Teaching Young Children In Violent Times Building A Peaceable Classroom:

Teaching Young Children in Violent Times Diane E. Levin, 2003 From the Publisher Teaching Young Children in Violent Times helps teachers and group leaders working with pre K to 3rd graders to create an environment in which young children can learn alternatives to the violent behaviors modeled in our society the media and home Mixing dialogs anecdotes and theory the book provides essential insights into the developmental roots of young children s thinking and behaviors around gender prejudice violence and conflict It offers practical guidelines and activities for meeting young children s needs for safety helping young children learn to appreciate diversity and providing opportunities and skills to resolve conflicts creatively and respectfully This rich resource also supplies suggestions for using dialogue puppetry games play class charts curriculum webs and children s books to turn any classroom into a peaceable one Diane Levin is a widely known and respected educator and researcher who co authored The War Play Dilemma and the best selling Who s Calling the Shots Published by Educators for Social Responsibility distributed to the trade by NSP Teaching Young Children in Violent Times Diane E. Levin, 1994 Consuming Kids Susan Linn, 2005 Looks at the way corporations and advertisers target children as a profitable demographic as well as their methods for getting past parental safeguards to make products of all kinds appeal directly to even the youngest children Born to Buy Juliet B. Schor, 2014-08-19 Ads aimed at kids are virtually everywhere in classrooms and textbooks on the Internet even at slumber parties and the playground Product placement and other innovations have introduced more subtle advertising to movies and television Companies are enlisting children as guerrilla marketers targeting their friends and families Even trusted social institutions such as the Girl Scouts are teaming up with marketers Drawing on her own survey research and unprecedented access to the advertising industry New York Times bestselling author and leading cultural and economic authority Juliet Schor examines how a marketing effort of vast size scope and effectiveness has created commercialized children Schor author of The Overworked American and The Overspent American looks at the broad implications of this strategy Sophisticated advertising strategies convince kids that products are necessary to their social survival Ads affect not just what they want to buy but who they think they are and how they feel about themselves Based on long term analysis Schor reverses the conventional notion of causality it s not just that problem kids become overly involved in the values of consumerism it s that kids who are overly involved in the values of consumerism become problem kids In this revelatory and crucial book Schor also provides guidelines for parents and teachers What is at stake is the emotional and social well being of our children Like Barbara Ehrenreich s Nickel and Dimed Mary Pipher s Reviving Ophelia and Malcolm Gladwell s The Tipping Point Born to Buy is a major contribution to our understanding of a contemporary trend and its effects on the culture Put Yourself in Their Shoes Barbara Meltz, 1999 Meltz offers parents the key to understanding their children s often silent cues and gently guides the way to learning what children are feeling but not saying Technology Segregation Miriam Tager, 2019-11-08 Technology segregation is an ongoing practice within early childhood programs in the United States This research which includes two qualitative studies in the Northeast reveals that school segregation and technology segregation are one in the same Utilizing critical race theory as the theoretical framework this research finds that young Black children are denied technological access directly affecting their learning trajectories PTO fundraising and other monetary donations to public schools vary by district and neighborhood and are based on segregation Therefore structural racism flourishes within these early childhood programs as black students are excluded from another important content area and practice This book defines the problem of technology segregation in terms of policy racial hierarchies funding residential segregation and the digital divide It challenges the racist framework and reveals disruptions strategies to counter this deficit discourse based on white supremacy

