The Biophysical Environment Of Singapore:

The Biophysical Environment of Singapore Lin Sien Chia, Ausafur Rahman, Dorothy Bee Hian Tay, Geography Teachers' Association of Singapore, 1991 Proceedings of the Conference on the Biophysical Environment of Singapore and Its Neighbouring Countries, 3-5 May 1985, Singapore Lin Sien Chia, 1986 The Coastal Environmental Profile of Singapore Lin Sien Chia, Habibullah Khan (Ph. D.), L. M. Chou, 1988 Singapore's Biophysical Environment Xi Xi Lu, Poh Poh Wong, Loke Ming Chou, 2005 Singapore's Urban Coastal Area Lin Sien Chia, 1992-01-01 Singapore Biodiversity Peter K. L. Ng, Richard Corlett, Hugh T. W. Tan, 2011 This volume refers to the natural environment of Singapore and describes more than 40 000 non microbial species of organisms that make up the island's biodiversity Sustainable Energy and Environment Sandeep Narayan Kundu, Muhammad Nawaz, 2019-09-20 Here is a comprehensive introductory discussion of Earth energy and the environment in an integrated manner that will lead to an appreciation of our complex planet The book looks at Earth from the perspective of a livable planet and elaborates on the surface and subsurface processes and the various energy cycles where energy is transformed and stored in the planet's various spheres The chapters discuss the interactions between the different parts of Earth how energy is exchanged between the atmosphere hydrosphere biosphere and geosphere and how they impact the environment in which we live The Environment in Asia Pacific Harbours Eric Wolanski, 2006-07-30 In the USA Asia and Europe as well as worldwide trade is growing rapidly and much of it depends on shipping This is leading to the development of mega cities and mega harbours The marine environment is degrading Is increasing trade ecologically sustainable This book addresses this question through harbours in the Asia Pacific region including Tokyo Bay the Pearl Estuary Hong Kong Shanghai Ho Chi Minh City Manila Bay Jakarta Bay Bangkok Singapore Klang Pearl Harbour and Darwin Much of the world trade goes through these harbours This book demonstrates through the writing of eminent scientists in each of these countries the oceanography and ecosystem science necessary to understand how these urbanised marine ecosystems function It offers science based solutions to achieve ecologically sustainable development These lessons are important not only for the Asia Pacific Region including Australia but also worldwide The book is a wake up call that all the countries in the Asia Pacific are facing the same serious socio economic and environmental problems with varying scales Each of these countries addresses these issues differently This book shows that we have much to learn from each other to ensure that development does not need to be at the cost of the environment I commend this book for its comprehensive coverage of the links between oceanography ecosystem processes and socio economic issues ICLARM Technical Reports, 1988 Urban Space and Representation Maria Balshaw, Liam Kennedy, 1999-12-20 Theories of urban space have become the focus of a great deal of work by scholars in cultural geography urban studies and critical theory This volume contributes to that debate by analysing the relationship between theories of urban space and literary and visual representations of the city an emergent area of confluence in literary film and cultural studies The contributors address themes such as visual culture and spectacle class and capital community and public space and nation diaspora and belonging Cities covered include New York Chicago Jerusalem Paris London Birmingham and Freetown Sierra Leone Artists and writers discussed include Piet Mondrian Nella Larsen Rudolph Fisher Amos Oz David Grossman Sarah Schulman Jonathan Larsen Charles Dickens Wilkie Collins Paul Auster and Wayne Wang

Landscape Planning in Singapore Edmund Waller, 2001 Landscape architecture plays a vital role in creating Singapore's Garden City image This book helps to explain the Republic's successful implementation of environmental policies since independence to achieve its present day image There are ten chapters in the book The first three cover background information the historical setting and the work of the current government The approach is to evaluate different plans against natural social and sensory criteria The next six chapters are case studies selected to show landscape planning policies in more detail The last chapter includes a discussion of comments made about Singapore's landscapes followed by a summary The book is illustrated by a profusion of maps diagrams and plans

