Climate Change as Class War Matthew T. Huber,2022-05-10 How to build a movement to confront climate change The climate crisis is not primarily a problem of believing science or individual carbon footprints it is a class problem rooted in who owns controls and profits from material production As such it will take a class struggle to solve In this ground breaking class analysis Matthew T Huber argues that the carbon intensive capitalist class must be confronted for producing climate change Yet the narrow and unpopular roots of climate politics in the professional class is not capable of building a movement up to this challenge For an alternative strategy he proposes climate politics that appeals to the vast majority of society the working class Huber evaluates the Green New Deal as a first attempt to channel working class material and ecological interests and advocates building union power in the very energy system we need to dramatically transform In the end as in classical socialist movements of the early 20th Century winning the climate struggle will need to be internationalist based on a form of planetary working class solidarity The Industrialisation of Soviet Russia Volume 7: The Soviet Economy and the Approach of War, 1937-1939 R.
