred in this area since 2000 What kind of art would we like school and college students to produce What kind of art do we want them to engage with What is the process of this engagement How should we organize the processes By asking fundamental questions such as these Richard Hickman and his team of contributors illustrate the new possibilities for art education in the twenty first century and draw out the implications for classroom practice making Art Education 11 18 the definitive guide to the subject in the postmodern era     Curriculum, Culture, and Art Education Kerry Freedman,Fernando

Hernández-Hernández,2024-09-01 Through international case studies this book explores the causes and effects of historical and contemporary cultural changes in art education A general broadening of content and methods a renewed emphasis on student interests and diverse critical perspectives can currently be seen internationally in art curricula This book explores ways that visual culture in education is helping to move art curricula off their historical foundations and open the field to new ways of teaching learning and prefiguring worlds It highlights critical histories and contemporary stories showing how cultural milieu influences and is influenced by the various practices that make up the professional field inside and outside of institutional borders This book shows students how contemporary art educators are responding revising and re creating the field     A Visual Culture Approach for Teaching Meaningful Content Through Art Tzu-Hui Chan,2005 This study is an exploration of approaches to the study of art which focuses on content and creating new levels of meaning It examines postmodern art education theory and provides examples of practical and specific implementation of these theories Some of the issues to be addressed are arguments for incorporating an issue based approach as well as the benefits and limitations of using visual culture in the art classroom I found successful approaches for teaching students to appreciate art as an important part of learning about life by observing one art teacher at work in her classes I also interviewed her and her students about her teaching methods Both her classes and the interviews were video taped A condensed video document is provided to support the written thesis This dissertation is a compound document contains both a paper copy and a DVD as part of the dissertation The DVD requires the following system requirements Windows MediaPlayer or RealPlayer
