Surviving The Sword:

Surviving the Sword Brian MacArthur, 2005 During World War II there were few fates that could befall a soldier so hellish as internment in a Japanese prisoner of war camp To this day many survivors most of whom are in their eighties still cannot talk about their experiences without unearthing terrible memories Surviving the Sword gives voice to these tens of thousands of Allied POWs and offers us a powerful reminder of the terror and depravations of war and the resilience of the human spirit In this important book Brian MacArthur draws on the diaries of American British Dutch and Australian Fepows Far Eastern prisoners of war some of whose recollections are published here for the first time These soldiers wrote and kept their diaries in secret because they were determined that to record for posterity how they were starved and beaten marched almost to death or transported on hellships how their fellows were summarily executed by guards or felled by the thousands by tropical diseases and how they were used as slave labor most notoriously on the Burma Thailand railway as depicted in The Bridge on the River Kwai The diaries excerpted in this book make plain why the Fepows believed that their brutal treatment by Japanese and Korean guards was literally incomprehensible to those who did not live it The prisoners whose stories appear here risked torture and execution to keep diaries and make sketches and drawings that they hid from the guards wherever they could sometimes burying them in the graves of lost comrades The survivors narratives reveal not just a litany of horrors but are a moving testament to the nobler instincts of humanity as well detailing how the POWs prevailed over horrible conditions even finding or creating a precious few creature comforts and sustaining the rudiments of culture learning and play Forced into solidarity by inhuman conditions the soldiers showed incredible compassion for one another improvising ingenious ways to care for the sick boost morale by subtly mocking their jailers authority or even turn meager rations into the occasional feast Countless thousands died in Japanese prison camps during World War II Those fortunate enough to emerge from their ordeal were never the same again Surviving the Sword at last fills a notable historical gap in our understanding while also commemorating and memorializing the Fepows struggle and sacrifice

Surviving the Sword Brian MacArthur, 2005 We are all too aware of the horror of the Holocaust Fifty five years on the most controversial unresolved issue of the Second World War is the savage treatment of their prisoners by the Japanese For as many as 18 hours a day they toiled in back breaking conditions Disease malaria dengue fever beriberi and dysentery was rife They were treated worse than animals starved of food sleep and shelter while working in death camps Their captors took their Red Cross parcels and laughed the cruelty was abominable Although some individual experiences have been given testimony on film BRIDGE OVER THE RIVER KWAI and in books i e Eric Lomax s THE RAILWAY MAN Brian MacArthur s BUSHIDO is the first comprehensive history of the FEPOWS Far East Prisoners of War Here is the full story of the FEPOWS life on the edge of existence from 1941 when Hong Kong fell and 1942 when Singapore surrendered until 1945

Many contributions are anchored in the philological tradition that has informed much of Andreas Fischer's own scholarship such as the study of verbal duelling in the late thirteenth century romance Kyng Alisaunder. Others examine the construction of discourses such as those surrounding the Black Death. The volume with its innovative studies offers fascinating insights into words, discourses and their contexts both past and present.

The Funeral Achievements of Henry V at Westminster Abbey Anne Curry, Susan Jenkins, 2022

Ground breaking new studies of Henry V's chapel tomb and funeral service have new revelations and insights into the time. Before Henry V set out in 1415 on the campaign which culminated in victory at Agincourt he made a will laying down precise instructions for a chantry chapel to be constructed in Westminster Abbey after his death so that he could be buried close to his saintly ancestor Edward the Confessor. Seven years later the king died at Vincennes and his body was brought back for burial in the Abbey; the elaborate funeral took place on 7 November 1422. His chapel was probably finally completed in the 1440s and remains a distinctive feature of Westminster Abbey to this day. This book, stimulated by the 600th anniversary of the death of this iconic king, sheds new light on his funeral service and the design of his ornate chantry chapel and tomb. It also considers each of the funeral achievements: saddle, helm, shield and sword, traditionally associated with him. Drawing on up to date research by experts in each field with exciting input from new technologies, it investigates the construction and form of the arms and weapons as well as providing fascinating insights into the material culture and commemoration of royalty in the fifteenth century and beyond. Anne Curry is Emeritus Professor of Medieval History at the University of Southampton. Susan Jenkins is Curator of Westminster Abbey, experts in each field with exciting input from new technologies, it investigates the construction and form of the arms and weapons as well as providing fascinating insights into the material culture and commemoration of royalty in the fifteenth century and beyond.
