Ashtabula Firefighting Eric Allen Johnson, 2006 The story of firefighting in Ashtabula is almost as old as the community itself beginning with the informal citizen bucket brigades of frontier necessity in the early decades of the 1800s Between 1836 and 1911 the burgeoning Lake Erie port and manufacturing city was served by a cadre of dedicated volunteer fire companies including the celebrated award winning Protection Fire Company Ashtabula's rapid growth spurred the October 25 1911 transformation of the city's longstanding volunteer fire corps into a paid full time professional fire department With over 200 archival images drawn from the Ashtabula Fire Department the private collections of retired city firefighters and local newspaper and museum archives Ashtabula Firefighting highlights 170 years of firefighting heritage Peabody Firefighting Ted Quinn, 2007-08-01 The Peabody Fire Department was established in 1868 when the town changed its name from South Danvers to Peabody after one of its favorite sons well known philanthropist George Peabody However its long standing history of being a first class department dates farther back to the purchase of the town's first hand engine the Federal No 1 in 1800 and even farther back with the formation of bucket brigades and fire clubs Peabody's long history of being the leather capital of the world parallels the fire department's history because many of the department's members worked in the leather factories or were leather shop owners These same leather factories were fodder for many general alarm fires Peabody Firefighting features photographs and narratives that showcase the history and evolution of the Peabody Fire Department a department that today is as rich in diversity and tradition as ever and continues to answer the call of duty to a multitude of emergencies Lowell Firefighting Jason T. Strunk, 2006 The Lowell Fire Department was established by the state legislature on February 6 1830 As Lowell began its climb as a center of industrial power fire protection evolved from the days of the United Fire Society's bucket brigades to organized volunteer fire companies and a full time paid department Lowell Firefighting features images memorabilia and photographs covering more than 175 years of this mill city fire department's history Photographs depict the work of Lowell's firefighters through a prolific period of serious fires and urban decay Today the Lowell Fire Department protects a city rich with tradition that is reinventing itself responding to all manner of fire and rescue emergencies Practical Incident Management in K-12 Schools Brian N. Moore, 2017-07-08 Practical Incident Management for Schools will help prepare every school leader for their important role in keeping students safe in their school This book will teach you the exact same system that fire chiefs across the country have used to command emergencies for more than three decades but with customized information to meet your specific needs as a school leader You will not only learn the key aspects of incident command but you will also learn how to train a comprehensive team to help you manage emergencies After reading Practical Incident Management you will have the tools that you need to calmly and efficiently lead your staff during a crisis It will make you a more effective communicator and well rounded leader Once you have demonstrated your ability to lead under the pressure of command during a crisis you will have the confidence and decision making skills of a seasoned manager that you can apply to your everyday duties as an exceptional school leader
