Race, Culture, and Identity Shireen K. Lewis, 2006-01-01 In this groundbreaking book Shireen Lewis gives a comprehensive analysis of the literary and theoretical discourse on race culture and identity by Francophone and Caribbean writers beginning in the early part of the twentieth century and continuing into the dawn of the new millennium Examining the works of Patrick Chamoiseau Raphaël Confiant Aimé Césaire Léopold Senghor Léon Damas and Paulette Nardal Lewis traces a move away from the preoccupation with African origins and racial and cultural purity toward concerns of hybridity and fragmentation in the New World or Diasporic space In addition to exploring how this shift parallels the larger debate around modernism and postmodernism Lewis makes a significant contribution by arguing for the inclusion of Martinican intellectual Paulette Nardal and other women into the canon as significant contributors to the birth of modern black Francophone literature

War Between Souls Over First Universe Tiffany Thompson, 2011-03 SYNOPSIS This volume is laced with notions of reincarnation and afterlife For that same reason WAR BETWEEN SOULS OVER FIRST UNIVERSE is a supernatural story about the pure elder immortal souls who want nothing more than to teach their young delinquent souls how to earn immortality and stop reincarnating their tainted demonic souls Likewise this book confirms that you cannot separate the soul from the notion of the afterlife That afterlife consists of reincarnating demonic souls Hellions Hellish as they are they refuse to obey the Creators They have reincarnated themselves in bodies human and otherwise for billions and billions of years In addition they are lingering here on earth pretending to be MOVING ON trying to take over what does not belong to them Reincarnation is not a rarity It is a daily occurrence Remember Plato as well as Christianity tells us in essence that the soul is the power that runs the body machine and that souls are capable of reincarnating recollecting Tiffany is telling you that before that body is worn out its souls are tormented manipulated and even ripped out forcing displaced souls to transfer their energy power essence into another body be that animal or human

Orpheus and Power Michael G. Hanchard, 1998-10-19 From recent data on disparities between Brazilian whites and non whites in areas of health education and welfare it is clear that vast racial inequalities do exist in Brazil contrary to earlier assertions in race relations scholarship that the country is a racial democracy Here Michael George Hanchard explores the implications of this increasingly evident racial inequality highlighting Afro Brazilian attempts at mobilizing for civil rights and the powerful efforts of white elites to neutralize such attempts Within a neo Gramscian framework Hanchard shows how racial hegemony in Brazil has hampered ethnic and racial identification among non whites by simultaneously promoting racial discrimination and false premises of racial equality Drawing from personal archives of and interviews with participants in the Movimento Negro of Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo Hanchard presents a wealth of empirical evidence about Afro Brazilian militants comparing their effectiveness with their counterparts in sub Saharan Africa the United States and the Caribbean in the post World War II period He analyzes in comprehensive detail the extreme difficulties experienced by Afro Brazilian activists in identifying and redressing racially specific patterns of violation and discrimination Hanchard argues that the Afro American struggle to subvert dominant cultural forms and practices carries the danger of being subsumed by the contradictions that these dominant forms produce

Contracultura Christopher Dunn, 2016-10-13 Christopher Dunn's history of authoritarian Brazil exposes the inventive cultural production and intense social transformations that emerged during the rule of an iron-fisted military regime during the sixties and seventies The Brazilian contracultura was a complex and multifaceted phenomenon that developed alongside the ascent of hardline forces within the regime in the late 1960s Focusing on urban middle class Brazilians often inspired by the international counterculture that flourished in the United States and parts of western Europe Dunn shows how new understandings of race gender sexuality and citizenship erupted under even the most oppressive political conditions Dunn reveals previously ignored connections between the counterculture and Brazilian music literature film visual arts and alternative journalism In chronicling the Brazilian hippie movement he shows how the state of Bahia renowned for its Afro Brazilian culture emerged as a countercultural mecca for youth in search of spiritual alternatives As this critical and expansive book demonstrates many of the country's social and justice movements have their origins in the countercultural attitudes practices and sensibilities that flourished during the military dictatorship of the 1960s Langston Hughes Umbra s David Henderson and the Black Arts Movement s Sonia Sanchez and Amiri Baraka engage in the tradition of griots in poetic dialogues with aesthetics music politics and Black History In so doing they narrate using jazz as meta language genealogies etymologies cultural legacies and Black hi stories In intersecting and complementary ways Hughes Henderson Sanchez and Baraka fashioned their griotism from theorizations of artistry as political engagement and in turn formulated a Black aesthetic based on jazz performativity on a series of jazz infused iterations that form a complex pattern of literary musical historical and political moments in constant cross fertilizing dialogues with one another This form of poetic call and response becomes a definitional literary template for these poets as it allows both the possibility of intergenerational dialogues between poets and musicians and dialogic potential between song and politics between Africa and Black America between vernacular continuums in their poems The French Imperial Nation-State Gary Wilder,2005-12 France experienced a period of crisis following World War I when the relationship between the nation and its colonies became a subject of public debate The French Imperial Nation State focuses on two intersecting movements that redefined imperial politics colonial humanism led by administrative reformers in West Africa and the Paris based Negritude project comprising African and Caribbean elites Gary Wilder develops a sophisticated account of the contradictory character of colonial government and examines the cultural nationalism of Negritude as a multifaceted movement rooted in an alternative black public sphere He argues that interwar France must be understood as an imperial nation state an integrated sociopolitical system that linked a parliamentary republic to an administrative empire An interdisciplinary study of colonial modernity combining French history colonial studies and social theory The French Imperial Nation State will compel readers to revise conventional assumptions about the distinctions between republicanism and racism metropolitan and colonial societies and national and transnational processes Spirit Guide San

African Epistemologies for Criticality, Decoloniality and Interculturality Hamza R'boul,2025-04-24 This book addresses the underrepresentation and more importantly the misrepresentation of African epistemologies and traditions of thought in making sense of theorizing and doing interculturality Africa remains probably the most oppressed and silenced sphere throughout centuries of colonialism and contemporary coloniality Therefore such an anthology provides a platform for those insights that have substantial epistemic capacity to alter our taken for granted notions of what interculturality is and what it is about While a number of works have charted the contributions of African epistemologies in advancing our understanding of our intercultural realities this book argues that the processes of decoloniality through and within interculturality have never been about under mis representation per se but about how the politics of representation can provide inaccurate tokenistic and false inclusion This book aims to substantiate the notion that decoloniality and interculturality are mutually inclusive to demonstrate the affordances of African epistemologies in advancing intercultural knowledge and to support the need to make visible philosophical and power literate approaches to interculturality This book will be essential reading for scholars and students interested in African philosophy African epistemology and more broadly interculturality and intercultural communication Blackness in Latin America and the Caribbean, Volume 2 Norman E.
