Eternity's Ennui M.B. Pranger, 2010-10-05 This book examines the nature of Augustinian time as the unfathomable yet permanent focus of the present What are the implications for Augustine's confessional discourse How to reconcile the brevity of time's focus with eternity's longueur and the rhetoric of digression      The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 1972      Henry James and the Imagination of Pleasure Tessa Hadley, 2002-02-14 Tessa Hadley examines how Henry James progressively disentangled himself from the moralizing frame through which English language novels in the nineteenth century had imagined sexual passion Hadley argues that his relationship with the European novel tradition was crucial helping to leave behind a way of seeing in which only bad women could be sexual She reads James's transitional fictions of the 1890s as explorations of how disabling and distorting ideals of women's goodness and purity were learned and perpetuated within English and American cultural processes These explorations Hadley argues liberate James to write the great heterosexual love affairs of the late novels with their emphasis on the power of pleasure and play themes which are central to James's ambitious enterprise to represent the privileges and the pains of turn of the century leisure class society

Henry James, 1975 A comprehensive bibliography of secondary works on Henry James      The Lady of Shalott in the Victorian Novel Jennifer Gribble, 1983-12-01      The British National Bibliography, 1968      The Bodley Head Vol. 7 The Wings of the Dove Henry James, 1979      Henry James, 1960-1974 Dorothy McInnis Scura, 1979      Essaying Biography Gloria G. in which the London Underground Tube was mapped by a number of writers from George Gissing to Virginia Woolf From late Victorian London to the end of the World War II underground writing created an imaginative world beneath the streets of London The real subterranean railway was therefore re-enacted in number of ways in writing including as Dantean Underworld or hell as gateway to a utopian future as psychological looking glass or as place of safety and security The book is a chronological study from the opening of the first underground in the 1860s to its role in WW2 Each chapter explores perspectives on the underground in a number of writers starting with George Gissing in the 1880s moving through the work of H G Wells and into the writing of the 1920s 1930s including Virginia Woolf and George Orwell It concludes with its portrayal in the fiction poetry and art including Henry Moore of WW2 The approach takes a broadly cultural studies perspective crossing the boundaries of transport history literature and London urban studies It draws mainly on fiction but also uses poetry art journals postcards and posters to illustrate It links the actual underground trains tracks and stations to the metaphorical world of underground writing and places the writing in a social political context      The Bodley Head
