Euro Horror Ian Olney, 2013-02-07 Beginning in the 1950s Euro Horror movies materialized in astonishing numbers from Italy Spain and France and popped up in the US at rural drive ins and urban grindhouse theaters such as those that once dotted New York's Times Square Grittier sexier and stranger than most American horror films of the time they were embraced by hardcore fans and denounced by critics as the worst kind of cinematic trash In this volume Olney explores some of the most popular genres of Euro Horror cinema including giallo films named for the yellow covers of Italian pulp fiction the S M horror film and cannibal and zombie films and develops a theory that explains their renewed appeal to audiences today

Dario Argento L. Andrew Cooper, 2012-11-30 Commanding a cult following among horror fans Italian film director Dario Argento is best known for his work in two closely related genres the crime thriller and supernatural horror as well as his influence on modern horror and slasher movies In his four decades of filmmaking Argento has displayed a commitment to innovation from his directorial debut with 1970's suspense thriller The Bird with the Crystal Plumage to 2009's Giallo His films like the lurid yellow covered murder mystery novels they are inspired by follow the suspense tradition of hard boiled American detective fiction while incorporating baroque scenes of violence and excess While considerations of Argento's films often describe them as irrational nightmares L. Andrew Cooper uses controversies and theories about the films' reflections on sadism gender sexuality psychoanalysis aestheticism and genre to declare the anti-rational logic of Argento's oeuvre Approaching the films as rhetorical statements made through extremes of sound and vision Cooper places Argento in a tradition of aestheticized horror that includes De Sade De Quincey Poe and Hitchcock Analyzing individual images and sequences as well as larger narrative structures he reveals how the director's stylistic excesses often condemned for glorifying misogyny and other forms of violence offer productive resistance to the cinema's visual narrative and political norms

Cue, 1971

Dario Argento James Gracey, 2010-05-01 The stylistic and bloody excesses of the films of Dario Argento are instantly recognizable his films lock violent deaths in a twisted embrace with an almost sexual beauty

Narrative and logic are often lost in a constant bombardment of atmosphere technical mastery and provocative imagery Setting the tone with earlier gialli films such as The Animal Trilogy and Deep Red Argento has steadily pushed the boundaries through his elaborately gothic fairytales Suspiria and Inferno right up to his more recent contributions to Showtime's Masters of Horror series and the conclusion of his Three Mothers trilogy Mother of Tears The Third Mother Along the way his prowling camera work pounding scores and stylistic bloodshed have only gained in intensity and opulence Argento continues to create inimitable and feverishly violent films with a level of artistry rarely seen in horror films His high profile and mastery of the genre is confirmed with his role as producer on celebrated classics such as George A Romero's Dawn of the Dead and Lamberto Bava's Demons

Sound and Horror in the Giallo Film Damien Pollard, 2025 The Italian giallo was a sleazy violent and stylistically baroque form of horror film that was produced in the hundreds from the 1960s to the 1980s Sound and Horror in the Giallo Film listens closely to these films asking how their soundtracks and their use of the human voice can help us understand the giallo's significance at a time when Italy was undergoing profound postwar social economic political and cultural change Throughout the history of Italian cinema soundtracks have been a site of concerted and sustained intervention by political and economic forces In Sound and Horror in the Giallo Film author Damien Pollard argues that because the giallo film pushed the boundaries of film form while also touting unapologetic commercialism the voices on its soundtracks were both aesthetically exaggerated and directly shaped by commercial imperatives which were influenced by Italy's turbulent postwar years Featuring case studies of several well known giallo films including The Girl Who Knew Too Much The Bird with the Crystal Plumage and Tenebrae Sound and Horror in the Giallo Film is an original analysis that reveals how the cinematic voice binds film and history
