The Boston Cooking-School Cook Book Fannie Merritt Farmer, 2014-01-01 More than 100 years after its original publication The Boston Cooking School Cook Book is an American classic never out of print and now known simply as The Fannie Farmer Cookbook. The first edition of this classic appeared in 1896 and its scientific approach to nutrition and cooking processes were tremendously influential. Among the contributions we take for granted today was Farmer's insistence on standard measurements: one teaspoon of this, one cup of that, a novel idea at a time when traditional cookbooks called for a pinch, a handful, or even an amount to your taste. This reprint edition was prepared from digital scans of the original volume in the collection of the Michigan State University Libraries and was printed and bound with the library's Espresso Book Machine.

Original 1896 Boston Cooking-School Cook Book Fannie Merritt Farmer, 1997-01-01 A cookbook classic acclaimed for such innovations as simple directions, concern with nutrition, and terms now standard in American cooking. Detailed methods for preparing soups, seafood, meat, vegetables, poultry, salads, hot and cold desserts, and many other dishes. A delightful repository of information for nostalgia buffs and a useful aid for today's homemaker. Fannie Farmer's Boston Cooking-School Cook Book Fannie Merritt Farmer, 1946

Fannie Merritt Farmer (23 March 1857 – 15 January 1915) was an American culinary expert whose Boston Cooking School Cook Book became a widely used culinary text. Fannie Farmer was born on 23 March 1857 in Boston, Massachusetts, United States, to Mary Watson Merritt and John Franklin Farmer, an editor and printer. Although she was the oldest of four daughters born in a family that highly valued education and that expected young Fannie to go to college, she suffered a paralytic stroke at the age of 16 while attending Medford High School. Fannie could not continue her formal academic education for several years; she was unable to walk and remained in her parents' care at home. During this time, Farmer took up cooking, eventually turning her mother's home into a boarding house that developed a reputation for the quality of the meals it served. At the age of 30, Farmer, now walking but with a substantial limp that never left her, enrolled in the Boston Cooking School at the suggestion of Mrs. Charles Shaw. Farmer trained at the school until 1889, during the height of the domestic science movement, learning what were then considered the most critical elements of the science, including nutrition and diet for the well, convalescent, cookery techniques of cleaning and sanitation, chemical analysis of food, techniques of cooking and baking, and household management. Farmer was considered one of the school's top students. She was then kept on as assistant to the director. In 1891, she took the position of school principal.
