The Birth Of The British Motor Car Vol 1 3:

The Birth of the British Motor Car, 1769-1897 T.R. Nicholson, 1982-06-18 The Emergence of Bicycling and Automobility in Britain Craig Horner, 2021-01-28 In the late 19th century bicyling and motoring offered new ways for a hardy minority to travel Escaping from the tyranny of the train timetables these entrepreneurs were able to promote private mobility when the road technology and infrastructure were unequal to the task With a moribund network out of town poor roadside accommodation and few services how could road traction persist and ultimately thrive Drawing on a wealth of primary sources including magazines newspapers and advice books on stable management this book explores the emergence and development of bicycling and automobility in Britain with a focus on the racing driver cum entrepreneur SF Edge 1868 1940 and his network Craig Horner considers the motivations prejudices and cultures of those who promoted and consumed road traction providing new insights into social class leisure sport and tourism in Britain In addition he places early British bicycling and automobility in an international context providing fruitful comparisons with the movements in France Germany and the United States The Emergence of Bicycling and Automobility in Britain is an excellent resource for scholars and students interested in mobility studies social and cultural history and the history of technology The Birth of the British Motor Car, 1769-1897: Revival and defeat, 1842-93 Timothy Robin Nicholson, 1982 Veteran Motor Cars Steve Lanham, 2020-06-25 This colourful introduction to the first decades of the motor car covers its earliest iterations when the automobile represented the very peak of technological innovation It is packed with fascinating facts about the experimental origins of the motor industry when these horseless carriages were largely constructed in back street workshops many simply resembling the frame and bodywork of a horse drawn carriage but fitted with a petrol engine Experimentation was rife however and there was much debate as to whether petrol steam or electricity should lead the way with endurance runs hill climbs and organised races pitting them one against the other Early motorists had to employ novel measures to overcome challenges such as the rudimentary engineering of early cars the difficulty of fuel supply the poorly maintained roads and hostility from other road users International Bibliography of Business History Francis Goodall, Terry Gourvish, Steven Tolliday, 2013-12-16 The field of business history has changed and grown dramatically over the last few years There is less interest in the traditional company centred approach and more concern about the wider business context With the growth of multi national corporations in the 1980s international and inter firm comparisons have gained in importance In addition there has been a move towards improving links with mainstream economic financial and social history through techniques and outlook The International Bibliography of Business History brings all of the strands together and provides the user with a comprehensive guide to the literature in the field The Bibliography is a unique volume which covers the depth and breadth of research in business history This exhaustive volume has been compiled by a team of subject specialists from around the world under the editorship of three prestigious business historians The Motor Car Industry in Coventry Since the 1890's David Thoms,Tom Donnelly,2017-07-06 This book originally published in 1985 examines the development of the car industry in Coventry within both its local context and the wider economic environment It is a study of expansion and adjustment which reflects the broader pattern of Britain s industrial history The book analyses the emergence and early dominance of Coventry s motor manufacturers the appearance of the volume producers in the 1920s and the instability of the post war era The relationship between cars and other sectors of the local economy particularly cycles machine tools and aircraft is discussed while the significance of the two world wars receive special attention Extensive use is made of original sources material much of which prior to publication had received little or no attention from business historians The Coventry Motor Industry David Thoms,Tom Donnelly,2017-11-01 This title was first published in 2000 Coventry is synonymous with both the creation and relative decline of the British motor car industry This volume utilises the extensive range of primary sources on the subject to explore the relationship between the car industry in its local context and the wider economic social and political environment It analyses the emergence and early dominance of Coventry s motor manufacturers the rise of volume production in the 1930s and the instabilities and renaissance of the post war era Specific chapters deal with the industry s response to the demands created by the two world wars A number of themes run throughout the book including the structure of the industry and the relationship between its various sectors resource provision management and labour relations and the nature and response to market demand The book also provides fascinating insights into the history of some of the most evocative marques in the car industry including Daimler Jaguar Alvis Siddeley Standard and Rover The Publisher ,1903 Professional Journal of the United States Army ,1993 Military Review ,1993 Velodrome Racing and the Rise of the Motorcycle R.K. Keating,2021-03-29 A hybrid machine powered at times by steam electricity or internal combustion the motorcycle in its infancy was an innovation to help bicycle racers go faster As motor age technology advanced the quest for greater speed at the velodrome peaked with riders reaching speeds up to 100 kph on bikes and trikes without brakes suspensions or gear boxes This book chronicles the individuals and events at the turn of the 20th century that led to the development of motor powered two wheelers F. W. Taylor John Cunningham Wood,Michael C. Wood,2002 Following the volumes on Henri Fayol this next mini set in the series focuses on F W Taylor the initiator of scientific management Taylor set out to transform what had previously been a crude art form in to a firm body of knowledge Books in Print Supplement ,1985 Mechanical Handling and Works Equipment ,1920 The Commercial Motor ,1925 How Britain Shaped the Manufacturing World, 1851-1951 Philip Hamlyn Williams,2022-07-28 The peoples of the British Isles gave to the world the foundations on which modern manufacturing economies are built This is quite an assertion but history shows that in the late eighteenth century a remarkable combination of factors and circumstances combined to give birth to Britain as the first manufacturing nation Further factors allowed it to remain top manufacturing dog well into the twentieth century while other countries were busy playing catch up Through two world wars and the surrounding years British manufacturing remained strong albeit while ceding the lead to the United States This book seeks to tell the remarkable story of British manufacturing using the Great Exhibition of 1851 as a prism Prince Albert and Sir Henry Cole had conceived an idea of bringing together exhibits from manufacturers across the world to show to its many millions of visitors the pre eminence of the British 1851 was not the start but rather a pause for a bask in glory This book traces back from the exhibits in Hyde Park s Crystal Palace to identify the factors that gave rise to this pre eminence then follows developments up until the Festival of Britain exactly one century later Steam power and communication by electric telegraph both British inventions predated the Exhibition After it came the sewing machine and bicycle motor car and aeroplane but also electrical power radio and the chemical and pharmaceutical industries where Britain played a leading part The Engineering Index ,1929 Engineering Index Annual ,1921 Books in Print ,1991 The Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature ,1899
