African American Performance and Theater History Harry J. Elam, David Krasner, 2001-01-18

African American Performance and Theater History is an anthology of critical writings that explores the intersections of race theater and performance in America Assembled by two esteemed scholars in black theater Harry J Elam Jr and David Krasner and composed of essays from acknowledged authorities in the field this anthology is organized into four sections representative of the ways black theater drama and performance interact and enact continual social cultural and political dialogues Ranging from a discussion of dramatic performances of Uncle Tom s Cabin to the Black Art Movement of the 1960s and early 1970s articles gathered in the first section Social Protest and the Politics of Representation discuss the ways in which African American theater and performance have operated as social weapons and tools of protest The second section of the volume Cultural Traditions Cultural Memory and Performance features among other essays Joseph Roach s chronicle of the slave performances at Congo Square in New Orleans and Henry Louis Gates Jr s critique of August Wilson s cultural polemics Intersections of Race and Gender the third section includes analyses of the intersections of race and gender on the minstrel stage the plight of black female choreographers at the inception of Modern Dance and contemporary representations of black homosexuality by PomoAfro Homo Using theories of performance and performativity articles in the fourth section African American Performativity and the Performance of Race probe into the ways blackness and racial identity have been constructed in and through performance The final section is a round table assessment of the past and present state of African American Theater and Performance Studies by some of the leading senior scholars in the field James V Hatch Sandra L Richards and Margaret B Wilkerson Revealing the dynamic relationship between race and theater this volume illustrates how the social and historical contexts of production critically affect theatrical performances of blackness and their meanings and at the same time how African American cultural social and political struggles have been profoundly affected by theatrical representations and performances This one volume collection is sure to become an important reference for those studying black theater and an engrossing survey for all readers of African American literature

A New Look at Black Families Charles V. Willie, Richard J. Reddick, 2010-02-16 Charles Willie and Richard Reddick s A New Look at Black Families has introduced thousands of students to the intricacies of the Black family in American society since its publication in 1976 Using a case study approach Willie and Reddick show the varieties of the Black family experience and how those experiences vary by socioeconomic status In addition to examining families of low income working and middle classes the authors also look to the family experiences of highly successful African Americans to try to identify the elements of the family environment leading to success The authors puncture the myth of the Black matriarchy prevalent in the popular imagination and they explore a variety of family configurations including a family with same gender parents The sixth edition has been reorganized and updated throughout The new Part III_Cases Against and for Black Men and Women_unites two chapters from previous editions into a cohesive discussion of stereotypes and misunderstandings from both scholars and the mass media Also a new chapter on the Obama family offers support for cross gender and cross racial mentoring and it demonstrates the value of extended family relations Multicultural Families, Home Literacies, and Mainstream Schooling Guofang Li,2009-02-01 Lack of knowledge about immigrant and minority students learning outside school has contributed to the difficulties educators encounter when trying to embrace cultural diversity Many educators do not have the knowledge base about immigrant and minority children s culturally specific ways of learning in nonschool settings Given the changing cultural landscapes in today s schools we have an imperative to develop more situated understandings of immigrant and minority children s literacy learning experiences embedded in the social and cultural fabrics of their everyday lives outside school This volume of research meets this important need in the field It not only focuses on the complexity of literacy learning in diverse home contexts but also examines how literacy is practiced and lived in multiple ways within families of various backgrounds including those of Asian African and African American Hispanic White European and mixed heritages In addition it explores how these various culturally embedded home practices will inform school education and policy making in a larger socio political context The book makes an original and significant contribution to the fields of literacy education and school home and community partnerships Since immigrant and minority families literacy activities and the cultural contexts of their practices at home are not readily accessible to school personnel program developers policy makers or even researchers and educators this book will serve as an important resource for teachers practitioners undergraduate and graduate students teacher educators and university researchers who are in the fields of literacy education family literacy and new literacy studies minority and or immigrant education and second language education The Educator's Handbook for Understanding and Closing Achievement Gaps Joseph Murphy,2010 Beginning with a remarkably comprehensive and accessible analysis of the gap s causes the book offers a refreshingly balanced evidence based state of the art outline of productive solutions that should inform the work of all educational stakeholders Ken Leithwood Professor OISE University of Toronto No one is better positioned than Joseph Murphy to provide lessons for education leaders on this important topic Andrew Porter George and Diane Weiss Professor of Education University of Pennsylvania For too long the achievement gap has been proclaimed discussed and then dismissed as a subject of despair Seldom has it been systematically defined placed in historical perspective or positively addressed Through thorough scholarship comprehensive knowledge and creativity this book fills that void James W Guthrie Patricia and Rodes Hart Professor of Educational Leadership and Public Policy Vanderbilt University While offering no simple pathway to progress this book reminds us how much more we can do to close achievement gaps Michael S Knapp Director Center for the Study of Teaching Policy University of Washington Distinguished researcher Joseph F Murphy has gathered and analyzed the most up to date research and data to help headteachers understand what the achievement gap is why it persists and what teachers can do about it This comprehensive handbook Examines external factors that contribute to achievement gaps such as socioeconomic status family environment racism and individual differences Covers internal factors such as instruction school culture and school support Provides strategies for addressing both internal and external factors to make an impact

