anyone interested in how we got to where we are today in matters of culture and race I know from personal experience while researching the life of Maurice McCrackin a white minister who lived among African Americans in Cincinnati's West End and worked tirelessly to end racism and war how important it is to have a balanced historical record to draw on Such a record however is useful to far more than writers and historians Anyone inspired to address today's complex social inequities needs to know what has gone before Furthermore the record of any group should be articulated by members of that group rather than filtered and interpreted by the majority or dominant group One of the first African Americans to articulate the importance of this idea was John Brown Russwurm In the first edition of the first African American newspaper published in the United States Freedom's Journal in 1827 Russwurm wrote We wish to plead our own cause Too long have others spoken for us Too long has the public been deceived by misrepresentations in things which concern us dearly Quoted by Mary Sagarin in John Brown Russwurm The Story of Freedom's Journal Freedom's Journey NY Lothrop Lee Shepart 1970 57 Najjyyah Duncan has paid homage to Russwurm's vision and a long history of self articulation among African American journalists by her efforts here in describing Cincinnati's heritage o