A Volcano in My Tummy Eliane Whitehouse, Warwick Pudney, 1996-01-01 A Volcano in My Tummy Helping Children to Handle Anger presents a clear and effective approach to helping children and adults alike understand and deal constructively with children s anger Using easy to understand yet rarely taught skills for anger management including how to teach communication of emotions A Volcano in My Tummy offers engaging well organized activities which help to overcome the fear of children s anger which many adult care givers experience By carefully distinguishing between anger the feeling and violence the behavior this accessible little book primarily created for ages 6 to thirteen helps to create an awareness of anger enabling children to relate creatively and harmoniously at critical stages in their development Through activities stories articles and games designed to allow a multi subject developmental approach to the topic at home and in school A Volcano in My Tummy gives us the tools we need to put aside our problems with this all too often destructive emotion and to have fun while we re at it Elaine Whitehouse is a teacher family court and private psychotherapist mother of two and leader of parenting skills workshops for eight years Warwick Pudney is a teacher and counsellor with ten years experience facilitating anger management abuser therapy and men s change groups as well as being a father of three Both regularly conduct workshops

The Case For Make Believe Susan Linn, 2009-07-01 In The Case for Make Believe Harvard child psychologist Susan Linn tells the alarming story of childhood under siege in a commercialized and technology saturated world Although play is essential to human development and children are born with an innate capacity for make believe Linn argues that in modern day America nurturing creative play is not only countercultural it threatens corporate profits A book with immediate relevance for parents and educators alike The Case for Make Believe helps readers understand how crucial child s play is and what parents and educators can do to protect it At the heart of the book are stories of children at home in school and at a therapist s office playing about real life issues from entering kindergarten to a sibling s death expressing feelings they can t express directly and making meaning of an often confusing world In an era when toys come from television and media companies sell videos as brain builders for babies Linn lays out the inextricable links between play creativity and health showing us how and why to preserve the space for make believe that children need to lead fulfilling and meaningful lives Peace Education from the Grassroots Ian Harris,2013-09-01

Historians often ignore the day to day struggles of ordinary people to improve their lives They tend to focus on the accomplishments of illustrious leaders Peace Education from the Grassroots tells the stories of concerned citizens teachers and grassroots peace activists who have struggled to counteract high levels of violence by teaching about the sources for violence and strategies for peace The stories told here come from the grass roots meaning the educators are close to the forms of violence they are addressing This collection of essays tells how citizens at the grassroots level developed peace education initiatives in thirteen different nations Belgium Canada El Salvador Germany India Jamaica Japan Mexico the Philippines South Korea Spain Uganda and the United States A fourteenth article describes the efforts of the International Red Cross to implement a human rights curriculum to teachers on the ground in the Balkans Iran Senegal and the United Sates These chapters describe a variety of schools colleges peace movement organizations community based organizations and international nongovernmental organizations engaged in peace education Win-Win Games for All

Universalising International Law C.G. Weeramantry,2004-04-01 Universalising international law is one of the most urgent tasks awaiting those who wish to advance the discipline Though all the world acknowledges its universal nature it has long been confined in a largely monocultural mould Indeed a tendency is sometimes discernible for international law to be compartmentalised and to function within a close cabinet of technical rules little known to those outside the ranks of specialists This volume looks initially at some general aspects of universalisation It thereafter adopts a universalist approach to some of the sources of international law and it deals with peace the bedrock of international law which likewise requires a universalist approach It is hoped that these studies will highlight the imperative need that now exists for extending the conceptual framework of international law thereby buttressing its moral authority and widening its appeal at a time when universal acceptance of international law is one of the most pressing demands of the international system

John A Collected Essays 2 John Scales Avery,2016-02-06 This book contains a collection of essays and articles by John Scales Avery discussing the severe problems and challenges which the world faces during the 21st century Human civilization and the biosphere are threatened by catastrophic climate change Unless rapid steps are taken to replace fossil fuels by 100% renewable energy we risk passing a tipping point beyond which uncontrollable feedback loops could produce a 6th extinction event comparable to those observed in the geological record Another serious threat to human civilization and the biosphere is the danger of a catastrophic thermonuclear war Over a long period of time there is an ever increasing risk that such a war will occur by accident or miscalculation Thirdly there is threat of an extremely serious and widespread famine produced by the climate change rapidly growing populations and the end of the fossil fuel era We must urgently address all three challenges