Du Bois's Dialectics Reiland Rabaka,2009-01-01 With chapters that undertake ideological critiques of education religion the politics of reparations and the problematics of black radical politics in contemporary culture and society Du Bois s Dialectics employs Du Bois as its critical theoretical point of departure and demonstrates his and Africana Studies contributions to as well as contemporary critical theory s connections to critical pedagogy sociology of religion and reparations theory Rabaka offers the first critical theoretical treatment of the W E B Du Bois Booker T Washington debate which lucidly highlights Du Bois s transition from a bourgeois black liberal to a black radical and revolutionary democratic socialist

Families Vanessa May,2023-11-08 In this accessible and engagingly written book Vanessa May invites readers into the rich world of thought research and study of the highly diverse phenomenon of families and family life The book explores what is and has been understood by family in different sociocultural contexts and how family life intersects with social spheres such as the state the labour market and the economy Alongside broad social developments such as post colonialism and austerity and their connections with changing family patterns the book engages interdisciplinary work on time embodiment and materiality in order to offer a multidimensional perspective on the day to day lives of families Drawing from research in the Global North and the Global South the text carefully considers how people approach the study of families and thus offers insight into the shape of mainstream family studies today The book offers a timely intervention into current debates within family studies and suggests avenues of investigation that deserve further attention and will be an invaluable resource to students and scholars alike

After Bourdieu David L. Swartz, Vera L. Zolberg, 2006-02-28 critical evaluations of his work notably papers by Rodney Benson 4 Rogers Brubaker Nick Crossley and John Myles Indeed it is the 1985 article by Rogers Brubaker that can truly be said to have served as one of the best introductions to Bourdieu s thought for the American social scientific public It is for this reason that we include it in the present collection Intellectual origins orientations We begin by providing an overview of Bourdieu s life as a scholar and a public intellectual The numerous obituaries and memorial tributes that have appeared following Bourdieu s untimely death have revealed something of his life and career but few have stressed the intersection of his social origins career trajectory and public intellectual life with the changing political and social context of France This is precisely what David Swartz s In memoriam attempts to accomplish In it he emphasizes the coincidence of Bourdieu s young and later adulthood with the period of decolonization the May 1968 French university crisis the opening up of France to privatization of many domains previously entrusted to the state I tat providence and most threatening to post World War II reforms the emergence of globalization as the hegemonic structure of the 21st century An orienting theme throughout Bourdieu s work warns against the partial and fractured views of social reality generated by the fundamental subject object dichotomy that has plagued social science from its very beginning

Diversity in Human Interactions John D. Robinson,Larry C. James,2003-08-14

When people who interact do not share the same abilities orientations or beliefs the results are often disastrous leaving everyone involved feeling misunderstood underappreciated and resentful Why does this happen How can we find and focus on the strengths in our differences rather than the weaknesses How can we accept that our differences bring with them different ways of looking at a problem and that these different ways of looking at things lead to unique and sometimes conflicting solutions to problems In this volume editors John D Robinson and Larry C James have assembled renowned leaders scholars and educators in order to show how these differences can facilitate not hinder our progress They provide thought provoking and insightful essays about how having different physical abilities sexual orientations races and religions affects how people interact Each chapter is written by a member of a different group and presents real life stories about interactions within that group The universality of these stories allows the reader to empathize with diverse points of view generating material for group discussion and debate The book s aim is to enrich interactions among different types of people by exploring how our differences can shape our perceptions of events in particular and life in general by focusing on the strengths in our diversity rather than the conflicts brought about by it
