Ranching History S. M. Evans, 2004 For much of its 130 year history the Bar U Ranch can claim to have been one of the most famous ranches in Canada Its reputation is firmly based on the historical role that the ranch has played its size and longevity and its association with some of the remarkable people who have helped develop the cattle business and build the Canadian West The long history of the ranch allows the evolution of the cattle business to be traced and can be seen in three distinct historical periods based on the eras of the individuals who owned and managed the ranch These colourful figures beginning with Fred Stimson then George Lane and finally Pat Burns have left an indelible mark on the Bar U as well as Canadian ranching history The Bar U and Canadian Ranching History is a fascinating story that integrates the history of ranching in Alberta with larger issues of ranch historiography in the American and Canadian West and contributes greatly to the overall understanding of ranching history

Re-Inventing Islam Deanna Ferree Womack, 2025 From the end of the American Civil War to the start of World War II the Protestant missionary movement unintentionally tilled the soil in which American Islamophobia would eventually take root What ideas did missionaries in Islamic contexts pass on to later generations How were these ideas connected to centuries old Protestant discourses about Muslims and gender beginning in the Reformation And what bearing does this history have on the birth of Islamophobia and on Christian Muslim dialogue efforts in the US today In answering these questions Re inventing Islam traces the gender constructs that have informed historical Protestant perceptions of Islam especially in the far reaching textual visual and material influences of the American and British movement for missions to Muslims This book first considers Protestant discourse about Muslim women and men from the Reformation to the Enlightenment Then it turns to the colossal archive of literature images and cultural objects that missionaries and particularly missionary women collected from Islamic contexts and used to inform and motivate their constituents Anglo Protestants in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries perpetually re invented stereotypes about Muslims and used these negative images to achieve particular Protestant theological and political purposes including missionary aims They did so when disseminating gender critiques widely to Protestant men women and children Why did they re invent Islam Deanna Ferree Womack argues that they did so to reinforce Protestant theological claims to justify their evangelistic endeavors to express both humanitarian concern and Eurocentric views of the world and to support British and American cultural economic and military expansion Simultaneously however this same missionary movement educated its constituents about diverse Islamic cultures in part by providing humanizing images of Islam Missionaries also formed personal relationships with Muslims that would open pathways toward formal efforts of Christian Muslim dialogue after the mid twentieth century Americans have inherited all of these legacies In revisiting this history readers will find new possibilities for building a more open and just future Science among the Ottomans Miri Shefer-Mossensohn, 2015-10-15 Scholars have long thought that following the Muslim Golden Age of the medieval era the Ottoman Empire grew culturally and technologically isolated losing interest in innovation and placing the empire on a path toward stagnation and decline Science among the Ottomans challenges this widely accepted Western image of the nineteenth and early twentieth century Ottomans as backward and impoverished In the first book on this topic in English in over sixty years Miri Shefer Mossensohn contends that Ottoman society and culture created a fertile environment that fostered diverse scientific activity She demonstrates that the Ottomans excelled in adapting the inventions of others to their own needs and improving them For example in 1877 the Ottoman Empire boasted the seventh longest electric telegraph system in the world indeed the Ottomans were among the era s most advanced nations with regard to modern communication infrastructure To substantiate her claims about science in the empire Shefer Mossensohn studies patterns of learning state involvement in technological activities and Turkish and Arabic speaking Ottomans who produced consumed and altered scientific practices The results reveal Ottoman participation in science to have been a dynamic force that helped sustain the six hundred year empire
