It discusses common and scientific names of every Australian bird to tease out the meanings which may be useful, useless or downright misleading. The authors examine every species, its often many and varied common names, its full scientific name with derivation, translation and a guide to pronunciation. Stories behind the name are included as well as relevant aspects of biology, conservation and history. Original descriptions translated by the authors have been sourced for many species. As well as being a book about names, this is a book about the history of ever-developing understandings of birds, about the people who contributed and most of all about the birds themselves. 2013 Whitley Award Commendation for Zoological Resource

These are the 192 Critically Endangered birds on the IUCN Red List, species such as the Giant Ibis, the Kakapo, the Sumatran Ground Cuckoo and the iconic Spoon-billed Sandpiper, these along with a number of classic Steadman creations such as the Unsociable Lapwing are the NEARLY EXTINCT BOIDS. In a small, isolated town on the North Norfolk coast, Fran's life is unravelling. As she fills her days cleaning the caravan park she owns, she is preoccupied by worry about the behaviour of her son, the growing absence of her husband and the strained relationship with her sister. Her one source of solace is slipping out to the beach early in the morning to watch the birds. Small town tension simmers when a new teacher starts at the local school and a Romany community settles in the field adjoining Fran's caravan park. From the distance of his caravan, seventy-year-old Tad quietly watches the townspeople, mainly Fran's family. When the schoolteacher and Fran's brother-in-law both go missing on the same night, accusations fly. Yet all Fran can seem to care about is the birds. An eerie and unsettling novel, Bird Spotting in a Small Town perfectly encapsulates the intensity of rural claustrophobia when you don't know who you can trust. A haunting, disquieting novel exquisitely written. The detail throughout is like acupuncture and the whole thing is difficult to pull away from. I read it in short bursts because each sitting left me with something new to think about. IAN MOORE, author of Death and Croissants. The kind of book that gets under your skin, hugely atmospheric and dark in the best possible way. JENNIE