Muddied Waters P. Boomgaard, David E.F. Henley, 2021-10-01 This book examines the history of human interaction with forest and marine ecosystems in Indonesia Malaysia and the Philippines Rainforests falling to snarling chainsaws and factory trawlers emptying the life out of tropical seas are nowadays among the most familiar images of Southeast Asia Yet the present excessive levels of logging and fishing have emerged only within the last generation Until a few decades ago it was common for marine and forest related economic activities in Southeast Asia to have limited and in the long run rather stable effects on the environment Did this relative stability simply reflect lower population densities less well developed markets and less efficient extraction technologies Or was it the result of successful resource management techniques and institutions If so why have these since failed or been abandoned Seventeen contributions by an international selection of expert authors cover topics ranging from the collection of rattan beeswax and forest resins in the seventeenth century to the management of modern marine nature reserves Muddied waters is essential reading for anyone interested in the environmental history of Southeast Asia whether in connection with other aspects of this particular region or in relation to patterns of environmental change and resource management in other parts of the world

Singapore's Permanent Territorial Revolution Rodolphe De Koninck, 2017-05-19 Ever since Singapore became an independent nation in 1965 its government has been intent on transforming the island's environment This has led to a nearly constant overhaul of the landscape whether still natural or already manmade Not only are the shape and dimensions of the main island and its subsidiary ones constantly modified so are their relief and hydrology No stone is left unturned literally and one could add nor is a single cultural feature be it a house a factory a road or a cemetery Given one of Singapore's unique feature namely that the state is the sole landlord all types of property in all parts of the island rural as well as urban were and remain subject to expropriation fortunately always with due compensation This atlas illustrates essentially through diachronic mapping of the changing distribution of all forms of land use the universality of what has become a tool of social management By constantly

replanning the rules of access to space the Singaporean State is thus redefining territoriality even in its minute details This is one reason it has been able to consolidate its control over civil society peacefully and to an extent rarely known in history

State of the Natural Environment in Singapore, 1999 New Urban Agenda in Zimbabwe Charles Chavunduka, Innocent Chirisa, 2024-06-23 This book presents ways of shaping the built environment sciences and practices for steering the New Urban Agenda in Zimbabwe Attention to the built environment disciplines and practice is important because of their centrality to economic dynamism and sustainability of urban services The reverse relationship is also true because through provision of norms aspirations and guidelines the New Urban Agenda helps in steering the built environment disciplines and practice The book begins by exploring theoretical and conceptual material on the built environment concept It recognizes that sub Saharan African countries and Zimbabwe in particular are operating in a changing environment of rapid urbanization unemployment and inequality Its premise is that the built environment sciences and practice can make a contribution to addressing sustainable development challenges through the introduction of innovations in infrastructure institutions and processes that enhance socio economic growth and development The book brings together scholarship from various disciplines in the built environment and presents sector initiatives such as those relating to curricula smart technologies and cutting edge innovations in steering sustainable urban development Publications and Theses

National University of Singapore, 1991 Architecture, City, Environment Koen Steemers, Simos Yannas, 2000 PLEA is a network of individuals sharing expertise in the arts sciences planning and design of the built environment It serves as an international interdisciplinary forum to promote discourse on environmental quality in architecture and planning This 17th PLEA international conference addresses sustainable design with respect to architecture city and environment at the turn of the millennium The central aim of the conference is to explore the interrelationships and integration of architecture city and environment The Proceedings will be of interest to all those involved in bioclimatic design and the application of natural and innovative techniques to architecture and planning The conference is organised by the Martin Centre for Architectural and Urban Studies University of Cambridge and the Cambridge Programme for Industry University of Cambridge Agricultural Bulletin of the Straits and Federated Malay States, 1992 Coastal Area Management Education in the ASEAN Region

Thia-Eng Chua, 1991-01-01 Tropical Urban Heat Islands Nyuk Hien Wong, Yu Chen, 2008-08-29 Conventional air conditioning is not a sustainable solution to the challenge of a hot or humid climate The climate problem is compounded in so called Urban Heat Islands urban areas where the air can be 3 5 C hotter than its surrounding areas and where pollution levels are consequently raised Including a colour section with thermal images and maps this book explores the complex relationships between climate buildings and plants especially in urban heat islands These relationships bear very critically on a range of environmental issues and point to some corresponding solutions One chapter highlights some of the extensive research work carried out in Singapore especially investigating the thermal benefits of greenery in buildings in the urban setting Though several books have been written on urban heat islands this work uniquely examines the linkages between climate buildings and plants It forms a reference for researchers and professionals such as architects architectural science landscape architects building services engineers urban planners and urban climatologists It may also be useful for final year undergraduates or graduate students in these disciplines
